LARGE SHOPPING BAGS ARE VIEWED WITH SUSPICION

Receptacles Carried by Women the Vehicles Used by Shoplifters in Carrying on Work in Stores.

Increasing thefts from the stores have placed under suspicion the large shopping bags carried by many women. Store managers who have traced some thefts to this source say the situation is serious. These receptacles must be checked at the doors of large stores of Denver, Chicago, New York and other cities, and a large store in Lincoln has just adopted the plan. No concerted action has been taken by Omaha retailers, but clerks have been instructed to keep a watchful eye on women who carry these bags. They explain that the innocent and guilty are under the same ban and suggest that women might escape this suspicion by leaving these bags at home when they go shopping.

One Store Hard Hit. During the last two weeks one Omaha store lost three fine dresses, valued at $85, $60 and $50, respectively; several expensive men's shirts, a man's fancy vest and other articles. The dresses were all of light blue shade and were of the party style.

This same store missed a woman's hat of large proportions. Reports from other stores indicate that these knitting bags lend themselves readily to the operations of shoplifters who seem to be gathering in a harvest, and with the busy season coming on the merchants are wondering whether they should not adopt the plan of other cities.

This Woman Was Wise. "I observed a woman come into our store," said a manager. "She carried one of these bags with an arrangement which permitted of opening and closing the bag with unusual ease. I detailed two clerks to observe her while she tumbled over some blouses. She held the blouses over the opening of the bag, but evidently she was wise to the scrutiny of the clerks, as she did not attempt to steal anything." A woman's two-piece suit was reported taken from another store. "In view of these conditions I am sure that sensible women will see the wisdom of not carrying these bags into the crowded stores, particularly at this season of the year when shopping is increasing and will increase during the next six weeks," stated a manager.

To Move Office of Tire Plant to Omaha First. The business office of the Britton Manufacturing company of Brookings, S. D., is soon to be established in Omaha in advance of the plant itself, which is to be moved here for the manufacture of rubber tires. O. A. Britton, president of the company, was in Omaha recently making arrangements for a business office here and getting things in shape to move. The site for the rubber tire factory will be selected after the business office is moved here.

WAR FUND DRIVE OF KNIGHTS IS WELL UNDER WAY

Officially the drive that is to be made by the Knights of Columbus to raise $150,000 to be applied to the war fund, state and national, does not start until noon today, at a public luncheon at the Commercial club. However, as a matter of fact, the drive started Sunday and was given considerable impetus. At all of the Omaha Catholic churches Sunday, the priests stated what the Knights of Columbus propose to do and then made appeals for pledges. As a result, a number of good sized contributions were made, in addition to hundreds of smaller ones. No tabulations were made Sunday, but at the public luncheon today the totals will be announced, as well as the amounts pledged by each of the churches. Indications are that the attendance at the luncheon will be very large, many of the business men of the city having signified their intention of being present. After the luncheon the drive will be inaugurated. T. J. Nolan will preside and there will be addresses by Archbishop Harry, Secretary Dennison of the Young Men's Christian association, Chaplain McCall of Fort Crook and Emmet Tingley of Council Bluffs.

Dean Shaw Says U. S. Not Yet Awake to the War

Dean W. Shaw, Episcopal missionary of western Nebraska, spoke at Trinity cathedral yesterday on "America Went Into the War to Answer the Challenge of Sin." Dean Shaw has just completed an eastern tour through the United States and Canada and his address was prompted by the contrast of the eastern and western war spirit. As his text he used "Give unto Caesar what is Caesar's and unto God what is God's." His whole sermon amplified the fact that this is a war of righteousness against sin. "Money," he began, "belongs to earthly things, but man is God's, for He made man in His own image. Now that Turkey and some other powers are blushing and killing Christians, it is up to America to show such powers of the face of the earth. We alone can do it or help do it now. "I was in Canada a few days ago and learned that we do not know what this war means. We of the middle west do not and cannot understand what demands war is making upon humanity. The Canadians told me that when we lose 100,000 men at one time then we will wake up and no power on earth will stop us. It seems that we Americans cannot profit by taking a stitch in time to save nine. Thank God, though, that when we will wake up we will stop for nothing."

Struck by Automobile While Rescuing Child

Albert Ayers, Eighteenth and Paul streets, was seriously injured last night at Eighteenth and Cass streets while rescuing a child that was being run down by an automobile. Ayers was crossing Eighteenth street and just ahead of him was a woman and a girl, the latter about 7 years of age. An automobile approaching from the north and at a high rate of speed was heading down upon the mother and child. Ayers jumped to their rescue, caught the child in his arms and threw her aside. He, however, was caught by the machine, knocked down and considerably bruised. He was taken to a hospital. Neither the woman nor the man driving the automobile stopped to see how badly Ayers was injured.

Al Strader Is Held Up and Robbed While on Way Home

Al Strader, 18 years of age, lives at 925 Emmet street. He had been calling at a neighbor's house and while on his way home, at Twelfth and Emmet streets, at 7:30 o'clock last night was held up and robbed of 25 cents by a colored man. As Strader approached the Twelfth street crossing a colored man called him to stop, and, walking rapidly toward him, commanded him to hold up his hands. Strader's pockets were searched and when the highwayman failed to find more than 25 cents, he struck him in the face with some blunt instrument, knocking him down.

Schools and Colleges

Cotner University Notes. An epidemic of examinations broke out in Cotner last week. Most of the students proved to have good constitutions and are now convalescing.

Miss Mary Patton of Firth, Neb.; Jack Nichols of Savannah, Mo.; Charles E. Howard of Enid, Okla. and Roy Mowet of Bethany are recently enrolled students. The men and women had separate assemblies for convocation Friday morning. Dean Harmon addressed the men on practical advertising. Mrs. Harmon spoke to the girls on the challenge to womanhood of the present war crisis.

Burrows A. Jenkins of Kansas City, who has recently returned from active work on the allies front, addressed a mass meeting of the students Wednesday morning. Many of the townsmen also took advantage of this opportunity to obtain information from the speaker. The junior class has been rushing the work on the Annual with the intention of having it ready for distribution by April 1. In celebrating the victory over Yonkers this week a coat of arms was displayed in chapel and added to the coyote pole and other trophies of the victorious Bulldogs, Nebraska football champions 1917.

On home-coming day held in connection with the Cotner-York game, not only many former students and alumni, but also many friends from different parts of the state showed their interest and loyalty by visiting chapel and attending the game. The dramatic art class under the direction of Prof. R. B. Hardin will present "Every Student" in the Cotner auditorium Monday night.

Peru State Normal. Prof. F. M. Gregg, head of the department of education, was one of the five to receive the nomination for president of the State Teachers' association.

The last meeting of the board of education, Prof. Detsell was appointed to the position of fieldman for the normal. It will be his duty to visit the various high schools in southeastern Nebraska and assist the normal's graduates, giving advice and aiding wherever he is able that the results may be most efficient for the districts.

Peru now on will grant the A. B. degree for those that finish the four-year course. The degree B. E. was conferred on such students. This is quite an important move, and places the normal in the same class with the colleges of the state. Many have not known the Peru has demanded the same requirements for the B. E. degree as the colleges have for the A. B., so now there will be no further need of explanations.

The Alumni association met at Omaha and elected officers for the ensuing year. Superintendent Earl Meyer of Geneva was elected president; C. W. Coffey, Superintendent of New Franklin, vice president; M. C. Letter, of Lincoln, treasurer and W. N. Delsell, secretary.

The music department has recently installed a device for the storing of storage batteries. The high school boys are making the knitting needles that the girls are using.

Kearney State Normal. Paul Cavener, business manager of the Antelope in 1914, visited his parents in Kearney on Sunday, driving back to Oconto in the evening.

Miss Julia Wirt, dean of women, spoke at union church services in Graff and Tecumseh Sunday in behalf of the Young Men's Christian association drive.

J. R. Miller, former editor of the Antelope, who is teaching at Edgar, visited with friends at Kearney Saturday and Sunday last week.

Leslie Lewis, '17, who has been studying law at the University of Nebraska, enlisted in the 101st and 102nd battalions Thursday and left for Washington, D. C. Friday.

Clyde Simpson, editor of the Antelope in 1914 and last year a teacher of mathematics at Twin Falls, Idaho, passed through Kearney Sunday on his way to Washington, D. C., where he has accepted a government position.

Following the beginning made by Prof. B. H. Patterson last year, the orchestra is contemplating accepting the invitation of the National Commercial Teachers' federation to furnish music for their meeting, which will be held at Chicago Christmas week.

Engineer Comes to Make War Map for Balloonists

C. E. Cook, engineer in the geological survey department of the United States, has arrived in Omaha to make a war map of Omaha and vicinity for the use of the Fort Omaha balloon school.

Although Mr. Cook is an engineer in charge of geological work, the War department has asked that he be used on this work. Twenty-five civil engineers and eight new autos will be used in doing the work. About 400 square miles of the vicinity will be plotted.

Red Cross Now Has Free Use of Addressograph

The Addressograph company has given the state office of the Red Cross free use of an addressograph, which means a large saving to the organization. Envelopes are addressed almost every day to every chapter and branch chapter in this state, so the saving with the use of this machine will be considerable.

HEALTH BARRED BY IMPURE BLOOD. Old-Fashioned Salts The Remedy. The body can be no healthier than its blood. If, through irregular habits a load of impurities (faulty elimination), is thrown back into the blood, poor health is bound to result. Trouble will show itself in various ways. At first nothing more serious will be noticed than a succession of everyday ailments, such as sick headache, sour stomach, back ache, etc. Without proper treatment more serious ills are liable to happen, the kidneys and liver will become disordered and the poisoned blood of your body will set up some form of rheumatism. One of the safest remedies known to the medical profession is old-fashioned salts, used for years with fine results. Of course there are many kinds of salts but the best of these for constipation has been a combination of three mineral salts with the addition of certain fruit acids. These three salts, with the fruit acids, are sold by druggists under the name of Salinos (laxative salts). Salinos offers a direct path to rich, red blood, free from impurity and filled with energizing power. It contains no acetanilid, no caffeine, nothing in the way of a heart stimulant and is a formula that is known to 25,000 physicians.

Salinos is easy to take, and dissolves readily even in cold water. You hated to take ordinary salts because of the bad taste and the hot water. Hot water isn't needed with Salinos and you'll really like the taste. Get a package today and try a little in a full glass of cold water tomorrow morning. You'll feel better within an hour and the end of the day you won't find you are dazed, with a sick headache and a sour stomach.

"Incubator" Building Planned For New Manufacturing Firms Several manufacturing districts are to be located in Omaha if the plans of the industrial committee of the Commercial club are carried out. At first the plan was to develop one or more convenient manufacturing districts in Omaha, but the special committee consisting of A. L. Reed, I. Van Rensselaer and J. M. Gillan, which investigated the subject, reported in favor of the development of a number of different strategic points about the city where railroad facilities are combined with street car service, easy grades and all other necessary advantages.

Raymond Durkee Gets Commission in Air Corps. Raymond Durkee, son of the well known G. M. Durkee, manager of the Parlin & Orendorff Plow company, was last week awarded a commission as first lieutenant in the aviation section of the signal corps. He is stationed at the aviation school at Fort Omaha. Lieutenant Durkee is but 22 years of age and entered the aviation service only last August. Only recently he made a "solo" flight in a balloon, volunteering to make the ascension on one of the windiest days of the season. Lieutenant Durkee made an adventurous landing "somewhere in Missouri" in a gale that required both headwork and footwork. As the big gas bag neared the ground, he climbed over the basket and landed on the run. Lieutenant Durkee is very much at home above the clouds as proved by a story told of him by his commanding officer, who accompanied him on a flight a few weeks ago. While more than 5,000 feet up in the air, the young man, fagged out from a strenuous day's work, leaned his head over the basket rail and went soundly to sleep. Mr. Durkee has another son in the army—Stanley, who is attached to the Ambulance Corps at Louisville, Ky.
