

Hawkeyes Are Helpless Before Merciless Attack of Dr. Stewart's Powerful Nebraska Machine

CHICAGO SWINGS TO FORE BY LANDING FIFTH GAME OF BIG WORLD SERIES BALL CLASH

Sox Adherents Go Mad With Joy; Exhibition Displays Whole Gamut of Base Ball From Sensational And Brilliant to Mediocre; Teams to Polo Grounds for Next Battle.

as many as the entire scoring of the two teams in the first four clashes. In making these thirteen runs the batters piled up an aggregate of twenty-six hits and nine fielding errors thrown in for good measure. Seventy-seven batters faced six pitchers, and while there were unlighted thrills and tense situations, there was no one player who could claim the spotlight of heroism in this melange of hits, errors, fielding, flashes and sprints from base to base.

Perfect Autumn Day.

A perfect autumn day greeted the players as they stepped on the diamond for the opening plays of the game. It was clear and just a trifle cold, but the fans did not appear to notice the tinge in the atmosphere. Here and there vacant spots in both stands and bleachers, and there were no crowds on the buildings overlooking Comiskey park. The trees and high fences of Armour Square park were fans, but the noise of the rooting fans could be heard for blocks away.

The two teams lost no time in getting started and in the first inning New York rolled in two runs.

Burns, the initial New Yorker to face Russell, was forwarded to first on four straight balls, when the Sox left-hander found it impossible to locate the home plate. Captain Herzog came next with a single to right and Benny Kauff doubled to the right field bleacher fence, scoring Burns. Zimmerman, waving his mace menacingly, Russell was called to the bench, after delivering just eight balls, and Eddie Cicotte was sent in to hold the Giants in check.

Herzog Nipped at Plate.

Zimmerman hit to Weaver and Herzog was nipped at the plate. Fletcher drove to McMullin, whose quick throw caught Kauff at home and the thousands roared their approval of the White Sox splendid defensive play. Zimmerman, who had moved up on the outs, scored on Robertson's single to center, and with two runs in, Cicotte grabbed Holke's hit and tossed him out at first.

The Chicago team tried desperately to meet this advantage of the Giants and had three men stranded on the bases in its last of the inning, but it was not until the third that the Sox were able to get a runner home. After McMullin had flied out to Robertson, Eddie Collins worked Sallee for a pass. Jackson made a strong effort to send his field captain around, but the best he could do was to raise a fly to Robertson. Felsch was more fortunate, however, his double to left field sending Collins home with the Sox's first run.

McGraws Increase Lead.

The National league representatives increased their lead by scoring another two runs in the fourth, and appeared to feel that they had the game won. Rariden singled to right and Sallee sacrificed him to second. On Burns' single to right and J. Collins' error in fumbling the ball, Rariden scored and Burns took second. Weaver followed with a fumble of Herzog's roller and the batter was safe, while Burns went to third. Kauff rolled another to Gandil, who made a poor throw to Eddie Collins, covering first and Burns scored. Zimmerman ended the inning by hitting into a double play, Weaver to E. Collins to Gandil, eliminating both Kauff and himself.

Sox Get Busy.

The White Sox got their artillery working in the sixth and began the fusillade which finally won the game for them. Gandil went out, Sallee to Holke. Weaver singled to left and Schalk hit to center, and the rooters began to lift their voices in unison, for Sallee was in trouble and showed it. Manager Rowland sent Risberg to bat in place of Cicotte and McGraw made a motion as though to take Sallee out, but apparently changed his mind. Risberg slammed the ball to right, scoring Weaver. J. Collins and McMullin left their teammates stranded by going out on infield plays. Claude Williams, a south-paw hailing from Springfield, Mo., succeeded Cicotte on the mound and the Giants immediately punctured his delivery for one run. Fletcher doubled to left and Robertson attempted to sacrifice. His effort resulted in a pop fly, which Williams caught, but dropped, as he fell. Holke was injured when the ball glanced from his bat to his face, but pluckily resumed after a delay with a fanned. Rariden came through with a single to right, scoring Fletcher, and the Giants had finished their day's run getting.

Applause for Russell.

Russell was given some encouraging applause as he walked to the rubber at the start of the game. He missed the outside corner of the plate four successive times and Burns walked. Herzog cracked the third pitch offered him for a single to right and Burns went to third. Kauff straightened the first one offered him and hit the right field barrier, scoring Burns, putting Herzog on third and making Russell's attempt to pitch a world's series game and Cicotte took up the burden.

"Boo" Zimmerman.

At this stage the White Sox showed some of their best defensive work. Zimmerman was "booed" when he faced Cicotte, but he cracked a hot grounder to Weaver. Duck bluffed and Herzog was caught on the line and charge down, Weaver to Schalk. Kauff took third and Zimmerman reached first. Fletcher bunted to

Sox Struggle to Even Up.

The Sox made a determined bid to even up in their half. John Collins hit Sallee's first offering a mile high and it dropped into Zimmerman's glove. McMullin waited and walked. E. Collins singled and after Jackson had flied out to Burns, Felsch hit to short. McMullin, running from second, sidestepped the ball, and Fletcher fumbled, filling the bases. In this pinch, when any kind of a hit would have tied the score, Gandil popped to Holke.

Rariden opened the Giants' second attack with a sharp single past Eddie Collins. Sallee bunted hard to Gandil and forced his catcher at second. Weaver singled to the throw. Burns fanned, missing a "shiner" for the third one. Weaver missed Herzog's easy grounder to E. Collins. In the Soxes' half Fletcher threw out Weaver and Schalk. Cicotte coaxed a pass up to Sallee, but John Collins fouled to Rariden.

First Inning.

New York—Burns up. Ball one. Ball two. Ball three. Burns walked on four pitched balls. Herzog up. Ball one. Strike one. Herzog singled to right field and Burns dashed to third. Cicotte and Williams are now warming up. Kauff up. Burns scored on Kauff's two-base hit to the right field fence. Herzog going to third. Zimmerman up. Russell was taken from the box at this stage and Cicotte was sent in. Ball one. Ball two. Cicotte walked to left and Robertson attempted to sacrifice. His effort resulted in a pop fly, which Williams caught, but dropped, as he fell. Holke was injured when the ball glanced from his bat to his face, but pluckily resumed after a delay with a fanned. Rariden came through with a single to right, scoring Fletcher, and the Giants had finished their day's run getting.

Dickerson to Continue Travels With Uncle Sam

Pitcher Clark Dickerson of the Cleveland Indians, called the most traveled man in base ball the last season, is on his way again. He has been ordered to report under the army draft to his home in Kingsville, Tex. He probably will be on his way soon to an army camp and then perhaps to France.

DRAKE FAILS TO STOP RUSHES OF OMAHA ELEVEN

Creighton Warriors Triumph Over Des Moines Team in Bitterly Contested Combat; Lahey Is Star.

In a hotly contested clash featured with long end runs and forward passes by Lahey, Creighton outplayed Drake in every department of the game yesterday. Coach Mills' squad of huskies had Drake on the jump from the first pipe of the referee's whistle until the final signal was blown, when the score was 12 to 3, in favor of Creighton had the blue and white on their way for another touchdown.

The breaks of the game were all against the boys on the hill. Time and again Mullholland, Lahey, and Harmon for Creighton brought the ball within the shadow of the enemy's goal, only to be penalized for holding, or held for downs. Drake was on the defensive the greater part of the time, fighting desperately to block the rushes of the trio in the backfield of Mills' eleven. Neal, captain, at tackle for Drake, did brilliant work on the line and it was only by dint of determined resistance by Morgan that he was prevented from breaking through and smashing up plays.

Aerial Game Wins.

The Creighton men gave evidence of the hard week of drill they received on Creighton, Lahey, Mullholland, and Harmon worked together like triplets and their exhibition was gratifying even to the most critical observer. The aerial game was used with good results, usually netting long gains. Creighton completed five out of ten attempted forward passes, averaging twenty yards per pass.

But it was on end runs that the blue and white showed the greatest aptitude for getting away. Mullholland shone here particularly, being good for from ten to twenty-five yards when called upon. He also has developed ability as a line plunger and surprised the enthusiasts with his power at bucking through the middle of the line for ten yards at a time. His excellent work was closely rivaled by that of Harmon and Lahey. Pod Kelly at quarter piloted his comrades through a heady game and Coyne at right tackle tore through Drake's line on a tackle around tackle play four times for ten yards each.

Kelly Makes Run.

The first score came in the middle of the second quarter. On their twenty-yard line Drake held Creighton for downs, and Stull immediately kicked. Coyne blocked it and fell on the ball on the forty-yard line, Kelly, Mullholland and Harmon failed to make any headway and Drake held for downs. Stull again punted, Kelly caught the ball on the forty-yard line and behind perfect interference, raced over the line for a touchdown. Campbell kicked out, but Harmon dropped the ball.

The second touchdown came in the third quarter. Coyne hustled through right tackle for ten yards, a forward pass from Mullholland to Lahey, netted twenty-five yards more, Mullholland bucked the line for two yards, and on another tackle around play, Coyne went over the line. The ball hit the goal post on Campbell's kick and was deflected to the outside.

Fumble Punt.

Then came the only score that Drake was able to secure. Due to excessive zeal Kelly and Lahey both attempted to pull down Stull's punt and fumbled the ball. With the oval in Drake's possession on Creighton's fifteen-yard line, the blue and white line refused to yield an inch and on the fourth down, Stull dropped back and booted the ball squarely between the bars for their meagre three points.

Tom Daly Gets His Second Chance in the Windy City

Cleveland Tom Daly, released by Litchfield to Buffalo and not recalled or drafted, was last week bought by the Chicago National league club from Buffalo. This is Daly's second engagement in Chicago. He was with the White Sox in 1914 and 1915 and went to Cleveland in the Joe Jackson deal.

CORNHUSKERS TRAMP ALL OVER HAWKEYES OF IOWA; RUN UP SCORE OF 47 TO 0

Schellenberg, Cook, Kellogg and Dobson Battered Down Iowa Line and Skirt Ends Almost at Will; Forward Passes Net Long Gains; Hawkeyes Completely Out-Classed.

By FRED S. HUNTER.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 13.—(Special Telegram).—Doc Stewart's Cornhuskers got away to a flying start on their 1917 schedule of six "big" games by trouncing Iowa, 47 to 0, on Nebraska field here today.

The Hawkeyes never had a chance. They gave the game everything they had in them, they fought as nobly as they knew how from whistle to whistle, they never gave up, but stubbornly contested every foot, but they were completely outclassed; the Cornhuskers were far too strong.

A few minutes after play started Nebraska scored its first touchdown and from that minute on the result was never in doubt. Stewart's offensive machine exhibited an attack superior to anything ever seen on Nebraska field before. Even that famous eleven which contained Halligan, Rutherford and Chamberlain failed to stand comparison with the team Nebraska had on the field today.

Huskies Win Toss.

Nebraska won the toss and chose to defend the east goal. Munn twice booted the pigskin out of bounds on the kickoff and Iowa was given the ball on her own forty-yard line. The Hawkeyes started Cornhusker rooters by feeling off two sensational forward passes on the first two plays of the game. The first pass, Jenkins to Reed, was good for thirty yards, while the second, Jenkins to Davis, netted eight. These passes took the ball to Nebraska's twenty-five yard line.

But right here the Hawkeye attack ceased abruptly and never was resumed to any threatening extent. The Huskers buckled down to business, held the Iowans and got the ball. They immediately started a triumphant march down the field for the first touchdown. Schellenberg tore off five yards and then the punt was drawn a five-yard penalty here and this made Schellenberg so sore he proceeded to gallop thirty-five yards around left end. Cook then scooted through for four yards and Schellenberg added another twelve. Eight yards by Cook and three by Schellenberg gave Nebraska first downs with the ball on Iowa's five-yard mark. Otupalik plunged over the goal line, but was pulled back and a ten-yard penalty added. So Dobson was given the ball on the next play and he plowed over for the first touchdown.

Merely Starter.

That was merely a starter. The entire first quarter was a procession. Munn blocked Iowa's kickoff, but a Hawkeye recovered the ball. The Hawkeyes, however, could not gain so Von Lackum punted. The punt was blocked and then Rhodes fell on the ball on Iowa's thirty-five yard mark. Otupalik went through for five yards and after the Huskers were penalized five, a forward pass from Schellenberg to Rhodes netted twenty yards and Johnny Cook scampered around right end for an eighteen-yard run for a touchdown. Shaw kicked the goal.

Davis kicked off to Schellenberg on Nebraska's thirty-four yard line. Schellenberg made five yards and Dobson hit the line for twelve. A forward pass from Schellie to Rhodes netted twenty yards after which Cook kicked the goal. Nebraska, 47; Iowa, 0.

Long Run by Dobson.

The fourth touchdown was made at the beginning of the second quarter. After two runs by Dobson, one for forty-five yards and the other for eleven, the first half ended with the ball on Iowa's twelve-yard mark. Cook took it over for the touchdown on the second play of the second quarter. Shaw kicked the goal. Nebraska, 27; Iowa, 0.

So Wild Again.

But in the fourth quarter, Stewart's progress went on the rampage again and smashed through the Hawkeyes at will. Shortly after the final period started, Sam Kellogg staged a fifty-yard run, the longest of the game. A fumble by Dobson followed, however, so the Huskers lost the advantage again.

After a punt by Iowa, Nebraska got the ball on Iowa's thirty-yard line. Schellenberg made four yards, Kellogg slid off tackle for seven and then twelve more, putting the ball on Iowa's six-yard line. Otupalik took the ball over on two plunges. Shaw kicked the goal. Nebraska, 47; Iowa, 0.

A couple of punts followed the kickoff and Nebraska got the ball on Iowa's forty-yard line. Kellogg staged another sensational run, this time for twenty-eight yards, putting the ball on Iowa's five-yard line. Otupalik took it to the twenty-yard line, but somebody fumbled and Iowa got the ball. Von Lackum attempted to punt, but Rhodes broke through, blocked the punt, then recovered the ball and made a touchdown. Shaw missed the goal. Nebraska, 47; Iowa, 0. The final whistle blew a few moments later.

Dubuque Lands First Hawkeye Conference Game

Dubuque, Ia., Oct. 13.—The Dubuque college foot ball team took the first Hawkeye conference game of the season here today, defeating Ellsworth 20 to 7.

Russell Damages Meat Hand by Grabbing Ball

Don't use your meat hand to stop hard hit balls that are batted back at you. If you do you may put an end to your pitching career.

This is the advice Allen Russell, Yankee spitballer, has to offer brother members of the pitching fraternity, and it is well worth consideration. Early this spring Russell reached for a hard ball through the box with his nude flipper. He got his hand on the ball and succeeded in retarding its progress, but immediately afterward he suffered a sharp pain in the first two digits of his pitching hand, which was followed by numbness. Then his hand grew cold and he had to retire from the game.
