A New Face Without Surgical Skin Peeling

The surgical operation of face peeling is too radical, too severe. There's a better way of removing offensive complexion and one that is entirely safe and rational. Ordinary mercurized wax causes the devitalized skin to come off, but gradually and gently. Unlike the surgical process, the skin is not forcibly taken off in big pieces at once, but almost invisible flaky particles are absorbed by the wax, and about two weeks are required to complete the transformation. There's no pain, no discomfort. Nature renews complexion the same way, shedding tiny cutaneous scales day by day. But deficient circulation, or other abnormal condition, may interfere with the shedding—a "bad complexion" results. Then mercurized wax assists Nature by hastening the removal of the aged, faded or discolored top skin. Thus only the lively, young, healthy skin is in evidence, as in robust girlhood. This is why mercurized wax produces the indescribable beauty of ever-renewing youth. The wax is put on at night like cold cream, and washed off in the morning. You can procure it at any drugstore; an ounce is sufficient.—Adv.

WAR WORK FIRST WITH WOMEN OF NATIONAL P. E. O.

Devote First Session of Big General Meeting in Omaha to Consideration of Problems of Interest to Nation.

War somberness was reflected in the message of each speaker at the supreme P. E. O. sisterhood convention, whose only open meeting was the first session held at the Scottish Rite cathedral, Tuesday night. The absence of the supreme president, Mrs. Helen M. Drake of Beatrice, who lay ill in her room at the Fontainebleau, aroused much concern among the 400 delegates.

"To give up all social life which avails us nothing, to discard wasteful habits and conserve to the greatest degree—these should be P. E. O. ideals while the war lasts," urged Miss Margaret Durward of Fort Collins, Colo., first vice-president, who presided in the absence of Mrs. Drake. At its secret sessions, the convention will plan P. E. O. war work.

Country Safe Within.
Mrs. A. G. Peterson of Aurora, past supreme president and chairman for the Nebraska Woman's Liberty Loan committee, also spoke on "P. E. O. and War Relief Service." Floral decorations and all expensive accompaniments were dispensed with and only American flags and the flags of the allies were used for decorating.

"Keep our country safe for democracy from within" was the message of Miss Edith Prouty of California, also past supreme president. "Preaching the gospel and then breaking it every day of our national life makes the day of fraternity seem still far away," she said. Americanization of the immigrant was especially emphasized by Miss Prouty.

"There are great dangers which lurk in the fabric of our democracy. They are restriction of immigration, hoarding of food for speculation, exploitation on men and women in labor, sacrifice of young girls, exclusion of races to whom missionaries are sent to convert to Christianity and the piling up of enormous war profits by captains of industry while the brunt of suffering is born by common people."

"Our boys in khaki have received a call. Every citizen of this country has received a greater call," she pointed out. One of the seven organizers of P. E. O., forty-eight years ago at Mount Pleasant, Ia., Mrs. Mary Allen Stafford, was guest of honor at last night's session. Mrs. Stafford gave the history of the organization, whose biggest work is recognized as done by the educational fund of $50,000 loaned to girls seeking an education, without interest and without security. P. E. O.'s are planning to make the educational fund $100,000 before the next supreme convention.

KEEN COMPETITION FOR COMMISSIONS

Creighton University Cadets Work Hard to Get Shoulder Straps; Selections to Be Made Soon.

Competitive drill for permanent appointment to commissioned offices in the Creighton University Cadet regiment will be held October 25 and 26. Keen competition exists among the sixty-odd students desirous of attaining commissions. They have been attending the officers' training school conducted under the direction of Commandant Shillington in preparation for this event.

The regiment is rapidly being whipped into a semblance of a military organization. Demerits are imposed for conduct unbecoming a soldier and a gentleman and can only be removed by enforced marching of the tours of punishment, a gentled expression of what is known in the army as "walking the bull ring." The cadets have established guard mount at the Creighton foot ball games and have already met with the approval of the followers of the blue and white by keeping the field and grounds clear of the hundreds of urchins who flock to the games and make themselves objects of general disorder.

Commandant Shillington will give the cadets a series of six lectures on scout duty and field work preparatory to a practical workout November 1. On that day the whole organization will depart bag and baggage into the country, plentifully supplied with the necessities of life and the kitchen paraphernalia wherewith to render them palatable. "Somewhere near Fort Crook" the army will split into two sections and go in different directions. An hour later each will endeavor to discover the other, employing all the advanced tactics of modern warfare in ferreting out an enemy.
