

CURFEW RINGS FIRST TIME ON "LIBERTY NIGHT"

Boys and Girls Must Be Off Streets at 8 p. m. Starting Wednesday; Police to Be Watchful.

It is a coincidence that the new 8 o'clock curfew law will become effective today, which will be "Liberty Day." It will, however, not be Liberty day after 8 o'clock p. m. for boys and girls less than 18 years of age.

Two weeks ago the city council passed an ordinance which makes it a misdemeanor for persons under 18 years of age to be away from home, unaccompanied, after 8 o'clock at night.

The chief purpose of the ordinance is to restrict roamings of girls after nightfall, but the new law will apply to boys as well.

Superintendent Kugel of the police department has advised his chief to notify captains and sergeants to instruct patrolmen to enforce the law.

"In many cases I realize it will be difficult for a policeman to determine whether a girl is less or more than 18, but it will be his duty in cases of necessity to ask the young woman, 'How old are you?'" said Mr. Kugel.

The superintendent of police laughingly added that he had seen "girls" on the streets appear as young as 18, when as a matter of fact they were nearer 28 years of age, and had also seen 16-year-old girls who looked to be 20.

Boys and girls who are accompanied by parents or other responsible elders will not be amenable to the new curfew law.

"I think it will work out for the benefit of our youth and I believe that Omaha parents should co-operate in making this law effective," added the superintendent of police.

Mrs. Rose M. Ohaus, superintendent of the Board of Public Welfare, believes boys and girls less than 18 years of age should be home after 8 p. m., unless accompanied by elders. She contends that much trouble results from young people being allowed to go about during the night hours.

Joffre's Army Drives Germans Back at Soissons

terrain will become increasingly difficult for attacking troops. Nevertheless the potency of allied material and men, the accumulation of the technical means of combat and the preparations which have been going on for many months will make it possible for the British and French commanders to triumph over natural obstacles and with few short intervals we may expect the offensive to press forward.

"It is not anticipated that the allies will go into winter quarters this year. A Political Venture.

"The full importance of the battle in Flanders is beginning to be revealed. In order to appreciate the real significance of this naval engagement and the effect it has had on the morale of the German army and the German people, we must consider briefly the German attacks, including the capture of Del, Dago and other minor islands of the Finnish gulf.

"While no attempt has been made to belittle the importance of the positions gained by the enemy, we cannot fail to record that it is apparent that the Germans undertook this expedition with a view to bolstering up the morale of the country, more particularly in order to be able to meet the impending difficulties which threaten to culminate in a renewed cabinet crisis in the near future.

"The German higher command has invariably picked out a weakened objective in order to be able to record a success, which should be of a political rather than military value.

"If the enemy had any confidence in being able to stem successfully the tide of the allied advance in the west, it would throw every ounce of its strength in the balance in Flanders and if possible by crushing the allied armies, bring about peace with victory," which the German has often stated as his objective.

"Germany by extending its lines in the east has merely added to the length of its line of communications. Thus the events in Russia today should cause us to have increased confidence in final allied victory.

"It is evident that the terrible punishment by allied artillery fire is beginning to have a very decided effect along the western front. Never before in any series of engagements have so many German divisions, after brief encounters, been withdrawn and replaced by fresh troops. Deserters from ranks taken in the allied lines have become increasingly numerous."

The trust company's total subscriptions amount to $60,106,150, the largest in this district.

Russian Government to Remove To Historic Kremlin at Moscow

THE KREMLIN.

The seat of Russian government will soon remove from Petrograd to Moscow. The government will occupy one of the buildings in the Kremlin, the ancient capital. The government takes the position that it is merely following the precedent set by the French government when it moved to Bordeaux in the first year of the war.

The preliminary Parliament will convene in Petrograd and then move to Moscow, where quarters will be found for the diplomatic corps. The determination to move the government is said to be in keeping with the belief of the chief of staff that Petrograd is now in the direct war zone. Photo shows the Holy gate to the Kremlin at Moscow.

IRISH QUESTIONS UP BEFORE COMMONS

John E. Redmond Delivers Speech in Parliament Exploring Attitude Taken by the Government.

(By Associated Press.) London, Oct. 23.—The House of Commons today occupied itself with Ireland, John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish party in parliament, opening the debate on the motion which he announced October 16 he would make. The motion read:

"This house deplores the policy which has been pursued by the Irish executive government and the Irish military authorities at a time when the highest interests of Ireland and the empire demand the creation of an atmosphere favorable to a successful result of the deliberations of the Irish convention."

There already has been much talk outside parliament of Sinn Fein domination and Dublin castle admission, and the questions will be thoroughly thrashed out.

RULES PEACEFUL PICKETING ISN'T LAW VIOLATION

ha unions. The attorney general alleged employers and employees had committed acts in restraint of trade. Virtually every union in Greater Omaha was affected by the court order.

After a hearing in district court three judges—Judge Leslie, Judge Sears and Judge Redick—granted a temporary injunction. The case was taken to federal court by attorneys for the unions, but it was remanded back to district court.

The case then was gone into on its merits in district court. More than 100 witnesses were examined. The case lasted three weeks. The costs, including attorney's fees, were estimated at more than $1,000 a day.

Judge Leslie in his decision reviewed the evidence in the strike injunction case from the very beginning. He spoke of the general condition of building stagnation prevailing in Omaha when the strike troubles were at their height. He said he found the evidence to show that the principal acts of violence were on the part of the teamsters.

The rights of labor unions in regard to employers were reviewed by Judge Leslie. He declared he found that as a whole organized labor did not sanction acts of violence, intimidation or threats on the part of individual members.

Attorney General Reed, Norris Brown, deputy attorney general, and D. M. Vinsonhaler represented the state.

F. H. Gaines, F. A. Brogan and Alvin Johnson were attorneys for the Business Men's association.

Anson Bigelow, M. D. Owen of Chicago, attorney for the International Bricklayers' union, and A. Ninde represented the unions.

J. C. Brewink Dies. Shenandoah, Ia., Oct. 23.—(Special.)—J. C. Brewink, 77, one of Blanchard's most influential citizens, died Saturday. Mrs. Brewink, two sons and a daughter survive. He lived on a farm adjoining the town.

WHEATLESS AND BEEFLESS DAYS OBSERVED HERE

Restaurant and Hotel Men Agree to Food Conservation Measures; War Time Foods Suggested.

"Beefless Tuesday" and "wheatless Wednesday" went into effect in all Omaha hotels Tuesday and will be put in operation in the restaurants of the city next week along with other conservation measures.

A half inch of sugar left in the bottom of your coffee cup proves you are unpatriotic. "They do it just so we won't make money," said John W. Welch, proprietor of the Welch cafes, at the conservation meeting of the Omaha restaurant keepers at the Paxton hotel.

"The fact of the matter is that they are robbing our soldier boys and our allies of the sugar they need. I have seen men take a handful of lump sugar and put it in their pockets. But they have to pay for it anyway, as it increases our expense and makes us raise prices."

The restaurant men were called together Tuesday by Dick Kitchen, jr., of the Paxton hotel for a conference with J. L. Letton of the state food administration in regard to fixing and observing the "beefless Tuesday" and "wheatless Wednesday." Restaurant men were asked to sign a pledge card making them members of the United States Food Administration and bound by its recommendations.

Suggest Reduced Portions. A "general plan" circular was handed out, suggesting war menus. The menu suggests reduced portions of beef, mutton and pork and adds that these "war portions" should be served at reduced prices.

Breads from corn, rye or mixed flours are recommended. "We have been experimenting with bread made from whole wheat flour," said J. W. Welch, "and we find that it makes a better tasting bread. The use of the whole wheat saves 15 pounds of white wheat flour out of every 100 pounds used. You get more weight per loaf and more loaves. The railroads are using a mixture of 70 per cent wheat flour and 30 per cent corn and rye flour with very good results."

The restaurant keepers welcomed the conservation suggestions as to reducing the serving of bread, sugar and meat. No discussion on the reduction of prices occurred. It was suggested that individual portions of sugar be served and an additional charge placed extra helpings.

Establish 10-Cent Rate For Milk in New York

New York, Oct. 23.—In an effort to reduce the high cost of milk in New York City the Cooperative Producers' Marketing association, selling agency for 15 farm milk organizations, announced today that it had acquired two-milk plants, and commencing tomorrow would deliver 200,000 quarts of pasteurized milk to grocery stores to be sold at a uniform price of 10 cents. The milk will be sold to grocers at 9 cents a quart.

A delegation of women from the East Side visited the city hall yesterday to protest against the cost of milk and to ask for relief. "There will be riots if the price is not lowered soon," the chairman of the delegation stated.

PROTEST SENTENCE GIVEN TO MOONEY

Meeting to Be Held in New York to Discuss Action Taken in Case of Man in San Francisco.

(By Associated Press.) New York, Oct. 23.—Circulars were distributed in labor circles here today announcing a mass meeting in protest against the sentence of Thomas Mooney and others in California in connection with the deaths of spectators through a bomb explosion in San Francisco at a "preparedness day" parade. The meeting will be held here Friday night. The circular reads in part:

"Tom Mooney and the other San Francisco frame-up victims must be saved. A federal commission, appointed by President Wilson, is now investigating the attempt to railroad labor men to the gallows. Workers, let the president and his commission hear your voice in this matter."

"England Without White Bread Last Six Months"

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Lord Northcliffe, "the greatest spender in the world"—he spends $60,000,000 a week for food for the allies—addressed guests at a luncheon at the University club today.

He spoke of the Liberty loan as a method of distributing money among workmen and women, and enlarged on the necessity for avoiding waste of food. In England, he said, they have not tasted white bread for six months. He said that Chicago was the food capital of the world and that much more money would be spent here by the government than Chicago would subscribe to the loan, even if it subscribed the maximum.
