Thanksgiving Linen Sale

An Event of Great Importance

There is every likelihood that in three or four months all Linen imports from Europe will be cut off. It is not only for Thanksgiving, therefore, but for your future needs as well, that this sale affords opportunities that may never be repeated.

The business of this great store is to help our customers over the difficult places, and in this instance, we are proud to say that our foresight will enable you to buy Linens here for Thanksgiving at prices which would be impossible if we had to go into the market right now to buy them. There is fine opportunity for you to save the difference between the prices that would prevail if we were to meet present market conditions and the prices you are asked to pay here because of our preparation and foresight.
