

Nebraska REED GIVES VIEW ON STRIKE QUESTION Attorney General Says Common Law Provides Right to Enjoin Parties When Nation Is at War.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
Lincoln, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—That strikes during a time when the United States is at war with another country, should not be permitted, is the opinion of Attorney General Willis E. Reed, expressed in a letter in response to an inquiry coming to him from another state, where his action in the controversy between Omaha unions and the Business Men's association had come to the notice of the party writing the letter.

Answering the correspondent, Mr. Reed said in part:
"I believe as a war measure strikes should not, under any consideration, be tolerated. The papers bring the information you are about to suffer a strike. Permit me to suggest to you that the same rule which applies to individuals, whereby one individual may restrain another from violating a contract, where he has no adequate remedy at law, is equally applicable where two or more individuals make a contract for the benefit of the third. The third might also institute such a suit, and that with quasi public corporations the attorney general, because of the public interest in view of the broad powers which he had at common law, and which have not as yet been changed in this country, should institute such suits. The contract on the part of employer to employ, and the employee to work, is not one for the sole and individual benefit of those two, but rather and more particularly for the greater and broader purpose of benefit to the public.

Public Has Right.
"The public has a perfect right at law to restrain the employer from declining to do that which he has contracted with the public and the employe as well to do, and the employe, under the circumstances, when he enters into his contract to work for the employer, does it for the use and benefit of the general public and should be deprived of the right to cease work when he conspires with others as a body to do that which would be an injury to the general public.

"Under such circumstances, courts of equity, having taken cognizance of the case in the first instance for one purpose, should retain it for all, and that an injunction could and should issue to compel, during the war at least, all individuals working for municipal or quasi public corporations to continue in the customary, usual and ordinary discharge of their duties and under no consideration should they be allowed to conspire to act in unison to the detriment of the general public, especially the United States, because any act such as contemplated would retard the mobilization of troops, food and clothing as well as munitions of war.

Common Law Pertains.
"Unless the courts and prosecuting officers discharge their duties, by doing that which the necessities of the occasion require, it will indeed be a sad day for this country or any other for that matter, which tolerates such lawlessness.

"While the court and the press were under the impression that I proceeded under a local statute called the Junkin act, my view of that act is that it is merely declaratory of the common law and that, as attorney general, I had that power, irrespective of the statute; and the common law is equally in force in your state, so there is no question about the power of the attorney general under the circumstances.

Allen, and who, with a number of accomplices, fled from Frank Schroeder, a De Witt farmer, out of $10,000 at Council Bluffs, visited his place on October 10 and tried to work a con game on him. KNOX COUNTY HOLDS BIG WAR TIME RALLY

Prominent Nebraska Speakers Urge Conservation of Food and Loyalty to Country by Alien Citizens.

Bloomfield, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—A splendid patriotic rally was held in this city last night. Over 1,000 people were in attendance, many coming from all the surrounding towns. Mayor W. H. Harm presided as chairman and introduced the speakers.

Judge Laird, chairman of the County Defense Council, gave a splendid address along the line of food conservation. He urged upon all their duty in assisting to conserve the food supply of the country.
Dr. Mullen, one of the most brilliant orators of northeast Nebraska, gave a stirring and patriotic address. He said that our country is spending billions of dollars in money, and sending away millions of the cream of our young manhood, and that it was due time that every loyal citizen throw off his mask and handle all traitors and near-traitors as they should be handled. In closing his address, he thrilled his audience in his magnificent appeal that all should unite to put down sedition wherever found.
The meeting was the best ever held in Knox county.

Coal Shortage at Fairbury Averted by Confiscation

Fairbury, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—Fairbury experienced a coal famine last night that assumed rather grave proportions for a time. The city light and water plant was entirely out of coal and a number of tons were taken from various sources to keep the light going and furnish essential fire protection.
The shortage in city coal supply was caused by a coal famine at the Rock Island railroad yards. There was no coal to supply nearly 100 locomotives and the company was forced to confiscate several cars of commercial coal in order to keep the trains moving. An extra freight train from the west brought into the city several cars of coal that greatly relieved the situation. There is a scarcity of hard coal in this city.

While sitting beside her stove she fell asleep in her chair. The celluloid comb became ignited when it came into contact with the hot stove. The flames instantly leaped to her hair and clothing, and before she could extinguish the fire she was fatally burned about the head and neck. She had been a resident of the Black Hills for many years, and during the gold excitement in the Ragged Top district was for some time a resident of that district.

Judge Orders Investment Of Estate in Loan Bonds

Aurora, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Under the decree of Judge Corcoran of the district court, the funds from the sale of a quarter section of Hamilton county land has been invested in Liberty bonds. This land was the property of the late Levi D. Gaddis. His widow brought an action to partition the land, but she and the heirs could not agree as to the value of her homestead interest in it. In cases such as this, the law provides for the investment of the avails until the death of the widow, she to have the interest during her life. Judge Corcoran directed the clerk to buy Liberty bonds.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam McMullen, old residents of Wymore, have shown their patriotism by subscribing $20,000 for the second quota of Liberty bonds.
Through the efforts of a committee appointed by the Z. C. B. J. lodge of Odell, a Bohemian organization, the sum of $3,750 was subscribed by the Bohemians of that section for the bonds of the second Liberty loan.

Soldiers' Home Notes

Grand Island, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Donald Smith, a member of Burket since 1911, passed away on Sunday morning, at 9:30 o'clock, after a protracted illness, at the age of 64 years. He was a member of a Colorado Independent battalion for 18 months and was a native of Missouri. Arrangements for the funeral have not as yet been made.
There was no inspection on Sunday morning last as the condition of the weather would not permit a number of the members to stand outside for any length of time. It was announced at the Home Chapel that there would be an entertainment given at that place next Monday evening by Miss Firth's class of little people, who always welcome and receive a large audience at church.
Rev. Dungan, of Grand Island, had charge of the services at Burket Chapel last Sunday afternoon, and was at his best, in complying with the request of President Wilson to give a prayer for the success of the American arms in this war.

WINTER WHEAT ACREAGE SHORT

Vice Chairman Coupland of Defense Council Calls Attention of Nebraska Farmers to Crop Situation.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—The acreage of winter wheat will fall far below the normal, according to Vice Chairman Coupland of the State Council of Defense, who has been in conference with C. T. Neal of Omaha, government buyer for this state.
Mr. Coupland is anxious that farmers should understand the situation thoroughly and look after the conservation of the present supply of spring wheat scattered over the eastern and central portion of the state. There is a quantity of spring wheat in Omaha elevators, but it is essential that the wheat out in the state be saved so that it will not be shipped to Omaha and then have to be shipped back again.
Mr. Neal says the government will allow the farmers 15 per cent above the government price if they will hold the seed wheat until it is needed, and Mr. Coupland is anxious that all parties out in the state who have spring wheat good for seeding purposes, should at once notify the State Council of Defense, so that when the time comes to sow wheat that parties wanting it may know where it can be had.

Warden Fenton Called "Indiscreet" by Mayfield

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
Lincoln, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—The state constitution is "out of date," the statutes are "unworkable" and now insubordination is declared to be "indiscreetness" under the present democratic regime in this state.

A few days ago Commissioner Mayfield had occasion to say that some of the superintendents of state institutions were not handling the crop situation rightly. Taking the charge as being aimed at him, Warden Fenton of the state penitentiary, has charged that the commissioner had "been in his bonnet."
The remark of Fenton aimed at his superior today was declared by Commissioner Mayfield to be simply an "indiscreet remark." The trouble came over a shortage of coal at some of the institutions and the commissioner charged that the superintendents had not handled the situation well.
It is said that the arrangement under which E. E. Howell of Omaha was to furnish coal to the institutions is not panning out very satisfactorily and Warden Fenton has been compelled to go on the open market and buy two cars of coal to keep his institution going.
It is intimated that the warden may be called on the carpet and be required to state specifications just how many bees Commissioner Mayfield may have had in his bonnet at the time the charge was made.

N. Y. Movie Theaters Employ Extra Help To Collect War Tax

New York, Nov. 1.—The war tax on theater tickets, effective throughout the country today, has necessitated the employment of many additional clerks in New York theaters to collect the tax. At one of the leading theaters where the patronage by children is unusually large, 12 extra persons have been hired to regulate the complex matter of the children's tax.
Children under 12 will be taxed 1 cent on all tickets, instead of 10 per cent on the value, and two methods of collecting this tax will be employed. In some cases children will be given a rebate ticket entitling them to a refund, and in others tickets will be stamped in a way that will identify them at once.

WINEINGER GOES TO PRISON FOR LIFE

Warrant for Arrest of Mrs. Goold as His Accomplice in Slaying of Her Husband Also Served.

St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 1.—Charles F. Wineinger, who confessed that he murdered William C. Goold, his former business partner, last Friday, pleaded guilty in the criminal court today and was sentenced to the penitentiary for life. Wineinger placed all his property, valued at several thousand dollars, in trust for Goold's four children.

Mrs. Maud S. Goold this morning was formally charged with having been an accomplice of Charles F. Wineinger in the murder of her husband, William C. Goold, proprietor of the Worth-White garage, early Friday morning.

A warrant charging Mrs. Goold with being an accessory to the crime was issued today. Wineinger is charged with murder in the first degree in a warrant issued after his confession.
In Wineinger's confession he tried every way to shield Mrs. Goold, the police say, and his chief aim appeared to be to give the impression that she had nothing to do with the murder.
However, from her own statements and from the actions of Wineinger and Mrs. Goold preceding the murder, as learned by the police from letters that passed between the two, the police believe Mrs. Goold knew beforehand the killing of her husband was contemplated and actually had a part in the arrangements for his murder.

Hastings Cigarmakers Threaten to Walk Out

Hastings, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—The cigarmakers of the principal wholesale factories here today demanded a wage increase of $1 per thousand for men and $1.50 for girls, making the scale $8 for men and $7.50 for girls. Unless the scale is granted the workers say they will walk out at 1 o'clock tomorrow.
The claim is made by all workers on 5-cent goods, and the walkout, if it occurs, may also involve workers on better grades. Hastings is the largest cigar manufacturing point in the country west of the Missouri and the entire wholesale output is threatened. The employers say it is impossible to grant the increase without raising the price to a 6-cent retail basis.

GERMAN AIRMEN FAIL IN LATEST RAID ON LONDON

Thirty Machines in Attack Which Does Little Damage Are Driven Off; Take Refuge in Clouds.

London, Nov. 1.—Eight persons were killed and 21 others were injured in the German air raid last night, according to an official statement issued today by the British war department.

London, Nov. 1.—About 30 airplanes in seven groups took part in last night's air raid. Three of them penetrated to the heart of London, says an official report today. The casualties and damage were slight.

A report from Lord French, commander of the home defenses, says the German aviators took advantage of the clouds to prevent any decisive engagements.

Bombs Are Dropped.

The first group of air raiders dropped bombs near the coast. Two large groups were broken up by a barrage on the southeastern outskirts of the metropolis. The fourth group was turned back by the Thames half way to London.

Of the fifth group one or more airplanes penetrated southeastern London. Some of the sixth group reached the southeastern part of the city. The seventh group was dispersed before it reached the outer defenses of the city.

The official announcement follows: "Determined and repeated attacks were made upon London last night by groups of hostile aircraft. The first group of raiders crossed the Kentish coast at about 10:40 p. m. and proceeded toward London over Kent. They did not penetrate far inland, however, but turned in an easterly direction and dropped bombs at various places near the coast.
"Sky Covered by Clouds.
"Meanwhile two more groups of raiders were steering toward London along the south bank of the Thames. The sky was half covered with thin, low clouds, which rendered extremely difficult observation of the enemy machines. Nonetheless, the altitude was correctly measured and they were broken up by barrage fire on the southeastern skirts of the metropolitan area at about 11:50 p. m., where some bombs were dropped.
"The fourth group of machines, which came along the Thames estuary, was turned back about half way to London. Meanwhile the fifth group crossed the Essex coast at about 12:15 a. m. and steered toward London by way of the north bank of the Thames. Some of these raiders were turned back by the outer defenses, but one or more penetrated into southeast London, where bombs were dropped.
"Dispersed by Gunfire.
"The sixth group followed along the same course about a quarter of an hour later. Some of these machines penetrated into the southeast outskirts of London, where some bombs were dropped.
"Meanwhile one or more enemy machines dropped bombs in the southwestern outskirts of London. The seventh group, which approached along the south bank of the Thames, was dispersed by gunfire before reaching the outer London defenses.

"In addition, individual raiders attacked the Kentish coast between midnight and 1:30 o'clock. Reports indicate that each group consisted of three or four machines, the total number of raiders engaged being about 30. Of this total only about three machines succeeded in actually penetrating into the heart of London.

"The raiders were harassed by our gunfire during the whole of their flight and were also attacked by our aircraft. The facility with which they were able to escape observation by taking advantage of the clouds prevented any decisive engagement.
"Full reports have not yet been received, but those already furnished point to comparatively light casualties and damage, considering the number of machines and the determined nature of the attack."

NORRIS WILL RUN FOR U. S. SENATOR

Present Nebraska Incumbent Announces to Friends That He Has All Along Intended to Make Race.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—George W. Norris will be a candidate for renomination for the United States senate. He says so himself and that should settle the matter.

For some time rumors have been coming from Washington that the Nebraska senator from McCook would not be a candidate, but would retire from public life and open a law office in Washington or New York.
Senator Norris promptly squelched the matter today by saying he never had any other intention but to be a candidate for re-nomination.

The senator called at the state house today to pay his respects to Governor Neville. He appeared to be deeply interested to learn when the governor would go to war and when Lieutenant Governor Howard would be on the job.
He had heard, a rumor, so it is said, that Mr. Howard had alleged the next United States senator would be called "Senator Howard," and it is presumed his interest in the contemplated change in the governorship was due to the fact that he had some doubts as to Mr. Howard's reliability as a prophet.

Aurora School Election.
Aurora, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—At a school election to be held next Tuesday, the Board of Education is asking the people to state whether they want two buildings on the far sides of the town or a single building centrally located. The board had decided to build one eight-room fire-proof building in a central location, but they were waited upon by a committee and asked to build two four-room buildings to the western and eastern parts of the city. To do this, the board had to have $15,000 more money. If the additional bonds are voted next Tuesday, two buildings will be constructed.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.
By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.
You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

Not "meatless" or "wheatless" but "chargeless," "deliveryless" and "high rentless"

Mr. Hoover has just told us to go "wheatless" on Wednesday and "meatless" on Tuesday. By so doing we shall save a great measure of our staples for Our Allies. This store follows the spirit of that order. Every day in every week we go "chargeless" and "deliveryless" and "high rentless." By so doing we save a vast amount of expense for our customers—enough to allow us to add $5 or $10 to our values.

Made To Order

There is no extravagance in this store. There is no waste. There is no desire to indulge in costly policies that pile up expense to be added to the customer's purchase price. We don't believe it fair to carry accounts and assess our customers with the losses. Why deliver purchases when the customer has to pay dearly for the service? Why pay a high rent that lowers value? We want our customers to spend their money only for clothing and not to defray our expenses.

We're succeeding. Every day's sales show an increase. Every customer who buys unconsciously influences his friends to come here. The clothes themselves act as arguments. Every suit or overcoat is tailored by hand. Every fabric is as true and worthy and excellent as though the nation weren't facing a wool shortage. The clothes simply "can't be beat." They are the kind of clothes you should wear. You actually save $5 and $10 on them.
