

BREAD MAKING TO BE STANDARDIZED UNDER LICENSES

Bakers Must Keep Products Moving to Consumers Without Delays, Say the New Regulations.

Washington, Nov. 13.—General rules and regulations governing all licensees manufacturing bakery products under President Wilson's proclamation requiring every baker except those using less than 10 barrels of flour and meal monthly to take out a government license by December 10, announced by the food administration today. Both proclamations and regulations seek to standardize bread making, eliminate waste and reduce prices, force bakers to help consumers generally.

Hotels, clubs and other public places that serve bakery products of their own making must take out licenses if they exceed the 10-barrel limit, and penalty for doing business without license is $5,000 fine, two years imprisonment, or both.

No Re-Sales Allowed. Bakery licensees must keep products moving to the consumer in as direct line as practicable and without unreasonable delay. Re-sales within the same trade without reasonable justification, especially if tending to result in a higher market price to the retailer or consumer, "will be dealt with as unfair practice."

These things licensees must not do: Buy, contract for, sell, store or otherwise handle or deal in any food commodities to unreasonably increase the price or restrict supply of any article locally or generally monopolize commodities; destroy any bakery products; waste or willfully permit deterioration of products; accept returns of bread or other bakery products, make cash payments or allow credit to any retailer for any unsold bread or other bakery products, or exchange any of them for other bread or bakery products which he has sold.

Loaves of Specified Weight. Bread must be made and sold only in the specified weights or multiples of 16-ounce units, which must not run over 17 ounces, and 24-ounce units, which must not run over 25 1/2 ounces, in both cases net weights, wrapped, 12 hours after baking. Each unit of two or more loaves must conform to these weight requirements. Rolls must be in net weight from one to three ounces, but no rolls manufactured or offered for sale shall weigh, unwrapped, 12 hours after baking, less than one ounce or more than three ounces. These standards are to be determined by averaging weights of 25 loaves or five dozen rolls of each unit.

In mixing dough for bread or rolls on the unit basis of 196 pounds of any flour, meal or mixture, bakers must not use more than three pounds of cane or beet sugar, or in lieu of them, three and one-half pounds of corn sugar; nor more than six pounds of fresh milk from which butter fats have been extracted; nor use any shortening except not exceeding two pounds of compounds containing not more than 15 per cent of animal fats, or, instead, not more than two pounds of vegetable fats. Where sweetened condensed milk is used, its added sugar content shall be deducted from the net sugar added. Sugars or fats are not to be added to the dough during the baking process or to the bread or rolls, when baked.

Beatrice, Neb., Nov. 13.—(Special).—G. W. Walker, an old and well-to-do resident of Beatrice, was called upon the carpet last evening by the investigating committee having in charge the soliciting of funds for the Young Men's Christian association work funds for refusing to contribute to the cause and making alleged seditious statements relative to the work. After Mr. Walker had apologized and agreed to contribute to the fund, the committee left the question open and will wait a few days to see what action he will take. The committee is also investigating a number of other complaints having a disloyal tinge.

Nebraska CUT GERMAN BOOKS TO BREMERS' DOOR

Council of Defense Calls in Many Foreign Language Books Circulated at Government Expense.

Lincoln, Nov. 13.—The Nebraska State Council of Defense today unanimously adopted a resolution asserting the belief of the council that the circulation of German language traveling libraries, circulated by authority of the state of Nebraska and at its expense, should be discontinued during the war with Germany. The council also requested the state library committee to have all such libraries within its control immediately called in and withdrawn from circulation. There are at present about 30 such libraries, comprising about 1,200 books, printed in the German language, circulating in Nebraska.

The Council of Defense in the resolution adopted asserted its belief that the use of the German language, written and spoken, had served as an instrument in carrying on disloyal propaganda and had influenced many German people in this state to withhold their support from the government of the United States. A few German libraries have been loaned to certain districts of Iowa at different times, where the population was of German descent.

Charges Are Heard by State Defense Council
(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Nov. 13.—(Special).—Very few days pass now that the State Council of Defense is not called upon to order upon the carpet one or more citizens who have been reported as disloyal.

Today the council held its weekly session. Some men, it is understood, when called before the tribunal show a very contrite spirit and allege that they did not really mean all they said or did not say all that it was reported they had said. If they show indications that they were not really bad they are let go with a lecture.

On the other hand, if it is shown that remarks made were intended to be of a disloyal nature, they are turned over to the federal authorities. Disposition of their cases is not made public.

When he picked up he was still in his seat beside the engine. Domenjos' neck was broken and his skull crushed. He was making his first flight here, having contracted to go up twice daily for the rest of the week as one of the attractions for the Holdrege trade week.

Domenjos was a single man and he has no relatives in this country.

The spokesman proceeded to nail the emblem to the side of the door, ignoring the protests of Bremers, who told his callers he did not want the walls of his home marred. Bremers is known to be decidedly pro-German in his views and talk.

Both trainmen, who were also scalded, were taken to a Hot Springs, S. D., hospital.

The boiler of the engine was hurled 200 feet and stripped of all casing, pieces of the wreckage being picked up 500 feet from the scene of the explosion. The train was running light.

I. W. W. RAIDED; 64 MEN TAKEN IN BY POLICE

like a crowd of school boys on a lark.

The arrested men claim residence in all parts of the United States. Some of the cities represented by "delegates" are Houston, Indianapolis, Chicago, Lafayette, Ind.; McCloskey, N. D.; Portland, Ore.; Denver, Los Angeles and San Francisco. About $250 in money was found on the men when searched at the station.

A bottle of carbolic acid was taken from one prisoner.

Members are Strangers.

Most of the members of the organization who were rounded up are said by the police to be strangers who responded to the call for a convention to be held in Omaha.

A meeting and smoker were to have been held Tuesday night at the hall. The delegates, who began coming to Omaha on Sunday, paid 50 cents membership dues and an admittance to the smoker, which was advertised as "some smoket."

The lone woman gave her name as Mrs. Elmer Busse. She was distributing refreshments when the raid was made. She is 25 years of age.

The Industrial Workers of the World sang merrily and blithely when booked at the police station and assigned to their quarters. One group sang "The H— De We Care?" and another coterie joined in "Over There." Others sang various airs, making the ensemble musical effect disquieting for the other occupants of the jail.

Chief Dunn and federal authorities have been watching the local Industrial Workers of the World situation carefully since the first information of the proposed convention was received. This afternoon's raid was carefully arranged.

The police state that publicity given the Industrial Workers of the World since last Saturday caused many to leave Omaha after coming in for the convention.

Federal authorities have instructed the police to hold the men until each has been carefully investigated.

Chief Dunn has the confidence of two men who mixed with the I. W. W. delegates on Monday.

"There are probably not more than 75 strangers who responded to the call to come to Omaha," declared the chief of police.

"I believe that the publicity given this affair and the reports of the reception given the I. W. W. at Tulsa had the effect of making most of these men think twice before they attempted to establish the proposed headquarters in Omaha," said Mayor Dahlman. The last report of Chief Dunn to the mayor was that comparatively few I. W. W.'s had arrived for the convention.

Several women residing in Georgia avenue, in the Hanscom park district, telephoned The Bee and the police to report that since Monday morning several men made the rounds of kitchen doors, begging for food.

"Couldn't we people of Omaha follow the fine example of the Oklahoma vigilantes who tarred and feathered them?" asked one woman who said she lived in Georgia avenue, but who declined to give her name. She said she would telephone the mayor.

"I would be willing to apply the tar," three husky men have been at my back door during the last two days, asking for something to eat, and we women are getting tired of it," declared another woman.

These women appeared indignant over what they believed to have been the failure of the police to rid their section of the city of undesirable.

Women Do Men's Work.

"The great army of women filling men's places as they leave desks, benches and machines to answer the nation's call must be considered. Long hours, poor pay, ill-ventilated shops and offices will so break down the health of the American women, the mothers of tomorrow, that the future of our nation will become even a graver problem than the one which faces us today," she said.

The drive for funds to build "community houses," which will follow the Young Men's Christian association campaign, was explained by Mrs. Barkley. These houses, which correspond to the Young Men's Christian association huts in the camps, will be built in neighboring towns where the soldiers spend their leisure time. Reading rooms, pool rooms and places where social affairs and dances may be given will be provided in these community houses. While the

SAFEGUARD WOMEN IN WORK OF WAR

Mrs. Barkley of Women's State Council of Defense Emphasizes This Branch of Public's Duty.

"We must safeguard women and children," Mrs. W. E. Barkley of Lincoln, first vice president of the women's committee, State Council of Defense, emphasized in her talk before the Omaha Daughters of the American Revolution at the Fontenelle Tuesday afternoon.

The crime of making the children feel the burden of the war was set forth by Mrs. Barkley. "While men and women must conserve, children must have the best and most nourishing food to be had. Women must unite so that the long arm of commercial greed may not snatch children from the schools for work in factories and on farms while the nation is at war," she warned.

More Men on Hand Than Needed Now To Husk Corn
(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Nov. 13.—(Special).—The state employment bureau at the capitol building at Lincoln says the demand for corn huskers has fallen off considerably during the last few days. Many farmers have had to stop husking on account of the corn being too green to crib. It will be about December 1 before husking can be resumed on a large scale.

The bureau is advising men from other states desiring work husking corn to make arrangements in advance in order that none may be disappointed when they get here.

DISCOVERS HORSE LINIMENT RELIEVES RHEUMATISM

Dr. Gatchell's G & G Nerve and Bone Liniment Fast Growing into Prominence For Human Use.

Horse liniment for aches and pains of the human family, in a sense of the word, sounds out of place, but nevertheless it is fast growing into favor as a human remedy for rheumatism, sprains, etc. One would judge from the name that it is a thick, ill-smelling oil concoction, but this opinion must be discarded as G & G Nerve and Bone Liniment is composed largely of alcohol and is as clean as any toilet preparation, yet has the warm, soothing effects which are necessary to relieve pain in animals in a short and speedy manner, without the usual blistering and general annoyance which comes from the use of other oil preparations. All first class druggists sell this wonderful liniment in 50c and $1.00 size bottles.—Adv.
