FORGET POLITICS
SAY DEMOCRATS

Several Good Reasons Why the Party Is Kicking Up Big Dust, Say Those Who Are Watching the Mill.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
Lincoln, Oct. 28.—(Special.)—"Politics must be forgotten from now on," is the cry which is being taken up by democrats around the state house who are beginning to see trouble ahead of them in 1918. That there is trouble ahead is no question. They see it themselves. They see that when they go into the next campaign there is going to be a whole lot of things to explain that have taken place under the old dome and they are wondering how they will be able to fix it with the dear people who will cast the votes about a year from next November.

According to all signs if the people heed the democratic cry and "forget politics" they will have plenty else to think about when they size up the work of the democratic party around the state house and see what has transpired during the biennium.

Forget the Constitution.
People who are seeking a constitutional convention for the purpose of securing a new constitution for the state have put up the argument that the present constitution is too out of date and that we have "outgrown" it. While this may be true, democratic state officials in many instances have "forgotten it," and that we ever had a constitution or even that there is such a thing as a dictionary. They have forgotten that the constitution says that no state officer shall have a financial interest in the letting of any contracts by the state and pretend to think that while a state officer may be a state officer for purposes of drawing a salary, he is not a state officer when it comes to getting in on state contracts. Their dictionary does not define a state officer as an officer of the state, but just an "officer," and therefore he has a license to get a strange hold on all he can and let the constitution be damned.

Of course, this doesn't amount to very much—from a democratic standpoint—but in "forgetting politics" they are in hopes that the voter will forget things which democratic political officeholders have been doing and which will be rightly charged against the democratic party.

How About Howard?
Some of them make the excuse that a fellow ought to have the right to make a little on the side just the same as men in other business lines do. In their way of thinking the constitution has no business stepping in and taking their rights away from them.

However, they knew this when they "accepted" the job just as other men know the rules of a firm when they accept a position in business life. No man would deliberately break the rules of the firm he is working for and expect to stay, if found out. However, the rules laid down by the state appear to be sized up by them about the way the average democratic platform is valued; "something to get in on, but not to stand on after getting in."

The second thing which is worrying democrats is what they are going to do when Governor Neville slips into his uniform and marches off to war. There won't be any chance of getting him to run for a second term. Lieutenant Governor Howard as governor, doesn't want to run for governor, but does want to run for the United States senate. He could not run for governor anyhow, as the constitution prohibits it, and so the way looks dark.

Many Want Places.
Of course there are some good democrats in Nebraska. Democrats are willing to admit that themselves. Unfortunately they all want to run for the United States senate. Former Governor Morehead, Attorney General Reed, Land Banker Corey, Judge J. J. Thomas, Lieutenant Governor Howard, W. H. Thompson, L. J. Dunn, R. L. Metcalfe, and one or two more of the faithful who have their eye on the big building down at Washington. The gubernatorial job does not appeal to them. They would like to move the scenes to other fields. Of course they are all good men. Governor Morehead of course would not take another shot at the state house; Attorney General Reed is barred by the constitution, or what little of it is left by his team mates, from running for governor, as is also Howard. The rest of the bunch don't want it because it costs a man $5,000 a year to be governor and he only gets $2,500 of it back in salary.

So unless there is a hard shell compact made with the new forming Non-partisan league whereby the nomination for governor and most of the other state offices on the democratic ticket are traded for support for the United States senate by the faction in that party which appears to be hobnobbing with the Non-partisan league organizers, it is not probable that anybody will be very anxious to take a chance and a new political "selective draft" will have to be resorted to.

GENERAL OBREGON.

General Alvaro Obregon, former leader of the Mexican constitutionalist armies and later a member of the Carranza cabinet, arrived secretly in New York recently. He denied that he had broken with his chief, President Carranza, and asserted that his quiet visit to the United States had no significance whatever. The general declared that he was merely engaged in a brief vacation. He was accompanied by his staff and by Lieutenant Colonel Harvey W. Miller, U. S. A., assigned by the War department to escort him. General Obregon has but one arm, having lost the other in one of his battles with Villa forces. More Men to Husk Corn
Than Jobs to Give Them

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
Lincoln, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Farmers who are wanting corn shuckers will probably be able to find them by communicating with the state labor bureau at Lincoln, as there are more calls for jobs than there are places to be filled.

The government agent here says men are willing to work for reasonable wages and as a general thing are not asking big prices for husking. Today the office of the bureau was filled with men waiting to be assigned to jobs.

Ordinary Nuxated Iron Will Make Delicate Nervous, Run-down People 100 Per Cent Stronger in Two Weeks' Time.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Most people foolishly seem to think they are going to get renewed health and strength from some stimulating medicine, secret nostrum, or narcotic drug, said Dr. E. Sauer, a Boston physician who has studied widely both in this country and in great European medical institutions, when, as a matter of fact, real and true strength can only come from the food you eat. But people often fail to get the strength out of their food because they haven't enough iron in their blood to enable it to change food into living matter.

From their weakened, nervous condition they know something is wrong, but they can't tell what, so they generally commence doctoring for stomach, liver or kidney trouble or symptoms of some other ailment caused by lack of iron in the blood. This thing may go on for years, while the patient suffers untold agony. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. The test your strength again and for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people who were ailing the while, double their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of all symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this after they

High Wind Sweeps
Over State With Good Fall of Snow

The plains country east of the Rocky mountains was hit by winter Sunday night and, according to railroad men, the weather is the coldest experienced during October at any time during the last 25 years. While the zero mark was not touched in Nebraska, a stiff northwest wind swept over the state all Sunday night and when the reports reached the railroad offices yesterday morning was still blowing. The high wind made it impossible for the engines to make steam sufficient for the men to keep the trains on schedule. At no place was the snow sufficiently heavy to block the roads.

Adopt This Habit
As Well As Men

Glass of hot water each morning helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous and vivacious—a good clear skin, a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions, instead of the multitudes of "nervous wrecks," "run-downs," "brain fags" and pessimists, we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-checked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning before breakfast a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds and particularly those who have a palid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

"The commission urges, on the ground of patriotism, that women who are trained in stenography or typewriting, or both, enter open competition examination at once, and that those who have not such training immediately undergo instruction in exactly the same spirit that has moved them to attend classes in first-aid nursing, that is, the spirit of helpfulness."—Circular from Women's Committee, National Council of Defense.
