THE OMAHA BEE

DAILY (MORNING) - EVENING - SUNDAY FOUNDED BY EDWARD ROSEWATER

VICTOR ROSEWATER, EDITOR

THE BEE PUBLISHING COMPANY PROPRIETOR

Batered at Omaha postoffice as second-class matter.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION

Br	Carrier.		By Main.		1.1
Daily and Sunday	weck.	150	Per year	. $6.00	1.4
Daily without Sunday		100		4.00
Brening and Sunday	- 4	100		6.00	13
Evening without Sunday		60	•*	4.00	1
Sunday Bet only	195	50		2.00	1.3
Send notice of change of address or trres	ularity	18	delivery to	Omahe	10
Bee, Circulation Department.	50,000,007		CENTRES TRO		10

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Associated Press, of which The Bee is a member, se exclusively of its the use for republication of all news cradited to it or therwise credited in this paper and also the local news pub-herein all rights of republication of our special dispatches counts. Personal check, except on Omaha an

REMITTANCE

OF	FICES
tmaha-The See Huilding. South Omaha-4817 S. 14th St. Council Bluffa-14 N. Main St. fancoin-Little Building.	Chicago-People's Gas Building. New York-286 Fifth Arc. St. Louis-New B'k of Commerce. Washington-725 14th St., N. W
	PONDENCE
Address communications relating	to news and editorial matter to
SEPTEMBER	CIRCULATION
59,022 Daily-	-Sunday, 52,158
Subscribers leaving the ci	ty chould have The Bee mailed as often as requested.
It is the end of a pe	rfectly strenuous week.
	ess-boosting the Liberty Loan.

Germany's boasted efficiency shines anew in the spending talents of its spies and agents.

Peru breaks with Germany. The score nov stands 20 to 4 and growing on the right side.

Away with superstition! At any rate, "twenty three" is no hoodoo number for Ak-Sar-Ben.

Nebraska's bumper crop simplifies the task of sending the second Liberty Loan "over the top."

King Ak-Sar-Ben, by universal verdict, holds the paramount position among all earth's royalty.

If the muny coal yard does not do a rushing business it will not be for lack of free advertising.

Personal injury suits show a distinct upward tendency. War costs fatten the price in all directions.

Remember that one of the worst wastes of all is the loss by preventable fires and that most fires are preventable.

Pernicious activity of auto thieves mapped the only sore spot in the week's festivities. A poultice of insurance soothes the hurt of the victims.

"Commission will fix cost price of pork," says a head line. Not the "pork," however, which our senators and congressmen divide up at Washington.

Note that all this Bolo Pasha intrigue dates back to February, 1916, while we were still addressing the kaiser as "our good and trusted friend."

my arm, not to give a lecture on atanomy." Dr. Abbott is discussing modern preachers, but his simile is capable of a wider application. It is not alone in the field of theology the want is felt for those who can do their work and not waste time in merely descanting about its abstract principles. What is needed, and always has been, is men who understand their business and have sense enough to go about it. These are the ones who have done the work of the world since the beginning. Most of them move unobtrusively. but exhibit a fortunate faculty for appearing when the need is direst and by their skill and courage set things to running in orderly fashion. Each vocation or calling has its quota of quacks or charlatans, incompetents who furnish the noise. They are the inevitable companions of progress, a byproduct for which no real use yet has been discovered. The man for the job generally finds his right place, and from his quiet devotion to his work good comes to the world.

The Man for the Job.

Hold Supremacy for the Lincoln Highway.

There are signs that the people of the rural districts and interior towns are beginning to realize the value of road improvement as much as, if not more than, people in the larger cities. The Fremont Tribune recently published a letter urging speedy action to get the Lincoln Highway in Nebraska in the best possible condition. "It is of vast interest to the state," we are told, "to have its section of the highway kept up to par, for auto touring is growing at an enormous rate. Not only is a dependable road valuable for this reason, but it contribute even more profitably in the matter of facilitating local travel and the movement of crops to primary markets. The Lincoln Highway is nearly all gravel-surfaced through the state of Iowa, but it breaks off suddenly when it reaches Nebraska; yet in this state it runs parallel for hundreds of miles with the Platte river, the bed of which furnishes the best kind of gravel for surfacing purposes. It may be hoped that the new plan for federal and state-aid roads will soon bring the highway up to a reasonable standard of utility."

This demand is echoed with favorable comment in a Blair paper, which suggests that it applies with equal force to the "Bee Line" cut-off from Missouri Valley to Fremont through Blair. "We can't expect much travel over it," it declares, "if the road is poor, even though there is a big saving of mileage. If the 'Bee Line' were graveled and made into a fine road first more travel would come this way."

From'all of this, the lesson must be plain that it devolves upon those interested in the Lincoln Highway to put it in good condition and keep the main road in better condition than is possible for any cut-off. Automobile traffic will be attracted by a good road surface more than by slight mileage saving. The Lincoln Highway has a big start over all other transcontinental auto thoroughfares and there is no good reason why it should not keep its supremacy.

Possibilities of the "New Power."

Congress has decided to make inquiry into the possible discovery of a new source of mechanical energy by an 'Armenian professor, resident of Boston. This is not a time to exhibit profound distrust of any proposal, no matter how chimerical it may seem, and especially of a plan for so widening man's range of action, as would result from having a new supply of power. Investigation, seriously undertaken, will quickly determine if this proposal has any advantage. The Keeley motor fake has served for longer than a generation as an excuse for scoffing at anything startling in the field, but that is not a good reason for turning down any plan without inquiry. We have on the other side the case of Prof. Langley, who was killed by ridicule, but his principle for aerial flight has triumphed, and a little more faith on part of the public would have encouraged him to success. Scientists have long been baffled in their search for cold light, although the lightning bug and the glow worm make it, and have made vain efforts to unlock the secret of atomic energy. This new power may be the true key; if not, the fact is soon demonstrated at comparatively little cost. Possessed of this illimitable energy, man's conquest over nature would be well-nigh complete.

WATCHING the electrical parade, what struck me as much as the artistic beauty of the theme and dazzling splendor of the floats was the noticeable improvement in execution and mechanical effects as contrasted with earlier efforts. Everything worked so smoothly and was so pleasing to the eye that the spectator hardly realized the crudities that have been overcome ince these pageants have become annual events.

As everyone knows the current for the electrical illumination is drawn down from the street car feed wires and continuous contact is necessary or the lights "go out." It used to be that the lights were out about half of the time because the float would slip its trolley. A supernumerary trudged on behind holding a guide rope which he had to manipulate every little while to get the trolley back on the wire. By experiment and adaption a feed trolley has been devised which seldom breaks the circuit by losing contact and the radiant mass of incandescence moves along almost without a flicker and up to recently. again, a sort of advance publicity man was wont to march in front of each float carrying a hideous banner inscribed with the number and title, which banner turned and twisted around so that folks on the side lines had much difficulty in reading it. Now the name and number is worked into an artistic lastern box carried along at the back of each piece and illuminated from inside, making it perfectly legible all the time that it is within range of the eye.

Still another improvement worth noting is the elimination of the calcium torch carriers who hiked along with the bands, presumably to enable the musicians to read their notes, although probably more hindrance than help to them. Instead the musician who has to read notes is now equipped with a dry cell lamp attached to his cap with a reflector that flashes the rays just where he wants them and keeps them there as he goes along. The big band coming up the street with these lights scintillating here and there by themselves produce a fine optical spectacle. Better than the average torch light procession.

Out of tradition, or superstition, or inertia, or whatever else you wish to call it, the floats are still drawn along by horses. Suggest doing away with the horses and their horrible canopies and bizarre outriders would surely elicit protest, for the horse harks back to the feudal tournaments and medieval pageantry and is supposed to be an in lespensible setting for such tableaux. The daylight parade, however, depicting the progress made by the fire department from the days of the hand cart through the era of horses and down to the modern automobile equipment proves conclusively that auto trucks could serve equally as well for the electrical floats and do away with the obselete motive power. We will see an Ak-Sar-Ben parade some of these days, or nights I should say, without a horse in it except those ridden by the police and the awe-inspiring board of governors.

An item in a copy of the Theater Magazine that I picked up the other day tells about Maggie Mitchell, famous in her day as one of America's most popular actresses, being in New York still alive and now 85 years of age, with the added information that she had not appeared on the stage of a theater in the last forty years. This surely is incorrect, for I remember seeing Maggie Mitchell play "Fanchon, the Cricket" at the old Academy of Music when I was a boy and again later at the Boyd opera house, the one that stood at Fifteenth and Farnam and it was not forty years ago by any means. In Fanchon, Maggie Mitchell made her appearance on the stage chasing a chicken that had apparently flown through the window and perched itself on an old fashioned grandfather's clock standing on the other side of the room. My father used to go to see this play every time it was put on and he called attention to the fact that the chicken always landed in the same place. When he was in Washington during the war, and afterwards, too, for that matter, telegraphers had the run of the theaters and he sought relaxation from his duties in the War department by going to the show. He saw Maggie Mitchell in "Fanchon" and then went a second time and his curiosity was aroused by the flight of the fowl. So he persisted several nights in succession until he discovered that the bird was attached to a wire and when shot across the stage could not stop at any other spot except the roost specially provided for it on top of the clock.

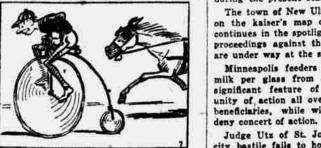

German submarine U-53 reached Newport, R. L., from Wilhelmshaven Anc'o-German forces on the Somme front started another big drive. The British forces occupied the village of Le Sars.

In Omaha Thirty Years Ago.

President Chauncy M. Depew and Mesars Cornelius and Fred Vanderb.lt with W. S. Webb and a number of the directors of the New York Central are scheduled to arrive in Omaha next Monday on their way from Minneapolis to St. Louis,

Jack Prince, the bleyclist, is back from Plum Creek, where he had two races against horses. In the half a mile spin, two out of three, Prince The five-mile straight away he won. lost

Fourth ward democrats, through a committee appointed for that purpose, have purchased a banner costing $40, to be used for the reception of President Cleveland. The motto on the banner reads: "Fearless in the discharge of his duties."

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons of Kenosha Wis., are enjoying a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Clarkson. "Keep it Dark," is a howling success put on at the Boyd. The leading light in this piece is Mr. Bryant, and the next luminary is Miss Lizzie Richmond.

"The All Around the World Circle" held its monthly meeting with a monthly program rendered by an instrumental trio of two banjos and a guitar played by Messrs Gellenbeck, Mangold and Edwards.

Mr. Jesse Nason and wife of Mount Carroll, Ill., are visiting their two sons and daughter, Dr. A. W. Nason, W. N. Nason and Mrs. N. S. Miner.

The council has passed an ordinance granting the Omaha & Council Bluffs Bridge company right of way for its approach on this side of the river on Douglas street.

This Day in History.

1774-First Provincial congress met at Concord, Mass. 1777-British under Burgoyne made an unsuccessful attack on the Americans under Gates at Bemis Heights, near Saratoga, N. Y.

1780-Continental militia defeated the British in battle at King's Mountain

1817-General Bushrod R. Johnson celebrated Confederate soldier, born in Belmont county, Ohio. Died at Brighton, Ill., Sept. 11, 1880.

1842-Bronson Howard, author of Grandmother never went walking "Shenadoah" and other successful plays, born at Detroit, Mich. Died at In dresses way up to her knees. Nor fox-trotted, lectured, or flirted Avon-by-the-Sea, N. J., Aug. 4, 1908. 1849-Edgar Allen Poe, the famous

Her Sunday best gown was alpaca In December as well as July, But nobody ever could beat her At making a cranberry pie. poet, died in Baltimore. Born in Boston, Jan. 19, 1809. 1894-Andrew J. Curtin, the civil war governor of Pennsylvania, died at A Spoonful of Bellefonte, Pa. Born there, April 22, 1914-Japanese captured Yap island in the Carolina group. 1915-Austro-German invasion of Serbia began, crossing being made over the Drina, Save and the Danube.

AROUND THE CITIES.

Chicago newspapers continue waging war on cabarets. "Going over the top" with mobiles scored a death toll of forty-six persons. Throughout the Empire state the auto score of killings totaled 636 persons in eight

The Sioux City Gas and Electric company announces its inability to extend service to new customers beyond present lines. Copper wire and piping cannot be had for extension

The town of New Ulm, Minn., conspicuous especially draft dodging.

during the present sesson.

are under way at the state capitol.

prisoners get away before seeing him.

Householders foot the bills, ranging from 60

PIE.

Sweet with the sweetness of honey And also delightfully tart,

Cranberry jelly's delicious Newly turned out of the mold, Shaped like a pear or a melon. Crystalline, crimson, and cold, Cranberry tart's a confection I never could bear to pass by, But the gem of all cranberry dainties Was grandmother's cranberry pis.

Nor dawdled at afternoon teas.

Salts Relieves

with coin.

months past.

year.

Salt Lake City cultivated 2,506 garden plots this year, equal to 764 acres. The value of the product in dollars is not given. September was a record month for arrests in Salt Lake City. Most of the cases were due to alleged offenses against federal laws. in Salt Lake City. Most of the cases were due to alleged offenses against federal laws,

"Pop, teacher got mad at me today when I told her how I classified spiders." "What did you say?" "I said they belonged to the web-footer class."-Baltimore American.

SUNNY GEMS.

vocal artillery makes little progress. More push is needed to clean out trenches lined Walter-Table d'hote, sir? In New York City during September auto-

Walter-Table of nole, stri Uncle Josh-What's that? Walter-Course dinner, sir. Uncle Josh-Not for me. I gft all the coarse vittles I need to home. When } come ter town I want somethin' fancy, by gosh:-Boston Transcript.

"What is your son going to be in life?" "Too early to tell. Just now he is going through the usual preliminary stages of clerking in a drug store, writing life insurance and selling real estate .-- Cincinnati Enquirer.

on the kaiser's map of the United States, continues in the spotlight unwillingly. Ouster

"The office loan shark is taking a mean advantage of the boys." "He is that?" "No used to advance money from pay day to p; day without security, but now hat makes 'em deposit their Liberty bonds.-proceedings against the officers of the city Minneapolis feeders boosted the price of Louisville Courier-Journal.

milk per glass from 5 to 10 cents. The significant feature of the boost was the "Are we to be denied freedom of speech?" unity of action all over town, although the

"Are we to be denied freeded of special inquired the souphox agitator. "Sure you are." replied Officer Clanty "I was denied it myself the other night when I let go an' told the captain how he was runnin' the force all wrong. Your talk's your 'own up to a certain point, but listen-ers have some rights."-Washington Star. beneficiaries, while winking the other eye, Judge Uts of St. Joe complains that the city bastile fails to hold in all its involuntary boarders and deprives the court of its constitutional privilege of fixing the penalty.

She (coquettishly)-So many people tell me I sing like a bird. Do you think so, Mr. Jobbins? As a consequence the judge instructed the grand jury to make diligent inquiry why

He-Certainly I do. She-What kind of a bird do you think I sing like? Now, you flatterer, don't say a After a protracted squabble over municipal garbage the city dads of St. Joe screwed on the lid by awarding a five-year contract. nightingale He-Oh, no; like a screech owl.-Chicago Post.

cents a month per house the first year, 50 "That fellow Rastus Hambone seems to cents the second year, 40 cents the third hunt for work with great pertinacity." "I was surprised myself at his persever-ance until I found he wanted it for his and fourth years, and free service the fifth wife."-Baltimore American.

Gives Almost Instant Relief From Coughs & Colds Don't Stand Any Longer the Inconvenience and Discomfort.

[nhalatum

Is the Magic Remedy! A few breaths occasionally from the little glass inhaler does the work. Does not interfere with any other medicine or treatment. Pleasant and effective. Nothing to spill in the

The Inhalatum Chemical Co.

1602 Colorado Avenue, Colorado Springs, Colo.

GRANDMOTHER'S CRANBERRY Minna Irving In Leslie's. have sampled all manner of dishes I have sampled all manner of dishes In the Old World as well as the New, From goulash to Indian pudding, From pliapp to plain Irish stew, But the jewel of pastry perfection, Enchanting the palate and eye, Supreme in gastronomic glory, Was grandmother's cranberry pls.

How well I remember the kitchen, So sunny and guiltless of dust, And the table where grandmother deftly Rolled out the delectable crust,

And cut it in strips which she criss-crossed Latticework fashion to lie Over the filling of rubles; O, what a cranberry plef

And also delightfully tart, One whiff of its warm spicy fragrance Would win any epicure's heart. The sunshine and scents of the autumn, The red of the bright evening sky. Were prisoned and popped in the oven In grandmother's cranberry pie. pocket. Try it today! Inhalatúm, $1.00 a Bottle-Inhalers, 10c Each. For Sale By Unitt-Docekal Drug Co., Omaha. E. E. BRUCE & CO., Wholesale Druggists, Omaha. Or By Mail From

At last accounts British artillery leads all other agencies in getting the enemy out of the trenches. In one way the method conduces to health. It insures more air.

Cheer up! Nebraska democracy is reasonably safe so long as the Howard family consents to manage state affairs. What's the matter with Edgar and Jerry?

So long as Ak-Sar-Ben annually refreshes his spirit at the fountain of youth and beauty, the elders are bound to spruce up and merrily join in the festive whirl.

Herr Bolo Pasha and his slush fund of $1 .-700,000 easily negotiated sympathetic society in New York. Paris was not so casy, which accounts for Bolo's involuntary stay at the French capital.

..... Called as a witness by Senator La Follette, Colonel Bryan gives evidence on the other side. The Wisconsin senator will have to be more careful in quoting people without advance assurance of corroboration.

War fashions on the west front are undergoing radical changes. The Teutonic style of digging in offends the artistic tastes of Britishers and French and both insist on surface scrapping, Resistance to the new style provokes a disagreeable blowup.

Coal shortage scares are working overtime in the east. The fuel administration says there is no shortage. But what does the fuel manager know about it? The relation of a scare to a fattened coal treasury is beyond the mental grasp of others than the dealer.

Co-operation in Railroad Service.

A note of satisfaction justified by results runs through the September bulletin of the Railroad War board. It is not in so many words. The record of reforms accomplished in four months of railroad co-operation to win the war speaks tor itself. It shows practical results in co-ordinated service exceeding the hopes of managers and distinctly gratifying to the country.

When the war board undertook the task of systematizing traffic on all lines, much confusion prevailed, energies overlapped, and car service became a matter of grab. Unfilled car requisitions amounted to 148,627 cars. Surplus demand could not be met with new rolling stock and locomotives. The problem was to employ available material to the best advantage and reduce the wastage of time in loading and unloading. To this en? the co-operation of regulative bodies and shippers was sought and readily secured. Thus in four months the railroads moved without increased facilities the greatest volume of freight traffic in their history and decreased the excess requisitions to 31,591 cars, a gain of 78 per cent in traffic movements. Moreover the war board eliminated waste in passenger train service and effected a saving of 9,200,000 train miles a year without discommoding the public or curtailing essential comforts of travelers.

Economic results deemed impossible a year ago thus became a reality. Unity and co-operation born of the necessities of war achieved what few railroad managers hoped for. Not only is the saving in car idleness enormous, but greater expedition, steady employment and systematic distribution of cars through a central directing agency has obviated confusion and congestion and simplified national service. The board deserves congratulations on its remarkable record

Confederates of Germany.

The New York state senate takes prompt steps to sift public reports involving Daniel F. Cohalan, a justice of the state supreme court, in the operations of German agents in the east. Among the papers of Wolfe von Igel, German agent, published by Secretary of State Lansing, was one "very secret" message to Ambassador Bernstorff, which the latter was urged to transmit to Berlin. The message purported to have been prepared by Cohalan and related to measures Germany should take in forwarding a revolutionary movement in Ireland in 1916. Judge Cohalan denies the authenticity of the message and challenges proof. Should Secretary Lansing honor the request of the state senate for a copy of the "very secret" message and other papers bearing on the judge's case the value of the evidence will be determined.

At present the issue is limited to alleged unneutral activities of a public official. Whether true or not, it is well established that Irish-American extremists, among whom Judge Cohalan is prominent, have been closely affiliated with German agents since the beginning of the war. Not because they loved Germany over much; they hated England more. The feeling has grown in intensity since the Easter Monday rebellion in Dublin, though more subdued since Germany forced the United States into war. . In some respects the Irish-American radicals outdo German-Americans in their devotion to the German cause. The moving spirit of the misnamed "American Truth Society," Jeremiah O'Leary, in a letter to Herman Ridder, publisher of the New York Staats-Zeitung, berated the latter for taking a "patriotic stand" for the United States.

O'Leary shows more courage and less discretion than the average of his class. He is outspoken in his hatred, defiant even when his organ, "Bull," was excluded from the mails as a seditious publication. Most of his kind speak in more subdued tones, but no less bitterly of the United States "fighting England's battles."

The center of the implacables lies in New York City, and the state senate would serve patriotic ends by broadening the sweep of the Cohalan inquiry.

It is certainly gall for our local hyphenated newspaper to pretend to speak for the Liberty, Loan committee in soliciting donations to its own coffers. Anyone who wants to contribute to an advertising fund for the Liberty Loan will do well to send his money to the Liberty Loan committee direct.

One field of activity in which the late Judge Manoah B. Reese performed a great labor of love figured only slightly in his obituaries. I refer to what he did as president of the Nebraska Prison association, an organization in which he was deeply interested and to which he devoted a great deal of time and study. The object was to help convicts just out of the penitentiary once more on their feet. As a lawyer and as a judge, he saw the barbarism and inhumanity of our treatment of criminals after they had paid the penalty of their misdeeds and he was thoroughly convinced that a friendly hand at the right time would regain many of them to lives of usefulness and law-observance. I was associated with Judge Reese on the board of this association up to the time it became quiescent through merger with another similar society and I think he displayed in connection with this work the most admirable of his many good traits of character.

Quite a few people have insisted within my hearing that they do not believe Lord Kitchener lost his life with the sinking of the ill-fated ship on which he was journeying to Russia and I observed in an issue of the London Times received last week that the same notion is prevalent over there. In England it is said that Lloyds issue insurance upon any kind of a hazard. According to the London Times a rate of 5 s. per cent has now been quoted and an order has been given for an insurance for £10,000 placed upon "a risk" described as follows: "That Lord Kitchener was alive on August 31, 1917; the onus of proof to be on the assured and to be furnished within three months from peace being signed." That is curious enough to cut out and paste in a scrapbook.

People and Events

Owing to a constitutional aversion to work one Ray Davidson, 23, of Chicago, was unequal to the task of supporting two wives at the same time, got nis wifely wires crossed and landed in court. A jury said three years would do him good, whereat the wives wept and no Ray to comfort iem.

Despite the noisy jangling of labor and capital at Butte, beneath the surface of things domestic courtesy abides. "Sit up, dear, I want to shoot you," said Mrs. Blake to her hubby, in tender wifely tones. Mr. Blake, with equal courtesy. obeyed orders. That was the greatest mistake of his shortened life. Mrs. Blake, too, made good her word, but was unable to attend the funeral.

Judges have troubles of their own, not of their seeking. Such are perplexities of the job. Federal Judge Carpenter of Chicago is called upon to decide whether the "jazzy syncopation" of the "Livery Stable Blues" spring from the thorax of a cornet or a clarinet. An actual demonstration of the canned music in the court room is expected to furnish necessary light. An Italian and a Spaniard, rival claimants of the dizzy air, will conduct the record concert.

Dr. Charles J. Hexamer of Philadelphia, for seventeen years president of the German-American alliance, announces his retirement from that office next month. Ill health is said to be the cause. The doctor has been one of the warmest supporters of the German cause in this country and drew upon himself sharp criticism for upholding all things German and belittling things American. Since the United States was forced into the war Dr. Hexamer abandoned his German activities and stood forth as a loyal citizen.

The Day We Celebrate.

Leon J. Millard, president of the Independent Lumber company of Omaha is 36 today

King Nicholas, the exiled sovereign of Montenegro, born in the village of Neigush, sevnty six years ago today. Rear Admiral Francis T. Bowles, U. S. N., retired, now assistant manager of the Emergency Fleet corporation, born in Springfield Mass., fifty-sine ago today.

Frederick Hale, United States senator from Maine, born at Detroit, Mich., forty-three ago today.

Joseph E. Ransdell, United States senator from Louisiana, born at Alex-andria, La., fifty-nine years ago today. George P. McLean, United States senator from Connecticut, born at Simsbury, Conn., sixty years ago today. Jacob E. Meeker, representative in congress of the Tenth Missouri district born in fountain Founty, Ind., thirtynine years ago today.

Patrick H. Kelley, representative in congress of the Sixth Michigan district, born in Cass county, Mich., fifty years ago today. Welker Cochran, noted professional billiard player born in Chicago twentyone years ago today.

Storyette of the Day.

"Don't you care for any postcards today?' asked the postal clerk as he handed the man the stamp he had requested. "No, not today," said the man.

"Or some stamped envelopes? We have some new one.

"No, thank you." "Would you like a money order?"

"Or perhaps you would like to open a postal savings account?" But the man had fled.

'Who was that fellow, and why did you ask him all those ques-tions?" asked a fellow clerk. "That," said the other clerk, "is my barber. For years when he has shaved me he has bothered me with recommendations of massages, shampoos, haircuts and hair tonics. I am even with him now."-New York Times.

Italy now taxes pianos and billiard tables. Japan pays its private soldiers 2 cents

There are upwards of 20,000 soldier-priests in the French army. There are about 17,000 persons in Ireland who can speak nothing but Irish. Birmingham, England, is the headquarters of the glass-eye trade of the world.

Italy is building the largest and most owerful aeroplanes, some capable of carrying from thirty to forty persons.

Hungary is confiscating all table cloths and napkins in the country to provide cloth for 150,000 new army uniforms.

President Wilson confesses to having read Hawthorne's "Scarlet Letter" at least twice a year since he was 18.

Apparatus for winding clocks with air pressure obtained when doors are opened and closed has been invented by a Frenchman.

Red seems to be the most popular national color, if one may judge by flags. Of the twenty-five leading national flags, nineteen have red in them.

By mere waste, caused by coins rubbing one against another, the civilized world loses one ton and a quarter of gold and eighty-five tons of silver annually.

The highest railway in the world is the Central railway of Peru, which reaches an al-titude of 15,865 feet, and has its highest railway station at 15,665 feet above sea level.

The most valuable lottery prize that has ever fallen to a poor person was one of $1,000,000 won by a street-sweeper of Corunna in a drawing of the Spanish State Lottery a few years ago.

The longest novel in the world belongs t Japan. Its author is Kiong Te Bakin. It was commenced in 1852, and published volume as it came out over a period of fifty years. There are 106 volumes, 106,000 pages, 3,180,000 lines, and about $8,-000,000 words. A complete copy weighs 130 pounds.

We eat too much meat, which clogs Kidneys, says noted authority.

ers, stop all meat for a while.

it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them.

like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else

you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad vou have rheumatic twinges.

The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief

two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your harmacist about four ounces of Jad

Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined v 'i lithia, and has been used for enerations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize aci is in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Aching Kidneys

This institution is the only one in the central west with separate buildings situated in their own ample grounds, yet entirely distinct, and rendering it possible to classify cases. The one building being fitted for and devoted to the treatment of non-contagious and non-mental diseases, no others being admitted; the other Rest Cottage being designed for and devoted to the exclusive treatment of select mental cases requiring for a time watchful care and special nursing.

The fairness of our business conduct has often been commented upon by the people of this city. We offer a polite, modern service within the means of all who wish to avail themselves of our as ance.

N. P. SWANSON Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eate s. It is inexpensive, can-Funeral Parlor. (Established 1888) not injur. and makes a delightful, 17th and Cuming Sts. Tel. Doug 1060

