

THIRD INCREMENT OF DRAFTED MEN MOVE TO CAMPS

About 200,000 Men Being Mobilized at Sixteen Cantonments; Local Conditions Cut First Estimate.

Washington, Oct. 3.—About 200,000 men, representing the third increment to the army, today are on their way to sixteen cantonments, where already half the 687,000 called to the colors by the president are mobilized. Although today's quota should be 40 per cent under regulations promulgated by the provost marshal general, local conditions in the various states have reduced the general average of the increment to 20 or 25 per cent.

Coinciding with the start of the third division of the new national army for the training camps today, the railroad's war board issued a statement in connection with the part which the railroads have played in handling the biggest troop movement ever attempted in this country.

Have Moved 720,000 Men.

"Including the National Guard, the regular army and the new national army, the railroads to date have moved approximately 720,000 soldiers from their homes to training camps or embarkation points," says the statement.

"The great bulk of this army—all of it in fact except the 32,549 men included in the first 5 per cent of the national army that moved by regular train on September 5—required special train service, involving the use of 13,500 passenger cars, including 1,500 Pullman and tourist sleepers, 2,000 baggage cars and 4,500 freight cars.

Longest Haul 1,514 Miles.

"The longest haul made in the new national army movement to date was that of the special train which moved the citizen soldiers from Yuma, Ariz., to Fort Riley, Kan., a distance of 1,514 miles. The trip occupied forty-eight hours.

"Practically all of the national guard movements to date have been of great length. The longest one was that made by a battalion of San Francisco engineers from San Francisco, Cal., to a point on the Atlantic coast. This battalion included 506 men and eighteen officers. They occupied a special train comprising one standard sleeper, nine tourist sleepers, one baggage car, two kitchen cars and three box cars. Their train left San Francisco at 4 p. m. on September 1 and arrived at destination at 10:15 a. m. September 8."

Definite figures are still lacking as to the number of selected men to be transferred to the national guard aviation service, medical corps or other branches of the army that will have to be filled up to war strength. It is certain, however, that the men remaining at the camps will not be sufficient to fill the sixteen national army divisions to full strength.

Secretary Baker indicated today that no decision had been reached as to when a second call will be made. There are many deficiencies to be filled up in the first draft, physical examination of the selected men by army doctors at the camps having resulted in many objections.

Remainder May Be Examined. Decision of the War department on the suggestion that the remaining 7,000,000 registered men be examined immediately and classified for service in order that they may have knowledge of when to expect a call to the colors and arrange their affairs accordingly awaits action by congress on the war deficiency bill.

Secretary Baker said today that of some thirty-five governors who had been asked if they believed it was expedient to proceed with the examination of all registered men, only two had opposed the plan. Those who did did so on the ground that it would make too great a demand on the time of the examining boards, virtually all the members of which are serving without pay.

Ak-Sar-Ben XXIII Enters Omaha in Royal Splendor

ernors of Ak-Sar-Ben, riding magnificent horses and clad in their white broadcloth and sash in the colors of the season. Bands were freely sprinkled throughout the procession, so that the great caravan of light and color was never without music. Hundreds of loyal knights of the realm rode in the procession, managing spirited mounts with one hand, while the other held the shield.

The first float bore the title of the pageant, "The Triumph of Democracy." Kings, kaisers, sultans and other divine right rulers were seen trying to sleep, while around their beds big guns were in action and vile serpents writhed and whipped their shining tails, so that it was plain to see that "Uneasy lies the head that wears the crown."

William Tell Shoots Apple.

"Switzerland, the First Modern Republic," was the title of the second float. William Tell was here shown shooting the apple from the head of his son and thus saving his own life, while in another part of the float was shown the celebrated Arnold Winkelried tearing a path through the ranks of autocracy's hosts by gathering all their spears in his arms and allowing himself to be pierced by hundreds of them.

The Storming of the Bastille was the title of the third float. The celebrated prison of history was here shown with its towering walls and its deep moat, but the people were seen storming the walls and tearing down the great doors in order to liberate the friends of liberty who had been imprisoned by the kings for many centuries.

Boston Tea Party.

The first scene from America's fight for liberty was seen in the fourth float. "The Boston Tea Party" was the title. The float represented the deck of a ship with the sailors and people dumping the boxes of tea into the tide rather than pay the exorbitant tax imposed by the tyrant.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BELIEVE IT!

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, the bowels and the liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's never any sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Then came the "Signing of the Declaration of Independence" as the fifth float. Independence hall in Philadelphia was here shown, and in an interior view the patriots were seated around a table just in the act of signing the immortal document.

Spirit of '76.

"The Youth of the Great Republic" was title of No. 7. The two men and a boy with fife and drums are seen here representing the "Spirit of '76." Betsy Ross was seen in the rear putting the last stitches upon the cloth that eventually became the Stars and Stripes. Early flags of the colonies draped the float.

Liberty was the title of the eighth float. Independence hall, where the Declaration of Independence was signed, was here shown. The Liberty bell was represented, and the great statue of Liberty in New York harbor was correctly represented.

"The Emancipation Proclamation" came next. The outstanding figure was that of Lincoln reading the emancipation proclamation, and thereby freeing the black race from the shackles of slavery in America. A union soldier in the union blue stood at attention beside a bust of Lincoln, and other symbols of justice and history were shown.

Dewey at Manila.

Float No. 10 represented "Dewey at Manila." The flagship Olympia was the main figure on the float. Columbia was seen at the rear of the float enlightening the Philippines, and the coat of arms of Dewey was evident.

The eleventh float was "Cuba, the Pearl of the Antilles." Cuba is seated in a seashell, drawn by dolphins. Coats of arms and flags of Cuba bedecked the float, and the young republic sat serenely enjoying the liberty brought to it by the righteous intervention of the United States.

"The Army" was represented in the twelfth float. Uncle Sam's fighting men were here seen in the trenches in the act of firing guns. Serene and calm above them, the figure of Victory loomed, calmly awaiting the end of the strife, when the great battle should be ended in favor of the soldiers of America.

Sea Fighters.

The thirteenth float represented "The Navy." With brawny arm and determined eye, Uncle Sam stood at the helm of the battleship, while Columbia, enthroned, held in her hand the trident, the symbol of power over the wave.

The fourteenth float represented

"Our Army of the Air." Our army of the air was represented as the American eagle, attacking with beak and talon the submarine menace and destroying it. An aviator, and a pair of huge wings, symbolical of aerial achievements, were seen.

Soldiers of Mercy.

"The Red Cross," float No. 16, showed wounded soldiers on the ground, being ministered to by the nurses of the Red Cross. Red Cross dogs, stretcher bearers, surgeons and nurses were numerous in this float, all working in harmony to alleviate the suffering of war.

The seventeenth float, was entitled "Peace." The prophet Isaiah was here beating the swords into plowshares, and the spears into pruning hooks. The dove of peace was evident, and the horn of plenty was everywhere seen, showing that the world will produce enough for all when all cease to plunder and bend their energies upon production under the wing of peace and harmony.

Then came the King on the eighteenth and last float. His Majesty, King Ak-Sar-Ben XXXIII, was seated on a gorgeous throne, which throne itself rested upon the ruins of a gigantic crown, thus showing that King Ak-Sar-Ben of today is a democratic king, and has overridden the divine right advocates, seating himself upon their crown, and ruling a land of plenty with the benign hand of benevolence instead of the mailed fist of tyranny.

When the throne float reached the city hall at Eighteenth and Farnam streets, Mayor James C. Dahlgren was waiting there to turn over the key of the city to the new monarch. The float paused for a moment while the mayor presented the key. The king accepted it graciously, the six white horses clanked forward, and the float moved on, rolling the rest of the gorgeous caravan to the utmost ends of the long line of march, while the endless thousands cheered and cheered again and again.

LUX
WONT SHRINK WOOLLENS
ALL FINE FABRICS

The Wonderful New Product
Wont shrink woolens! Wont turn silks yellow!
Wont injure even chiffons!

Open a package of Lux. Notice how entirely different it looks from any other soap product you have ever seen. Nothing like it has ever before been manufactured. It is not a soap powder! Not a chipped soap! Not a cake! But wonderful flakes! Notice how delicate, how transparent and pure each flake is.

The modern form of soap
This is the form in which the woman of today demands soap—delicate flakes in which is concentrated the greatest possible cleansing value.

Cleans without rubbing
Throw the flakes into hot water; whisk into a lather; instantly you get just the rich, thick suds you have always wanted. Then work the clothes about in these suds; no rubbing is necessary.

You will never use cake or chip soap for these uses again
For fine laundering, soap should never be rubbed directly on the article. This coarsens and discolors the fabric. For this reason Lux is a tremendous advance over every other form of soap. Once you have tried it, you will never be satisfied with anything else for fine laundering.

Get a package at any grocery, drug or department store. Try it, no matter what soap product you now use. Lux will not harm anything that pure water alone will not injure. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.
