MRS. LITTLE SCORES USE OF VACCINE

Enemy of Compulsory Use of Serum Delivers Scathing Address Before Gathering of Medical Men and Others.

In protest against prevalent medical regulations concerning compulsory vaccination in all the large cities of the United States, Mrs. Lora C. Little, representing the Medical Freedom Educational committee, conducted a meeting in the assembly room of the City National bank building last night, which was attended by many medical men and opponents of vaccination.

Mrs. Little voiced strong opinions of the evils and ill effects of compulsory vaccination and based her arguments upon an investigation of thousands of vaccine cases which resulted in death. Her only child died 22 years ago from the ill effects of vaccination, and since then she has traveled extensively, denouncing compulsory medical treatment by city and state health boards. During the course of her remarks last night she said:

"I am speaking against the crime of compulsory vaccination for the sake of humanity and for the safety of human lives, many of whom have suffered from the effects of vaccination. Health boards have too much power in the decisions of compulsory operations and in most cases of prevalent diseases only diagnose them and experiment on the patient, by injecting various serums into the patient's body. 'The root of our epidemics is due to infected vaccine.'"

Dr. C. Rosewater Defends. Dr. Charles Rosewater, refuting several of Mrs. Little's arguments, said: "You are trying to crucify the medical profession, and we are helping toward the progress of the profession and health of mankind."

Before leaving Omaha, Mrs. Little will give a lecture illustrated with stereopticon slides on the subject of vaccination.

Chinese President Mourns Loss of His Brilliant Wife

(By Associated Press.) Peking, Oct. 22.—President Feng Kwo-Chang was almost completely prostrated by the recent death of his wife. For two weeks he denied himself to all callers. He refused to have elaborate funeral ceremonies which would in any way savor of the monarch.

Madame Feng's body still lies in state in the palace and it probably will be some weeks before burial, as king he introduced the general to Miss Chow and suggested that she would make him a very desirable wife. A few months later they were married.

Yuan Shi Kai gave the bride as a wedding present a beautiful sable coat which had been presented to him by an important Lanna official. The coat had a long history and many Chinese believe that it carried bad luck and was responsible for Madame Feng's death.

Madame Feng came of a family of prominent officials in Kiangsu province. She was only 37 years old. The president was more than twenty years her senior.

floods in Chihli province have made it impossible to prepare a grave for her. Madame Feng played an important part in politics of China for the last few years. When Yuan Shi Kai became president he engaged her as tutor for his daughter. She was Miss Chow, principal of the Girls' Normal school at Tien Tsin and was famous as a lecturer and advanced thinker and had acquired western ideas to a marked degree. Yuan Shi Kai frequently consulted her on affairs of state and she became a very important member of the president's household.

When Yuan Shi Kai designated General Feng Kwo-Cheng to take the post of military governor of Nanking he introduced the general to Miss Chow and suggested that she would make him a very desirable wife. A few months later they were married.
