

IMPLEMENT MEN FOREGO PROFITS AS WAR MEASURE

President of Association in Opening Address Declares Sales of New Machinery Must Be Held Down.

The implement men are asked to forego the profits of heavy sales of new machinery in order to save the steel and other necessities for the munitions of war. None other than President C. E. Gallagher of the Midwest Implement Dealers' association has asked this of his fellow implement men. When the convention opened at the Hotel Rome yesterday President Gallagher, in his opening address, said:

"The time has come when there is not a single inch of room in this country for anyone but an American. We should encourage the farmers to repair their old machinery and make use of it to the fullest capacity, thus eliminating the necessity of purchasing new machinery. The result will be the saving of the freight haul and the material needed for ammunition and other war implements."

"This may seem like a peculiar position to be taken by us who are engaged in the sale of implements. Measure of Patriotism. Nothing but the highest sense of patriotic duty could impel us to this course. But if the boys in the trenches are willing to lay down their lives for the cause we should be willing to forego the profits to insure the soldier boys plenty of munitions of war, that they may fight and fight to win."

Mr. Gallagher suggested that the implement men help the government in other ways. He suggested that they assist in relieving the congestion in the railway system by getting in early shipping orders in the implement business. "As every little bit in these times adds to the burdens," he said, "so every little bit subtracted takes that much therefrom."

To Encourage Big Crops. He suggested also that the implement men foster and encourage greater effort at crop production by the farmers by the offer of prizes for the largest yield of corn or other grain per acre, or the best hoes or hogs produced under given conditions. He suggested that this could be done by the organization of farmers' clubs.

The implement men gathered rapidly yesterday for the three days' convention of the Midwest Implement Dealers' association. The general sessions are being held at the Hotel Rome. A big banquet given by the Omaha and Council Bluffs Implement and Vehicle club is scheduled for the delegates at the Hotel Rome this evening.

Show at Auditorium. The annual implement show is on at the Auditorium in connection with the convention. The farm tractor section of the implement show is a big section and occupies the entire basement section. Tractors were pulling into place all forenoon, and the room roared with the popping of gasoline engines, like drum fire on the western front. The main floor of the Auditorium is packed with implements.

Y. M. C. A. FUND SURE TO SURPASS MARK

Further Reports From State Indicate Nebraska's Subscriptions Will Go Above $500,000 Mark.

Reports received Wednesday from the state districts in the Young Men's Christian association war work campaign showed that most of them are adding even more to their already large totals. The Nebraska City district, which already had $41,758, reported an additional $2,000. The Wakefield district added $1,000 to its previous report of $18,000.

"There is no doubt at all that the state will go above the $500,000 mark and have several thousand to spare," said D. Burr Jones, state campaign manager. "Our total tabulated up to this morning shows $493,000 and this figures Omaha in at only $116,000, whereas there is no doubt that Omaha will come through with $125,000. Other districts will also make material additions."

Beat All States. "No other state equalled this record. We will get more than 100 per cent above our apportionment. The best any other state did was to get 80 per cent above its apportionment."

A telegram received from the national headquarters Wednesday stated that the national total was $50,152,544, with probability that another half million will be added in the final total.

Tabulation of the Omaha figures is still going on. Tuesday $12,000 in cash was counted and turned in at the bank. Mrs. Offutt reported the women's total so far tabulated is more than $39,000.

Crossing Accidents Continue Despite Railroads Vigilance

Notwithstanding the fact that the Union Pacific is taking extra precautions to prevent automobile accidents at railroad crossings, many are reported. J. M. Guild, the company's safety agent, asserts that accidents will continue so long as drivers fail to heed the injunction "Stop, Look and Listen."

In Kansas, during the last year, the Union Pacific has expended $70,000, in the construction and maintenance of approaches to grade crossings, having put all such crossings in first class condition for the six months ending July 1, there were eighteen automobile accidents at grade crossings. At none of these crossings was the view of the railroad obstructed. Three of them were at crossings protected by bells. Of the eighteen accidents, sixteen of them occurred during daylight.

HARLAN, IA., PEOPLE DINE 400 SAMMIES

On Two Hours' Notice Big Banquet is Prepared for Soldiers Who Had Been Delayed.

In the recent movement of western troops, the people of Harlan, Ia., furnished an example of their ability to do their bit in the way of patriotism and helping Uncle Sam.

The Great Western had a trainload of soldiers destined for Fort Harrison, near Indianapolis, Ind. There were 400 men on the train and they were to be fed at Oelwein, Ia. En route east, some extra freight cars were attached and as a result the train was slowed up.

Feast Awaits Men.

Conditions were wired to the general passenger offices of the Great Western and these people, by wire, got in touch with the city officials of Harlan. They responded that they could feed 400 soldiers and that they would take care of them. When the train reached Harlan, although there had been but two hours for preparation, the soldiers found a regular banquet spread for them. They were marched from the train to a little park in the town. There tables had been set and they were loaded with chicken, meats of different kinds, bread, butter, cake, pies, salads and coffee.

After getting word relative to the feeding of the soldiers, the officials either telephoned or sent messengers to every home in the town, with the result that the women took from their larders the best of everything and hurriedly carried the tables to the park.
