One ordinance repeatedly broken requires drivers of heavy, slow moving wagons or motors to keep close to the right-hand curb. Needles During Church HIGH PRICED FOOD CORNER IS TURNED AT THEATERS BRINGS TOTAL

Federal Administrator Herbert C. Hoover Declares Essential Commodities Should Continue to Show Re> clustions Between Now and End of the Year; Public Sentiment a Factor.

(By Associated Press.) Washington, Oct. 18 .- Food Administrator Hoover announced today that, subject to co-operation from the farmers and retailers, the corner has now been turned in high prices for food.

He said retail prices had not come down to conform to wholesale reductions and that was a matter for public sentiment to correct.

The administration statement says: The food administration considers that, subject to co-operation from the farmers and the retailers, the corner has now been turned in high prices, and that most of the essential commodities should, one after another, continue to show reductions between now and the end of the year.

"The food administration has no control of either the grower or his FORMER VICE PRESIDENT organization nor of the great majority of retailers. The foundations have been laid for regulation of the intermediate trades, and where these regulations have come into force and the trades are co-operating finely, considerable results are evident in the wholesale prices.

'The current prices at which flour is being sold at the mill door in jute bags vary somewhat with the locality and freight charges on wheat, Toledo showing the lowest prices at $10 for first patent and $9.70 for second patent, the highest being Buffalo at $10.70 for first patent and $10.70 for second; Minneapolis, $10.60 for first and $10.46 for second. This shows a large reduction under August prices.

,"The regulations on the distribution of wheat and the manufacture of flour were put into force the middle of September. "The average retail price on first patents in 796 cities on October 13 was $13.77, or from $1.50 to $2 per barrel higher than is warranted by the price being made by the millers. In other words the retail price has not wholly responded to the reductions made by the millers. NEW BEAN AND CORN CROPS.

"The bean harvest this year is estimated by the Department of Agriculture at about 7,000,000 bushels in excess of last year, or nearly double last year and promises an abundant supply. The growers' associations in prominent bean producing states are holding beans for from 131/2 to 15 cents per pound, as against an average price realized by the grower last year of 8 cents per pound.

"There has been 100 per cent increase in the Manchurian bean crop and it is now estimated at 2,000,000 tons. Owing to the shipping shortage, practically the only outlet is to the United States and these beans will flow into the American market from December on much below the prices now being demanded for American beans.

The corn harvest this year is 600,000,000 to 700,000,000 bushels over last year and will be generally available about the end of November. The price of corn rose to $2.30 per bushel in July and now stands at $1.90 per bushel in Chicago. New corn is quoted in Chicago at $1.13 per bushel for December and indicates nearly a 40 per cent drop in the price of cornmeal when the new corn is generally available.

"The very large corn supplies from the new harvest, together with the larger supplies of barley, velvet beans, cottonseed, peanut and soy bean meal, all promise much cheaper cattle, hog and poultry feed, and will enable the production of beef, pork, poultry and dairy products at much lower levels of cost to the farmer than today and his earnings cannot be maintained with lower prices of products.

"The packing, cold storage and other manufacturing and wholesale distributors in these trades are in course of regulation.

"Beef already shows some tendency toward reduction in wholesale prices, but these have not been so far reflected in the prices quoted by the retailer. The price of beef at the packer's door is 141/2 cents per pound, as compared with 16 cents in July, while the average retail price of round steak in 796 cities is 31 cents per pound, against 27 cents per pound in July, thus showing that the retail prices have increased, while wholesale prices have

REDUCTION IN POTATO PRICES.

"We have a potato harvest of 59 per cent in excess of the crop of last drafting of seamen for submarine "Unless such a canvass of votes has crews, a service which has come to been made, your board should be redepending on the section where grown and the cost of getting them to market. The price, which is somewhat higher than at this period last year, is due to a tendency on the part of the producer to hold for higher prices, despite of the greatly increased crop, and to the temporary inability of the railroads to furnish equipment sufficient to move from many sections the quantity available.

"The average price of potatoes delivered in the markets has closely followed the price which the producer has received plus the cost of distribution to the market. The larger supply of cars and the large harvest warrant lower prices later in the fall.

Beet sugar prices are being controlled by the manufacturers upon a basis that should reach the retailer from 8 to 81/2 cents per pound depending upon the locality. Sugar to confectioners from beet factories is now being restricted and a temporary shortage in the northeastern states gives no warranty for the advance by retailers to over 9 cents per pound. For this allows fair margin upon the prices paid by them for cane sugar they are

"The price of new Cuban, Porto Rican and Hawaiian harvest in December will maintain the beet level as soon as it is available.. The beet level is 13/4 cents below August prices and without the concerted action of beet manufacturers and the refiners of cane sugar prices would now be up to 15 cents, owing to the short supplies during the next few weeks. "In order to provide equally good substitutes for lard and cooking fats influence to bring about a resumption lions of dollars will be required before the food administration is arranging for the import of larger supplies of cocoanut, palm, nut and soy bean oils. This should also affect the prices of administrator with reference to coal

RAILROAD AID BIG FACTOR.

"Since the food administration came into existence, August 10, a great deal of exertion has been required to remedy food situations growing out of the mines idle as a result of the strike the citizens. In one sense of the word the over-export and short supplies of the 1916 harvest,

"There were no reserve stocks in practically all of the main staples with which to enter the new harvest year, and, in fact, in some of the principal staples the exports had proceeded to such lengths that there was an absolute under-supply of our own necessities during the last two months.

"On the top of this situation various factors have interfered with the earlier arrival of the new harvest. Resulting from these causes there have been periodic shortages in first one commodity after another, in one locality in the United States and then another, and a large part of the energies of the food administration has been absorbed in obtaining a distribution and a re-distribution of existing supplies in such a manner as to keep the country generally supplied with foodstuffs, and but for the co-operation of the railways in meeting one emergency after another, we should have had local famines in one community after another in a great many sections.

"Furthermore, the authority of the food administration does not extend over combinations of growers and producers at one end of the chain, nor does it extend over the great majority of retailers at the other end. The distribution chain lying between, that is, the warehouse, wholesalers, commission men and manufacturers of the prime commodities, has required a great deal of study and development for its proper regulation, and these regulations are now coming into force."
