Two Omaha Brides Choose Parents' Anniversaries For Their Wedding Days

SELECTING the wedding anniversaries of their parents for their own wedding date is a pretty sentiment two Omaha brides carried out in choosing these momentous days. The wedding of Miss Marion Pearsall and Mrs. J. Emerson Goodrich, Wednesday evening of this week, will be celebrated twenty-four years after the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Pearsall, took place in Ohio.

Wedding guests at the first marriage ceremony who will come on for the marriage of the season generation are Mrs. C. B. Stowe and Mrs. George A. Kline of Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. James Pearsall, Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Chambers and Dr. and Mrs. C. D. Evans of Columbus and Mrs. Belle Baker of Berkeley, Cal., the bride's grandmother.

Other out-of-town guests will be Miss Emma Rowell of Rome, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. George McHenry of Denison, Ia., and Mrs. Belle Davis Pearsall and Miss Jane Pearsall of Eau Claire, Wis.

Thursday, November 1, the twenty-ninth anniversary of her mother's and father's wedding, has been chosen by Miss Fay Edith Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy M. Palmer, for her wedding to Mr. Luther A. Page of Detroit, formerly of Omaha. The same minister, Rev. C. N. Dawson of Dietz Memorial church, who read the marriage lines for the parents, will unite this couple in marriage, at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. Womble is now in Omaha.

Former Omahans Wed.
Mr. Louis Klebba, well known in musical circles and Miss Helen Michaelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Michaelson, will be married in Minneapolis Monday morning at 9 o'clock in the Catholic pro-cathedral. All are former Omahans.

Mrs. Ellen Lynch and son, Benjamin, and Mr. and Mrs. John Matern leave this morning to attend the wedding. On their return they will be accompanied by Mrs. Michaelson, who will spend two weeks with old friends here and then go to Chicago for the grand opera season.

The young couple will go on an extended eastern trip, visit relatives in Brooklyn and will make their home in Chicago on their return.

Visiting Girls Leave for Their Eastern Homes

Miss Laura Hilliard of Pittsburgh and the Misses Jean and Dorothy Luke of Tarrytown and New York City are a trio of perhaps the most popular guests the younger set of Omaha has ever known. They, with Miss Katherine Baum, formerly of Omaha, were the house guests of the Misses Virginia Offutt and Esther Wilhelm, two princesses of Ak-Sar-Ben's court this year, and served as out-of-town maids of honor at the ball. The visitors leave Monday for their eastern homes. All of them were classmates at the Spence school in New York.

Relief Fund Grows; Hale Etchings Sold Over Tea and Cake

Eight of the etchings at the Walter Hale exhibit have been sold and $50 has been realized for the gauze fund of the war relief from the afternoon teas held at the exhibit.

Mrs. Myron Learned, who is responsible for the exhibit, is delighted with its success both on Mr. Hale's account and the war relief's. Miss Arabell Kimball, Miss Gertrude Young and Mrs. Lee Van Camp will be hostesses this week. The exhibit will close Wednesday and by that time it is hoped that at least $100 will be in the gauze fund.

A bolt of gauze costs $3.20 and makes about 500 compresses, and when one realizes that the war relief's last shipment of dressings included 4,000 compresses it is easily understood how rapidly gauze and money go. Mrs. Learned organized a little circle last summer to cut the gauze for compresses and has furnished all the gauze for it.

Huston-Hauck Wedding

Miss Ida Irene Hauck and Mr. Thomas Ray Huston were quietly married in their newly furnished home at 1912 South Thirty-sixth street, Saturday at 6 o'clock, Rev. George L. Peters officiating.

Thirteen is considered a lucky number by these young people, for the birthday of both bride and bridegroom falls on the 13th, as does their wedding date.

Mrs. Huston is soloist at the First Christian church. She studied three years with Walter B. Graham and one year with Mr. Frederic Freemantel. Mr. Huston is a real estate man. The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hauck, reside at Mason City, where she has been visiting for the last three weeks.

On Friday the ladies of the Holy Name parish will give a card party at Mark's hall, Forty-ninth and Burdette streets.

The Order of Woman's Catholic Foresters of St. Mary's Magdalene court No. 801 will give a high five party Thursday evening in the parlors of the St. Mary's Magdalene church at Nineteenth and Dodge streets. Prizes will be given and light refreshments will be served.

What Society Has in Prospect.

For the Misses Luke

To meet them Mrs. McConnell asked Mrs. Richard Good, Mrs. C. M. Wilhelm, Miss Helen Walker, Miss Wright of Chicago, Miss Regina Connell, Miss Frances Goodell of Lodi, Miss Virginia Offutt, Miss Esther Wilhelm and Miss Laura Hilliard of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Taft, Red Cross and War Activities Loom Up as Ak-Sar-Ben Visitors Leave

A FORMER president of the United States, William Howard Taft, and his day's program in Omaha Friday is now a matter for the society editor to concern herself with, for this time no political organization, but a woman's Fine Arts society, sponsors his visit in the city. The breakfast ex-Senator and Mrs. Norris Brown are giving for him at the Omaha club, a luncheon the Omaha Society of Fine Arts will give, and a dinner of the Palimpsest club at the Fontenelle, at each of which Omaha's socially-elect will meet the present chairman of the Red Cross commission, are all matters of social moment.

Society's small talk is, by the same token, no longer a matter of bridge and teas (unless they are Red Cross or war relief benefits). "Liberty Bonds" is the topic of the hour. Mrs. E. M. Fairfield and Mrs. E. M. Syfert conduct the women's committee offices in the Saunders-Kennedy building, and two busier women in a downtown office are not to be found in this city (Bee society editor's office excepted).

Departing Visitors.
Most of the Ak-Sar-Ben visitors depart for their homes in the next few days, which means that the round of luncheons, teas, bridge and theater parties which filled the past week's calendar will come to an end and women of society will once more be found at Red Cross headquarters in the Baird building, often, even, than in their own homes.

One other important day there is on the week's calendar. That is Saturday, when the University club will give a harvest home dinner-dance to usher in the winter's social activities at the club.
