

SIX-YEAR-OLD BOY IS SHOT BY PLAYMATE

Herman Mahr Lies in Dangerous Condition From Wound in Abdomen Caused by Careless Shooting.

Herman Mahr, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mahr, 1951 South Twenty-first street, who was shot through the abdomen Thursday afternoon by Leroy Lewis, his playmate, is in dangerous condition at his home. The wound has been infected.

The boys were out in a neighboring lot "shooting rabbits," as Leroy says, and Herman was accidentally hit by the bullet. Young Lewis, who did the shooting, has been arrested.

Files Complaint.

Mrs. Mahr, mother of the wounded boy, filed a complaint with Juvenile Probation Officer Miller this morning. She says that grown men as well as young men and boys have been shooting with high-powered rifles at tin cans and targets on the vacant lots and in the alleys in this neighborhood and are a constant menace.

"Herman is suffering a great deal of pain and the doctors don't seem to know whether the wound will prove fatal," she said in Mr. Miller's office this morning. "I wanted to tell you about the way they are shooting down there so that some other mother's boy will not be shot and maybe killed."

one said Lincoln could not furnish hotel accommodations and with great deliberation "True" remarked: "I just want to testify to the fact that I myself slept on the streets two nights the last time I attended a teachers' meeting in Lincoln because I could not get a room."

The proposed amendment, together with an amendment seeking to federate the teachers of the state, will be voted on by the teachers by mail when the regular election takes place in 30 days. It will require a vote of two-thirds of the teachers to carry the amendments.

Following are the resolutions adopted at the close of the business session:

We, the members of the Nebraska State Teachers' association, desire to express our appreciation of the hospitality to us by the citizens of Omaha and its Commercial club; for the assistance of Superintendent Beveridge of the Omaha schools, of Mr. Parrish of the Public Bureau, and the various committees in contributing to the success of the association; and we especially desire to commend Miss Martha Powell, the president of the association, who by her perseverance and untiring efforts has made the meeting just closing one of the most successful in the history of the association.

In the great world crisis which now impends we recognize the necessity of utilizing every resource that justice may prevail.

Resolved, that we deem it a patriotic duty to maintain our schools at the highest degree of efficiency, and in order to do this expenditures should be increased. We urge that our school be used in every practical way to assist in conserving our national resources and our food supply.

Resolved, that we favor a vigorous prosecution of the war to the end that it result in our president's ideal of a league of nations, which shall minimize the possibility of wars in the future.

city of the structure today. No other place in the city except at the Smolny institute where the new government has established headquarters and which was the scene of unusual activity for this reason, had the new revolution let its mark.

Even the winter palace carried no marks of last night's battle which a coat of paint and new window panes would not hide from casual observation. A close inspection of the river front facade was prevented by the sailor guards posted on the palace. From the nearby palace bridge it could be plainly seen that the heavy guns of the cruiser which bombarded the palace had done virtually no damage.

Bullet Holes in Windows.

On the landside however, facing the circle from which rises the gigantic pillar of victory and which is flanked by the arc on which front the foreign office staff buildings there is plentiful evidence of the work done by the machine guns and rifles during the struggle. The red walls are specked with white discs, marking the hits. Scarcely a window pane is without its cleancut bullet holes.

Throughout all of today the Palace circle and the surrounding streets were thronged with joking, laughing crowds.

Usual Throngs of Populace. One Nevsky Prospect, where yesterday there were machine guns and armored cars and infantry behind wooded barricades, today were to be seen only the usual throngs of the populace and there was no excitement among them.

Soldiers, grave but cheerful were assuming control of various districts. They sat in barracks at the committee room listening to complaints and issuing passes. The fusillades of rifles and the clattering of machine guns, with the occasional boom of cannon from the fortress or a cruiser which had continued from early last night, until the palace surrounded had been supplanted by the laughter and shouts of school boys dismissed from classes and playing in the Plazas.

The congress of soldiers and workmen's delegates today appealed to the Russian army to stand firm and to protect the revolution against imperialistic attempts until the new government had obtained a democratic peace.

Palace Takes Offensive.

"The fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul did not take aggressive steps against the provisional government until fire was opened on the fortress from the winter palace," said a lieutenant at the fortress. "This was about 8 o'clock in the evening. No harm was done us, but the bullets whizzed past the outer works of the fortress."

"We gave one short volley from a machine gun in the direction of the palace. As the firing continued, sailors from the cruisers placed guns on the shore and fired three rounds of shrapnel into the air above the palace. After the shooting from the palace stopped, the commander of the Preobrajensky regiment telephoned the fortress to cease firing, as the palace wished to surrender, and desired to know the conditions.

Must Give Up Arms.

"The answer was given," continued the lieutenant, "that the conditions were surrender and the giving up of arms. At 10 o'clock in the evening, however, the palace fired on the batteries of sailors on the shore. The fortress was only on the defensive throughout. It made no offensive move."

The lieutenant said the Woman's battalion was among the defenders of the palace, but surrendered before the battle began.

Prepare for New Attack.

The correspondent was received at the fortress in a small room filled with soldiers who, with the commander were transacting affairs in a business-like manner. The armored cars which took part in last night's battle were being overhauled by mechanics and made ready to fight again if necessary.

Minister in Confinement.

Regarding the treatment of the cabinet ministers who were arrested at the Winter palace after the surrender, the commissioner at the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul said:

"All the cabinet ministers under arrest are in solitary confinement in the Troubetsky bastion. They may receive letters and papers and any kind of literature. They are allowed to write letters, but will not be allowed to see anyone until the inquiry has taken place. They are permitted to have their own clothing and everything belonging to them except their weapons. They are provided with good food."

The Troubetsky bastion is one of the towers inside the walls of the fortress.

Busy Scene at Headquarters.

London, Nov. 9.—Scenes in and about the Smolny institute, the headquarters of the workmen's and soldiers' organization in Petrograd, and of the revolutionary committee, are described in a Reuter dispatch dated Thursday at the Russian capital, as follows:

"The Smolny institute presents a scene of extraordinary animation. There is a perpetual coming and going of representatives from the provinces participating in the congress, delegates on the way to convey orders to the soldiers, sailors and militia and the Red Guard. A strong armed guard occupies the interior and surrounds the building, while several armored motor cars bearing anti-aircraft guns are stationed in adjacent streets to insure protection to the headquarters."

"The gardens around the institute are filled with motor cars with which to carry the delegates around the town. Nicolai Lenine, accompanied by his lieutenant, Zinovieff, received an enthusiastic reception on his arrival. They were scarcely recognized, Lenine having shaved off his moustache and Zinovieff having grown a beard."

"From the institute the revolutionary committee is issuing order after order for the occupation of railway stations and government institutions. The orders are promptly obeyed by the troops and the Red Guard. Detachments of sailors are arriving from Kronstadt, while a cruiser and two torpedo boats are anchored in the river near the Nicholas bridge."

Face, Ears and Neck All One Eruption. Would Lie Awake Nights. Cuticura Healed. Cost $1.25.

"My little boy had eruptions on his chin, and in six weeks his whole face, ears, and neck were all one eruption. The breaking out was in pimples and itched so that he would scratch till it bled, and he would lie awake nights. His eyes were pretty nearly closed, and the eruptions later went down his back."

"I read about Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. When it was gone I noticed a change, so I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, and he was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. E. Westendorf, R. F. D. 6, Waverly, Iowa.

It is easier to prevent skin troubles than to heal them. Clear the pores and keep them clear by using Cuticura Soap for every-day toilet purposes and touches of Ointment as needed.

the Russian revolution had been finished made a mistake," said M. Maklakof, the Russian ambassador, in an interview which appears in the Petit Parisien. "Alas, now the blood of our people will flow again in the streets of Petrograd."

"But, however sad may be the advent to power of the Maximalists, in my opinion it is the supreme effort of the Maximalists. This desperate attempt, this daring stroke, can be only the signal for their downfall and organization of the revolution in a national and patriotic sense, which is bound to assure victory against enemies both within and without."

"Russia as a whole is about to rally around a national government and form for it a rampart of flesh and blood. A radical surgical operation was perhaps necessary after the misunderstanding caused by General Korniloff's move, in order to assure the salvation of immortal Russia."

London, Nov. 9.—Reuters correspondent at Petrograd says a telegram from Katian announces that the General Arhipoff, commander of the troops has been arrested and that the military cadets with their armored cars have surrendered to the revolutionists.

London, Nov. 9.—A meeting of the allied representatives in Petrograd was held at the British embassy where measures to ensure the safety of their nationals were discussed says a Reuter dispatch from Petrograd today.

Militants Forced Too Eat too Much In Jail is Claim

Washington, Nov. 9.—The hunger strike of woman's party militants in the jail here has resolved itself into a dispute over whether the women were fed forcibly or whether they took food willingly.

Today woman's party headquarters announced Alice Paul, the leader, had been forcibly fed three times since yesterday afternoon and that Rose Winslow, her companion, had been forcibly fed twice. Feeding Miss Paul three times in a little more than 12 hours, the leaders contended, was unnecessary and inhuman.

Superintendent Zinkham of the jail freely admitted that Miss Paul had been fed three times, but denied that it had been done forcibly.

"There was no forced feeding," said Dr. J. A. Gannon, the jail physician. "These women took the food without resistance and merely want to advertise themselves by saying they have been fed forcibly. Miss Paul's condition is not critical; it is not even serious. She is doing well."

Woman's party headquarters, however, declared that Miss Paul will die if the jail authorities continue to feed her "forcibly."

Unemployment Prospects For Winter Being Studied

Washington, Nov. 9.—Prospects of unemployment in various sections of the country this winter are being studied by the Council of National Defense, with a view to distribution of workmen and contracts so as to cause a minimum of distress. It was said today that there was likely to be unemployment in those districts having industries manufacturing non-essentials which require large supplies of raw materials and make great demand on the country's transportation system.

Hotel Makes Its Own Honey; Guest Is Stung

Storm Lake, Ia., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—When a guest at a hotel here complained of being "stung" his room was searched and a hive of bees and 85 pounds of honey was discovered under the flooring. Searchers received many stings. An electrician had left out a brick when the hotel was erected and the bees had entered and hived between the beams.
