

PRESBYTERIAN LEADERS ROUSE WAR TIME FERVOR

Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman Delivers Patriotic Address to Large Gathering at First Church.

Two thousand Presbyterians of Omaha and the surrounding territory gathered at the First church Friday night to listen to Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, moderator of the general assembly; Rev. John F. Carson, Brooklyn, and Rev. William Foulkes, Philadelphia, all officers and members of the national service commission, who lined the church people up, urging upon them loyalty and patriotism. The services came after a day of meetings.

The three leading lights in the Presbyterian church who have given devotion to the war work, asserted that of the 30 or more leading cities of the United States visited, nowhere have they found one where the spirit of patriotism is more manifest than in Omaha. They also asserted that of all the cities that they have visited, only in Philadelphia have they spoken to a larger audience than gathered at the First Presbyterian church last night.

Filled Great Church. Not only was the audience last night one that filled the forum and galleries, but it overflowed onto the platform and into the side rooms in such numbers that extra seatings had to be provided. Utterances of the speakers were loudly applauded and frequently their remarks brought forth cheers. Flags were waved and patriotic songs were sung by choir and audience.

The three men, who are recognized as the official heads of the departments, were given a most hearty welcome during their stay in Omaha. They arrived from Kansas City on an early morning train and were met at the station by the local committee and escorted to the hotel.

At noon at the University club they lunched with the general committee and as the guests of N. H. Loomis. Then came an auto ride about the city. At 2 o'clock they addressed a women's missionary meeting and at 4 talked to 100 Presbyterian clergymen from Omaha, out in the state and Iowa.

At 6 o'clock they were honored guests at a dinner at the First Presbyterian church, where covers were laid for 400 and at which Warren Switzer presided as toastmaster. And at 8 o'clock they were the chief speakers at a mass meeting in the church which was attended by 2,000 men and women, and which was presided over by Mr. Loomis.

Respects to Kaiser. At the mass meeting that was patriotic in the extreme, Dr. Carson paid his respects to the head of the German government by asserting that "the Kaiser does the devil's deeds and that then, to them he subscribes God's name."

Dr. Carson told of having visited 27 camps and cantonments during the last three months, asserting that nowhere had he ever found a better set of young men. He designated them as the flower of the land and insisted that it is the duty of the church to look after their spiritual welfare and not leave everything to the Young Men's Christian association. The speaker detailed the fact that the churches of the country are pooling their interests at the camps and that at Camp Upton, Long Island, a $25,000 union church is being erected.

Commendation for Omaha. Rev. Mr. Foulkes spoke briefly on "How Must We Fight?" and then Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman commended Omaha upon the efforts that it had put forth to make the Presbyterian rally a success. To the church people he confided that so many of them are pushing God out of their houses of worship and are giving their time over to playing golf and automobile riding on Sunday, forgetting that the Sabbath is the keystone to the arch of saving grace. He insisted that the time is not far distant when people are going to return to the church and to Christ, getting back to prayer.

Relative to a report that he said came to his ears "that the soldier boys in the camps and cantonments are impure," he designated it as a "German lie, circulated to cause unrest and stir up feeling."

Bishop Stuntz of the Methodist church, who occupied a seat on the platform, spoke briefly, asserting that the creation of the national service commission to look after the welfare of the soldiers and stir up patriotism was conceived in the conference of the church of which he is a member and failed, only lacking three votes of being organized.

Support from Methodist. The bishop pledged the support of the Methodist church of Nebraska to everything looking to the building up of a righteous peace, insisting, however, that there could be no peace until the last vestige of militarism and autocracy has been wiped off the map of Europe.

The Presbyterian leaders departed on a midnight train for Topeka, Kan., where tonight they will hold another meeting of their campaign that is to continue for an indefinite period and until the Presbyterian church of the United States is stirred to intensive patriotism.

Congressman Kahn Advocates Universal Military Training. San Francisco, Nov. 23.—Congressman Julius Kahn, in an address here last night extolled President Wilson as a stout-hearted diplomat and called him the "George Washington of today."

Congressman Kahn's appearance was in training of the Universal military training movement, which he championed. He pledged himself to work hard on his return to congress to secure the passage of such a bill. Such a law, he said, would lead to the true democratic feeling the country now is striving for. The weight of directing the present war, the congressman observed, will fall to America.

James Stephenson, Nebraska Pioneer, Dies at Salt Lake City

James Stephenson, pioneer horseman and stage coach driver of Nebraska, died yesterday afternoon in a hospital at Salt Lake City, according to word received from there. No further details of his death were given.

He left Omaha 18 years ago and had returned here several times, only on visits. He was a great lover of horses and soon after his early arrival here in 1870 conducted a livery business at Tenth and Harney streets. Shortly before he left Nebraska he drove stage coaches throughout the state and into the Black Hills.

He also was a member of the city council for two terms, "Jim," as he was known, was the owner of the first hansom cabs introduced into Omaha. He had the contract to care for the thoroughfares of the city for a number of years. He engaged extensively in the business of general contracting and his experiences with stage lines in the early days were thrilling in the extreme. He owned stage

COUNTY AGENTS CONCLUDE MEET

Telegram Is Received From Secretary Houston Congratulating Workers on Their Success With Farmers.

County agents, working under the supervision of the United States Department of Agriculture, representing seven states, concluded their sessions Thursday night, after adopting resolutions urging farmers to do their utmost to aid the government.

The states represented were: Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Kansas and Missouri. The county agents, who also work under supervision of the State Agriculture board, were addressed by Dr. A. C. True, Washington representative at the conference. Prof. W. A. Lloyd, Washington, D. C., representing the Department of Agriculture, also was in attendance.

Chas. E. Gurnels, Lincoln, and John Coverdale, Ames, Ia., are leaders of the agents in their respective states. Just as the conference was closing, a telegram was received by Prof. W. A. Lloyd from the Secretary of Agriculture David Houston, which reads as follows:

"The county agent system as developed by the Federal Department of Agriculture in co-operating with agricultural colleges, has demonstrated its great usefulness as a means of promoting the full development of the agricultural resources of the country. Working in intimate and sympathetic relation with rural people, the county agent is able to secure the application of scientific knowledge and discovery to the business of the farmer and the home life of country people. In the present war he has been ready to meet the emergency and to concentrate all rural forces and organizations in working out the great problems of food production and food conservation. In recognition of his value as the local leader, congress has provided funds for the immediate extension of this system to every agriculture college in the United States. State and County Councils of Defense and all rural organizations can do a patriotic public service by assisting the government and the state in accomplishing this end."

Crowder Urges Exemption Board Members to Stick

Washington, Nov. 23.—Man power exerted on the field of France will bring victory in this war, Provost Marshal General Crowder declared in a statement of the aims, accomplishments and future of the selective draft system, addressed to members of the local boards and made public here tonight. After reviewing present conditions and necessities General Crowder predicted that the selective system would become a permanent part of America's governmental system for war.

Every precaution possible has been taken with the new draft regulations, General Crowder said, to conserve economic interest, but the paramount duty of the country is to raise an effective fighting force. He expressed an urgent hope that the present members would remain at their tasks as a patriotic duty. The board members, he said, are as essential in their places as the army itself.

Military Authorities Round Up American Slackers in Paris

Paris, Nov. 23.—The Paris Herald reports that more than 200 young Americans, wearing the uniforms of ambulance drivers, have been rounded up recently by the American military authorities. The numbers of their passports were taken and they were told to call at headquarters, where all but five appeared. There they were informed again that they must enlist in some branch of the active service overseas or they would be sent back to America, where they would be dealt with as the circumstances warrant.

As for the five who did not appear at headquarters, the Herald says it is reported that when they are found harsh measures against them will be taken.

Omaha Insurance Man To Confer With McAdoo

W. A. Fraser, sovereign commander of the Woodmen of the World, left last night for Washington in answer to a call from Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo for a meeting of the advisory board on the soldiers' and sailors' insurance.

Signal Corps Needs Mechanics.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The signal corps needs thousands of chauffeurs and mechanics, not only to drive cars, but for mechanical work on airplane engines. It was announced today that as quickly as possible squadrons of such men will be organized and sent overseas. Men of draft age can enlist in the air service until December 15.

TWO NEARLY DROWN IN PLATTE RIVER

W. W. Scott and Frank Nippert, Omahans, Have Narrow Escapes When Boat Capsizes.

A harrowing struggle for their lives during a period of two hours in the treacherous Platte river and a miraculous escape from drowning was the experience early yesterday morning of W. W. Scott, photographer, 1622 Vinton street, and Frank Nippert, 3034 South Nineteenth street, when a boat in which they were crossing the river while on a hunting trip overturned.

The men were using a steel boat at a point near the Holdfield farm, five miles south of Waterloo, when it overturned. Total darkness, supplemented with the high waves in the river and a strong gale, made it difficult to gain steady headway. The men had rowed into some thick rushes, about a quarter way across the river, and were trying to find their way out when the boat lurched sideward and overturned, throwing the two occupants into the swift current.

EXPRESS COMPANIES OPERATING AT LOSS

Figures Presented to Interstate Commerce Commission Show Decrease of Millions.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Express companies at the hearings of their application for a 10 per cent rate increase before the Interstate Commerce commission December 7 will cite figures to show that the eight leading companies operated at an actual aggregate loss of $369,000 in July, as compared with an operating income of $767,000 the same month last year. During the seven months, ending with July, they recorded aggregate income of $1,192,000 as compared with $3,161,000 the corresponding period of 1916.

These figures were shown today by the Interstate Commerce commission's compilations, based on reports of the express companies, and given out a few hours after announcement of the date set for hearing the rate increase case. Shippers at that time will be given full opportunity for presenting objections to the proposed higher rates.

Gorgas Will Probe Food Waste in Camps

Washington, Nov. 23.—The appointment of William C. Gorgas, surgeon general of the army, as head of a committee selected by the War department to investigate food conditions at army camps, was made known tonight in a joint statement by Secretary Baker and Food Administrator Hoover, answering complaints of waste at army camps. The most of these complaints came during the time when the camps still were in the hands of the contractors. The committee is co-operating with the quartermaster general's department and the food administration in efforts to eliminate whatever waste there may be.

U. S. Transports Reach France; Chased by Subs

A French Port, Nov. 23.—The latest transports to reach here had an exciting trip through the submarine zone. The first night in the zone two transports collided. One was slightly damaged, while the other had a small hole torn in its bow and a few projecting guns damaged. Temporary repairs were made and the ships proceeded.

The following night a submarine attacked the transports. The wake of a torpedo was seen off the bow of one of the vessels, but no conning tower or periscope was visible. The transports raced ahead and succeeded in reaching port safely, where the collision damage was repaired.

MRS. INNES ENDS HER LIFE BECAUSE TOO ILL TO MOTHER HER CHILD

Denver, Colo., Nov. 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Welcoming death as the fitting close to a life wherein she was unable to care for her little girl, Mrs. Frances Edna Innes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Barber of Omaha, committed suicide in a hospital here today by drinking lysol.

Mrs. Innes became an invalid soon after her marriage, 10 years ago, to Albert E. Innes, a Denver optician, formerly with the Columbian Optical company in Omaha. Early last July she was sent to Mercy hospital for treatment of an aggravated nervous ailment.

In a farewell letter to her husband Mrs. Innes said she had decided to end her life because she never would be able to give a mother's care to her young daughter, Wilva, and asked that the latter's custody be given to her parents.

She asked that her body be sent to Omaha for cremation and burial in Forest Lawn cemetery.

Men, Young Men and Boys will find here the most beautiful display of furnishings, including newest patterns in Neckwear, Manhattan Shirts and Fancy Hosiery, Vassar and Duofold Underwear, warm Sweater Coats.

There is no more complete showing in the city.

My how that Resinol stops the itching!

Only those who have themselves suffered with eczema or similar itching, burning skin-trouble can appreciate the relief that the first touch of Resinol Ointment brings. Usually the suffering stops at once, the skin becomes cool and comfortable, and the trouble soon disappears. From the very first you can see that it is going to get well!

Resinol Ointment is an excellent healing dressing, too, for burns, scalds, cuts and stubborn little sores. Sold by all druggists.
