Estimates of Short Crop Puts Strength Into Corn Market. Chicago, Oct. 3.—Estimates that the 1917 yield of corn, although larger than the av-puted to favorable weather and to the virtual certainty that an ample supply of sound commercial quality had now been assured. When the upward movement of prices got well started, however, buying increased and these markets showed notable strength toward the end of the session. Current crop estimates, although unofficial, ear-rent crop estimates, although unofficial, earried prestige as coming from two of the beat known private experts. To some extent, foreign news counted also against the bears. Hig withdrawals of oats from store here tended to inspire confidence in the buil side of the oats market.

Unloading by some of the most active of recent buyers pulled down provisions. Packers gave the market some support, but otherwise orders to purchase were scarce.
