Hearts of Russian People Not With Extreme Radicals

San Francisco, Nov. 10.—Kerensky had for a long time been losing his popularity with certain elements of the Russian people and his failure to supply the military forces a needed authoritative head contributed further to his difficulties. William B. Carnes, who left his post at the United States consulate at Moscow on September 18, said here tonight.

Mr. Carnes, who is on his way to Washington, added that at the time he left, the American embassy was already packing up at Petrograd, so as to be ready to move to Moscow.

"Despite the turn events have taken, I do not believe the Russian people will make a separate peace," Mr. Carnes continued. "Even if the extreme radicals get into power, they will not stay in for long, because the hearts of the Russian people are not with them. The people will want to continue the war as soon as internal affairs are adjusted."

"While I do not believe the Russian people would make a separate peace we must not expect any material aid from them for some time owing to the demoralized condition of their government."

"In the long run the present events in Petrograd may not prove a bad thing for the allies. They may clear the way for a better and firmer government."

DARKEN SIGNS TO SAVE NATION'S FUEL

Government Issues Order Limiting Use of Coal for Electric Display Advertising to Specified Hours.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, Nov. 10.—The government's first move towards eliminating nonessential industries to save coal was made tonight in an order by the fuel administrator limiting the use of fuel for electric display advertising to the hours between 7:45 and 11 o'clock p. m. A score of other industries will be affected by similar orders that will be issued as soon as a complete classification is made.

By the realization that coal production cannot keep pace with the present rate of consumption the fuel administration is ready if necessary to guarantee supplies only for domestic users and industries either necessary in the conduct of the war or vital to the public.

Save 50 Per Cent.

It is estimated that the limiting of electric advertising to three and a quarter hours each night will save 50 per cent of the fuel now used in maintaining the signs that light Broadway in New York City and hundreds of less famous thoroughfares in towns throughout the country. In a statement accompanying today's order the intimation is carried that it may become necessary to eliminate electric signs altogether.

Exception was made in the order for signs maintained by small merchants for the purpose of directing the public to their places of business. If these are not of unreasonable size they will be permitted to continue lighted while the establishments are open for business, but must be dark with the closing of shops.

Experts say that about 250,000 tons of coal are used annually for the operation of display signs. This amount, it is estimated, would keep 100,000 families warm during the winter months.

Gas Men Approve.

A committee of gas and electric service companies co-operated with the fuel administration in framing the order and gave full approval to its provisions.

The fuel administration's plans for cutting down the supplies of coal to nonessential industries were outlined tonight by Fuel Administrator Garfield in this statement:

"Action will be taken in the immediate future in curtailing shipments to plants using coal in the manufacture of nonessentials. This will be undertaken by the curtailment, rather than by elimination in order that the general situation will be disturbed as little as possible. The improvement in transportation which must be accomplished, together with the curtailment of shipments to certain industries, will provide a sufficient amount of coal for railroads, munitions plants, public utilities and domestic requirements."

Reduce Freight Traffic.

"The transportation situation can be relieved only by reduction in the amount of freight the roads shall be called upon to handle. The reduction of coal shipments will accomplish this, in that it will remove from the rails the percentage of coal covered by such reduction and will accomplish a proportionate reduction in the amount of products to be removed as a result of such curtailment.

"The government's coal require-

"Dry" State First Aim Of N. Y. Women Voters

New York, Nov. 10.—A campaign to make New York "dry" through women's votes, is under way. Opponents of the liquor traffic announced today that at New Year's eve watch services in New York churches, women will sign petitions calling for a referendum on local option next April.

The law compels a referendum on local option upon petition of 25 per cent of the "qualified" voters. New York state women will become voters January 1.

ments have been provided and attention now is being given to various steel plants and other plants manufacturing government munitions and supplies. Supplies for public utilities are being provided on a permanent basis, as are domestic requirements. Special arrangements have been made to provide coal for shipbuilding plants, which will assure their operation on a full-time basis. The same applies to the airplane program."

Editor Proposes New Plan For Insurance of Soldiers

Aberdeen, S. D., Nov. 10.—(Special.)—A. E. Chamberlain of the Dakota Farmer has evolved a method of helping the soldiers and sailors to keep their lives insured for the benefit of their dependent relatives or families that is thought to be practicable. He has written President Wilson, Secretary of the war insurance board, Senators McMahon, Quartermaster General Crowder and others, suggesting that instead of the price of the insurance on the lives of soldiers and sailors being taken out of their pay, as the soldiers' and sailors' insurance law provides, American citizens be granted the privilege of keeping up such insurance. By the terms of the law $8 pays for $1,000 of life insurance for a soldier or sailor. Mr. Chamberlain himself expresses a desire to pay for at least $5,000 worth of insurance each for two soldiers, and he suggests that enough other Americans would be willing and even eager to do the same thing, to keep up the life insurance policies of every soldier and sailor in the service of the country, or at least of those who, for lack of means outside of their pay, might be hard put to it to spare the necessary amount from their pay.

Head Russ Baltic Fleet Says He Will Adhere to Kerensky

A Pacific Port, Nov. 10.—Admiral Klotzcheck, formal commander of the Russian Baltic fleet and head of a Russian naval commission that has been consulting in Washington with government officials for several weeks, said today that he and his fellow commissioners would in no case support the Lenin government, but would report to the government represented by Kerensky, on reaching Russia.

"I believe this is only another transitional event," he said in reference to the Petrograd revolution, "and think all right minded Russians will soon come to their senses."

The admiral added that he felt convinced that this was not the end of Kerensky's government, by any means.

JAP MISSION SAYS FAREWELL TO U. S.

Viscount Ishii, Head of Visiting Delegation From Nippon, Grateful for Courtesies Accorded Him.

A Pacific Port, Nov. 10.—A farewell statement expressing deep obligation to the nation was given to the Associated Press today by Viscount Kikujiro Ishii, in anticipation of his departure for Japan in company with the mission of which he was the head and which negotiated a new agreement regarding the far east. The statement said:

"The kindly welcome given by the Pacific coast to our mission has found most lavish endorsement and emphasis at every point we have visited in the United States. It only remains for me as the parting guest, to express through the Associated Press, our sincere and heartfelt gratitude to the whole people of this great country for the hospitality, the courtesy and the high consideration we have received."

"I do not underestimate the obligation under which we of Japan have been placed in the personal debt I owe to the president and people of the United States. We are prepared to meet that obligation to the limit of our ability and to maintain a friendship and confidence which is based and nurtured on good understanding and good neighborhood."

"We came with a firm belief in the broad and generous spirit of America. We leave with a sense of profound admiration for your splendid humanity and patriotism, coupled with your unwavering loyalty to the high principles of the cause to which we are mutually pledged."

Arrangements were made for an enthusiastic sendoff for the party by city officials and others who entertained them on their way east.

Government Fixes $6 Per Ton as Price on Coke

Washington, Nov. 10.—Coke prices for the entire country were fixed by the fuel administration today in a ruling confirming the price of $6 a ton, set by the war industries board for Connellsville coke, in an agreement with steel producers.

The order reads in part: "The maximum prices for coke, made in ovens, without by-product recovery, east of the Mississippi river, shall be: Blast furnace coke, $6; foundry coke, 72 hour selected, $7; crushed coke, over one inch size, $7.30. The maximum prices for various grades of beehive coke, made in districts other than that described heretofore, shall bear the same ratio to the established price of the coal from which the coke is made as the average contract prices of the same grade of coke had to the average contract prices of coal during the years 1912 and 1913."

Thief Couldn't Escape Keen Eyes of Waitress

Centerville, S. D., Nov. 10.—(Special.)—Miss Lola Coffield, an "attache" of a restaurant at Brookings, proved a detective of ability. Her keen eyes resulted in the recovery of a suitcase full of valuable clothing belonging to Miss Daisy Pierce of this city, which was stolen from an automobile in which the Pierce family several weeks ago made a journey to Brookings.

Miss Pierce sent a sample of the stolen goods to Miss Coffield. The other day a young woman walked into the restaurant wearing a dress which matched one of the samples. Miss Coffield notified the sheriff, who recovered from the young woman most of the stolen clothing.

The Conservatives "Let Well Enough Alone" Was Never Inscribed on the Banners of Progress

Who killed ambition? "I," said the conservative, "With my little preservative. I killed ambition."

Paraphrasing the nursery rhyme that relates the tragic fate of "Cock Robin" brings vividly to mind the fact that conservatism carried to extremes would stifle originality, and, therefore, world progress.

Conservatism is a brake—it says "go slow."

Conservatism is cowardly—it fears the possibility of making a mistake.

True, Triumph is often preceded by mistakes—but conservatism is a perpetual mistake.

To this day—respectable and respected Dentists of the "old school" are hammering gold fillings into tooth cavities, torturing their patients hour after hour—because they are not sure that the modern method of gold inlay is better.

Many well fed and well bred "private" dentists are charging $50 to $100 for plates (which they require a week to complete), which I turn out in a single day—for less than half their charges. Patients are either subjected to unnecessary pain—or given dangerous general anaesthetics—at a cost of $5 per tooth—because the Conservative Dentist has always been too conservative to investigate modern methods.

Had every Dentist been as much "afraid of the dark" as the class of gentry referred to, the perfection of my local anaesthetic would never have been attempted and the benefits of this safe and painless method of extracting teeth would have been lost to humanity.

I am always willing to be guided by "the lamp of experience," but I never did believe its rays were confined to the ruts—and I was ambitious enough to strike out for myself, and to learn newer and better ways of practicing dentistry which would enable me to give my patients more satisfactory work than they had heretofore had—and at prices within the reach of the family of the average working man.

Perhaps I may be called "radical," but I have also been successful—and my success has been due to and shared by the fair minded, wide-awake people who had had a surfeit of conservatism with its antiquated theories and expensive methods.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.
