fifth time in a world's championship struggle when he steps out on the diamond at Chicago. In 1910, to-gether with Connolly, O'Day and Sheridan, he umpired the series between the Athletics and Chicago Nationals. In 1913 he was appointed for the New York-Philadelphia series, while in 1912, and again in 1915, he and the other three umpires who are officiating this year worked together. Evans had his initial appearance as a world series arbiter in 1909, when ie worked with Johnstone, Klem and Evans in the Pittsburgh-Detroit series Then again in 1912 and 1915 he and his partners of this year made up the umpiring staff which has been reappointed for a third term. The assignments of umpires for world series since 1908 follow:

1908-Klem, Connolly, Sheridan, O'Day, 1909-Johnstone, O'Loughlin, Evane,

When two or more persons enter upon the perpetration of a burglary and in trying to escape one shoots and kills an officer, "all" are held by of murder, though some may not have been armed at the time.

This is the opinion of the court in the case where Cornelius E. Cross a watchman for the Chicago, St. Paul & Minneapolis Railroad company, was hot and killed when attempting to arrest three men discovered in the act of robbing a car in Omaha.

The appeal was made by Macario Romero who set forth that he was present unwillingly and had no gun, and further sthat he ran away five minutes before Cross was shot. This was supported by evidence, but in face of the fact that it was not known who fired that shot which killed Cross, all were held equally guilty.

The state wins its suit in the celebrated O'Connor will case from Hastings, the supreme court holding against the so-called Culavin will, this them affirming the judgement of the Adams county court, which held the will ilstation had preceded their arrival, legal asking that the officer in charge turn

The proceedings in the matter began in 1914 when it was seemingly apparent that John O'Connor had died without known relatives. The state put in its claim for the estate, but was met by a will purporting to be the last will of the deceased man which gave the entire estate amounting to $100,000 to John T. Culavin. Considerable litigation resulted, the district court holding for the state. The case was appealed to the state supreme court which affirms the opinion of the lower court.
