POLITICIANS PUT ON NEWSPAPER GRILL

Clever Impersonation of Governor Neville and Many Other Novelties at Fryingpan Banquet.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 6.—(Special).—A new possibility for governor was discovered at the first annual session of the state house Frying Pan club when Frank E. Helvey, a Lincoln newspaper man of many capabilities, impersonated Governor Keith Neville so completely that the real governor was obliged to pinch himself several times to convince himself that he was actually the real article. "Seeing himself as others see him," however, appeared to amuse the executive greatly and he enjoyed the little "skit" pulled off by the newspaper man very much.

The "skit" was the hit of the evening and represented the late experiences of the governor when trying to go to war at the head of the Sixth regiment and his interview with Arthur Mullen and Senator Hitchcock, who protested against his leaving the state to the tender mercies of Lieutenant Governor Howard, who was also present.

Boy Scouts Assist. Three Boy Scouts represented the Sixth, Seventh and Colonel Hall, while T. C. Palmer represented the "109th U. S. A.," which finally gathered in the Sixth regiment and left Colonel Hall with nothing but his commission. Arthur Mullen was represented by J. F. Webster and Senator Hitchcock by P. A. Barrows.

Vigorous protests against the governor accepting a commission as colonel of the "Dandy Sixth" made by "Arthur Mullen and Senator Hitchcock" and the likewise vigorous protests given by the "governor" who he wanted to go to war made a big hit. The "governor" finally succumbed to the arguments of Mullen and the senator and commissioned Phil Hall as colonel, but in the second attempt when the "governor" put his foot down and said he would go at the head of the "Lucky Seventh," in spite of protests, the national committee and the senator conspired themselves by saying they didn't believe the Seventh would ever be called away, and submitted as gracefully as possible, while the "Lucky Seventh" was escorted to a big chair on which was displayed a big card inscribed "Waiting."

Mayfield Toastmaster. Forty-three newspapermen and their wives with the guests were present. The banquet was a fine affair, although nothing was attempted in the way of an elaborate menu because of the present conservation campaign. "Toastmaster" Mayfield was several times "up in the air" because of interruptions in the program made by some of the members present. The "Highcockalorum" quartet composed of George Foxworth, Lee Mercalle, Will Maupin and "Governor" Frank Helvey, furnished music of a more or less musical character, while Henry Richmond forgot the subject of his toast, "Why I am a Statesman," and said other things. Fred Ayers, dictator of the club, was present with a more or less visible supply of dictations, some of which went and others did not.

Injuries Received in Auto Crash Prove Fatal. Kearney, Neb., Nov. 6.—(Special).—Arch Lindquist, 20 years old, was fatally injured in an auto accident near Holdrege Friday evening. He died from his injuries yesterday. Lindquist, whose first car was stolen at the Buffalo county fair here last fall, came to Kearney Friday afternoon to get a new machine and he was enroute home with this car when injured. Crossing the railroad tracks just east of Holdrege he lost control of the car and it turned turtle in a ditch. The injured man managed to crawl out from the wreckage and when found, was wandering about dazed. He was rushed to Holdrege and medical attention given, but internal injuries which had developed proved fatal. The young man resided on a farm near Funk.

H. Bird, Overton liverman, had a close call from death Sunday evening, while attempting a crossing of the Union Pacific tracks near Elm Creek. He noticed a fast freight approaching and realizing that he could not cross ahead of the train he applied the brakes. The latter refused to work and the car slid on the track, stalling directly in front of the train. The auto was wrecked and Bird was dragged a considerable distance. His left hand was smashed and he suffered bruises about the body. It is also feared that he was internally injured.

Father and Son Both Flying for Uncle Sam in War With Kaiser

Two generations of flyers are very rare in the history of world warfare, but the United States has at least one example of such. Lieutenant F. A. Post at Fort Omaha and his son, Leo Post, at the aviation school in San Diego, are the unusual pair. Lieutenant Post flew the first sausage balloon ever used in war, at the beginning of the Russo-Japanese war.

He manufactured and managed it himself and it was used in naval operations in Vladivostok when the Japanese had mined the bay to prevent Russian ships from joining the fleet at Port Arthur. Now Lieutenant Post, who was a colonel in Russia and is booked for promotion here, is an American citizen and teaching soldiers at Fort Omaha to fly balloons.

His son, Leo, was 8 years old when his father was flying balloons for Russia. He used to go up with him when the danger was such that he was in his blood. He is now a commissioned aviator in San Diego and flies airplanes.

HOSPITALS MAY GET CONTRABAND BOOZE

Attorney General Says Procedure Not Specified, But He Would Not Prosecute in Such Case.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 6.—(Special Telegram).—Attorney General Reed is of the opinion that perfectly good alcohol should not be turned down the sewer if it can be utilized by hospitals in their work. The proposition was put up to him yesterday by the Methodist Hospital of Omaha which had made application to chief of police Dunn for some whiskey and alcohol seized by him in raids. The chief is willing to turn it over to the hospitals of Omaha if he can do so without getting into trouble.

Mr. Reed feels that while no provision was made in the law covering the point that probably no one would object to the alcohol being put to good use if needed by hospitals. In any event he would not feel like prosecuting a case of this kind and believes the court could order such a disposal of the alcohol.

Dandruff Soon Ruins The Hair Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't. It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it. You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Advertisement.
