Is Nervous; Oats Steady. Chicago, Oct. 23 .- Expected new restraints apon any ballooning of prices had a decid-dly unsettling effect today in the corn mar-tet. Prices tumbled, then rebounded and state fell again. The close was nervous at $1.15½ to $1.15% for December and $1.10½ to $1.10% for May, 1% off to %c up compared with yesterday's finish. Oats lost %c to % @%c. In provisions the outcome varied from unchanged figures to $1.20 decities.

Belief that owing to temporary scarcity in elevators here the Board of Trade directors would formally prohibit all new business in corn contracts that implied
December delivery at Chicago led to much general selling of corn today, especially during the first and last parts of the session. Holders unloaded freely, but a good deal of the downward initial pressure came from shorts intent on making a quick reversal of position as soon as profit could be collected. Many of the shorts over-reached themselves, as attempts to even up trades caused a swift upward swing that for the nost part, however, was not maintained. Smallness of rural offerings kept oats relatively steady.

Provisions gave way under scattered sell-ng when the market was bare of support. Pork suffered the sharpest break. something of a raily developed as a result of stock yard buying.

New York, Oct. $3,—Coffee—The market for coffee futures was quiet again today and there was very little change in prices. The opening was I point lower under scattering liquidation, but the offerings were absorbed by buying attributed to trade interests and the close was net unchanged to 3 points higher. Higher Rate Case. New York, Oct. 23.—Professional interests again dominated the stock market today. The conflicting and shifting developments bearing upon intrinsic values found further reflection in the lower trend of prices. Sentiment was perceptibly encouraged at the outset by the news that the Interstate Commerce commission had decided to re-open the hearing of the eastern railroads for higher freight rates. Shares of that particular division made early gains of 1 to 2 points, but shaded upon renewal of pressure elsewhere.

Utilities, as represented by local tractions Utilities, as represented by local tractions and gas shares, soon developed weakness at extreme recessions of 2 to 4 points. This invited solling of more stable issues, equipments and the general group of war issues forfeiting 1 to 3-point advances.

In the last haif of the session, when the list evinced some disposition to raily, prices received another sharp reversal under lead received another sharp reversal under lead of Union Pacific, which made a net decline of 2% points to 120%. Other rails moved in keeping and industrials sagged anew. United States Steel fluctuated between 105 and 104%, finishing at 105, a net loss of the smallest fraction. Most of the other steels moved in the same narrow group, likewise the more distinctive equipments and related specialities.

Metals were held back by the heaviness in Utah Copper, which lost all its recent recovery, but shippings indicated further accumulation, marine preferred retaining the better part of its substantial advance. Sales. 570,000 shares.
