Schools and Colleges

Hastings College. Hastings college was signally honored by the Synod of Nebraska in the selection of its instructor in Bible as the moderator of the synod for the coming year. Dr. Knauer has been with the college only since last February, but he has been a favorite with the Synod of Nebraska for about 14 years. President Crane returned early this week after an absence of nearly a week at the synod meetings at Wyoming and Nebraska. He addressed the Wyoming Synod at Sunrise on "Christian Education." The synod voted to award Dr. Knauer a diploma within a month and to send its students to Hastings. At Omaha President Crane presented his report to the synod which was warmly approved. The first number of the Hastings college lecture course will appear next Monday at the Education of Philadelphia, Tuesday at the Kerr, Merle and Beckel Alcock furnishing the entertainment. They are well known in the musical world. Miss Alcock has recently been well received at St. Louis and Kansas City. Rev. William Crothers of the Board of Education of Philadelphia spent Tuesday in the city and addressed the students at chapel. Rev. Mr. Crothers was on his way home from Colorado. The state conference of Young Men's Christian association and Young Women's Christian association workers is now in session at Omaha. This conference is in the interest of association work in the training camps. Four representatives are Miss Frances Elston, president of the Young Women's Christian association; Miss Della Bowen, Prof. McCracken, Curtis Galt and Thomas Luby. Dr. Both of the chair of Latin and Greek addressed the students at chapel one morning last week on "The Theory of Fatalism." The student association on Wednesday afternoon held a musical contest for the promotion of oratory this year. It now appears that there will be more general interest in oratory this year than has been manifested previously. Rev. Mr. Lemon of the Christian church of our city who has been a favorite with the college leaves for the training camp at Deming next week. Before leaving he addressed the Christian association on the subject of prayer. The Whiterian Literary society held its first literary meeting of the year last week. This is the first time since the war that it has had a profitable year. The State Christian Endeavor meeting will be held in Hastings, November 3 to 6. Hastings college students will take an active part in this meeting. Kearney State Normal School. Kearney, Neb., Oct. 28.—(Special)—Mrs. I. V. Reed of Omaha is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Mary Reed, who is a student here. Members of Kearney Normal School Dramatic club will initiate newly elected members Friday evening at the home of the president, Miss H. Courtright. A departmental library, together with several cases for keeping instruments and materials, has been donated to the south laboratory of the zoological department. "A Teacher's Ideal and the Ideal Teacher" was the subject of a lecture given by Dr. H. M. Shreve Saturday afternoon before teachers at Creston. Phillip Person, 17, now with the colors, writes from Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., that the best way those at home can help is by giving books, support and money to the Young Men's Christian association. "Wald E. Balcom, 17, who is on a furlough from the Great Lakes training station, was visiting friends in school Friday. He is to leave soon for Harvard university, where he will complete his training in wireless telegraphy. President George S. Dick of Kearney State Normal school left Monday morning for Lincoln, where he will attend a meeting of the heads of the various schools of Nebraska, at which it will be decided whether or not to discontinue the Nebraska schools during the coming school season. Thirty-five delegates attended the annual Nebraska Library association, which was held here last week. Dr. Fred Morrow Fling of the University of Nebraska, lectured on "The Significance of the World War." Miss Maria Hrbokova, also of the University of Nebraska, delivered an address on "Americanizing America." Bert Reed, a student in the Kearney Normal school, was elected and presented a member of the second band of the 39th depot brigade at Camp Cody, now here in the Lincoln, where he is employed in the kitchen. The Normal trio, consisting of Prof. Deming, N. M. He has been confined to the infirmary since October 2, having developed heart trouble. His discharge from camp is expected, if he does not improve.

ADVANCES REASONS FOR SCHOOL BONDS

Superintendent Beveridge Explains Why Junior High School Should Be Established in Omaha.

The submission of a $2,250,000 school bond proposition to the voters at an election to be held November 20 contemplates the erection of a junior high school at Twenty-fourth and Corby streets at a cost of $250,000. A building program has been outlined by the Board of Education.

Superintendent Beveridge has given the junior high school considerable study and is convinced that this adjunct to Omaha's public school system would justify itself. The superintendent has expressed himself as follows on the subject:

Advantages of the School. "Such a school will provide various means for individual differences in pupils and for the earlier introduction of prevocational work and subjects usually taught in the present high school.

"Such a school will make provision for the needs of some children for whom the grade school has nothing. It will provide a training different in character.

"This form of school offers such differentiation of courses as will meet the needs of the child. In this school the course of study should be arranged:

"To offer to those who are to go to high school and college an earlier opportunity to begin work in the foreign languages, mathematics, history and the preparation required.

"To offer to those boys who are planning to enter the trades, without entering high school, a shop familiarity with various trades and fields of labor, thereby permitting them to choose wisely their life work, not neglecting a continuation of the elementary branches as will correlate more closely with the prevocational studies.

"To offer to girls who have no anticipation of entering the high school a thorough training in cooking, sewing, millinery, laundering, designing, decorating, and other allied household arts.

"To permit an earlier foundation in the commercial branches for those entering high school commercial work; bookkeeping, commercial arithmetic, stenography and typewriting, may all be begun in an earlier grade than the first year of high school.

"To secure a minimum of lost time for those pupils wishing for good and sufficient reasons to change from one course to another."

Favored By Board. The Board of Education members have studied the junior high school and recommend it for the following reasons, it is said:

1. The period between the ages of 12 and 15 years marks the time when the child passes from childhood to youth. It is the period of transition. This period of a child's life is evidenced by marked psychic changes and by marked physical changes. It is the period of adolescence.

2. The junior high school is more democratic in its organization. It gives equal opportunity to all classes and all individuals. It recognizes that some children more readily take to academic instruction, while others more readily take to motor activities.

3. The junior high school proposes a differentiated curriculum and gives an opportunity to vitalize the course of study.

4. The present plan of organization is wasteful for pupils review too much and do not make sufficient progress in their own development from grade to grade.

The new plan makes the promotion by subject and not by grade. Will Relieve Congestion.

5. The junior high school will relieve the congestion in the grade schools not now provided for. It also makes better provision for the increasingly complex social and economic life with which we are surrounded.

6. The break in the course of study at the end of the eighth grade comes at a time (for many pupils) when the compulsory education law ceases to hold children in school. The junior high school would help to bridge this chasm.

7. Principal W. B. Clark of the McKinley intermediate school, Berkeley, Cal., furnishes data showing that since the establishment of this school 94.73 per cent of the pupils completing the eighth grade have entered the ninth, and 95.29 per cent of those completing the ninth grade have entered the tenth. Principal Preston of the Franklin intermediate school, Berkeley, reports that of the last seven classes completing the eighth grade under the old organization 40.53 per cent entered the high school, and that of the first six classes completing the eighth grade of the intermediate school there entered the ninth grade of the same school 65.53 per cent, not counting those who were transferred from other buildings. Principal Paul C. Stetson states that 80 per cent of the pupils in the eighth grade in the Grand Rapids junior high school last year entered the senior high school, as compared with 70 per cent of the eighth grades in the grammar schools of the city.

Plan to Raise $35,000,000 For Use of War Y. M. C. A.

New York, Oct. 28.—A campaign to raise $35,000,000 for the Young Men's Christian association's camp work on extended lines, both among the forces of the United States at home and abroad, and also among the troops of Russia, France and Italy, will begin on an intensive nationwide scope, it was announced today by the association's war work council.

The $5,000,000 raised last April, it was shown, was proved inadequate to meet conditions arising from the fact that army mobilization has gone forward more rapidly than anticipated, even in Washington.

"It was expected that only about a million men would be called out by December 31," the announcement says. "It was not dreamed that nearly double that number would be assembled nor that a quarter of a million would be on foreign soil within a short time. Instead of 1,000 secretaries, a small army of 2,500 had to be provided to adequately care for the soldiers, and instead of 200 buildings, costing $3,000 each, the call came for 500 at a cost of from $5,000 to $8,000; instead of a per capita cost of $3 for 1,000,000 men until December 31, actual experience called for $5 per capita for 2,000,000 men.

It has been decided that $11,000,000 will be required for troops in this country until next July, and $12,000,000 for troops in action abroad. It has been estimated that there will be 3,200,000 American fighting men to care for.

For raising the $35,000,000 war work in this country the campaign has been laid out in accordance with the military departments. The quota for the Eastern department is $15,500,000.

The Northeastern department is to be asked for $2,500,000; the Southern for $1,500,000; the Central for $12,500,000; the Western for $1,250,000; and the Southern department for $750,000.

Reception for New Pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran Church

Friday evening a reception for Rev. S. De Freese was held at St. Mark's English Lutheran church. A program of short addresses was given in the main auditorium, among the speakers being Rev. W. T. Kahse, synodical missionary; Rev. S. H. Verian, pastor of St. Luke's church, South Side, and president of the Nebraska synod; Rev. G. Franklin Koch, associate pastor of Kountze Memorial Lutheran church; Rev. G. W. Snyder, pastor of Ludden Memorial Lutheran church; Rev. Mr. De Freese of Hooper, Neb., and Rev. L. Groh, pastor of St. Mark's church for 21 years and now pastor emeritus.

Omaha University. The students were addressed by three speakers during the week. Mr. Thursday Mrs. C. Benedict spoke to the young women on the missionary work in Nebraska. She outlined some work which can be done by the students. On the same day E. E. Hermon who is in charge of the boys' community work at the university, told the young men of the new movement among the American boys. He gave statistics showing that the tendency of boys to be more delinquent during war times is national and it having already doubled in Chicago. His plan is to keep the boys busy and thus accomplish a double purpose, work and goodness.

Miss Agnes Shaw, student secretary of the college "Y. W." visited the war work and complimented them on the work being done there.

The knitting classes are doing good work. Some of the coats are turning out a sweater every five days.

The Philomathean Literary society held their first regular meeting on Wednesday evening.

The monthly of the student body is with Miss Lois Snyder of Tekamah, whose mother died of Friday, October 19. The floral offering from Miss Snyder's student friends was sent by Ruth Spitzer and Suzanne Johnson.

The Rev. Thomas K. Hunter, D. D., of Kimball, Neb., addressed the student body at chapel on Tuesday. Dr. Hunter is a loyal friend of the college, and for many years was a member of the board of trustees. A live report will be sent in Crawford, October 26 and 27. Prof. Wilson is treasurer of the association and will also appear on the program. Other faculty members who will give addresses or papers will be Miss Lucy Clark, Dean Stockdale and Prof. Clement. The Normal trio, consisting of Prof. Yarnley, cellist; Prof. Townsend, violinist, and Miss Swedberg, pianist, will contribute musical numbers.

The Cookery III class are making a special study regarding conservation of food. The practical work being done from war recipes.
