RESCUED FROM LIFE OF HORROR BY OMAHA WOMAN

Huang Shih Ying is a Chinese girl whose destiny is closely linked with that of prominent Omaha clubwomen. In fact, Omaha women rescued her from a life of horror and are now subscribing to a fund for her education at the Peking Union college.

A year ago Miss Ruth Paxson, an Omaha girl who is now a Young Women's Christian association secretary in China, told the story of Huang Shih Ying to members of the political and social science department of the Omaha Woman's club in which her sister, Mrs. Charles W. Hayes, is an active worker.

Miss Paxson told how Huang Shih Ying had been sold into the "theater," which in Chinese means a life of immorality, at the tender age of 13. From this fate she was rescued by a Christian Chinese teacher who bought her back at a price something like $20. Her parents had sold her because they were too poor to buy her food enough to subsist.

Omaha women were touched by the recital of the girl's story and made up a purse to pay for her education and support. This year they are renewing their subscriptions and are hoping to get new ones.

The women feel the little Chinese girl will be able to accomplish much good in an educational way among her own people if given the proper advantages.

Herberta Barker

The following Camp Fire Girls make up a committee to collect the tinful Omahans have been depositing at local stores in the last few months, proceeds from the sale of which will go for war relief work: Misses Lottie Underhill, Nella Ryan, Frances G. Brooks, chairman; Catherine Gavine, Ruth Carpenter, Anne Astell, Bertha Vaughn, Dorothy Haas, Eleanor Kurtz, Polly Robbins, Eloise Berka, Eleanor Stallard, Eloise Chambers, Helen Benson and Mrs. J. W. Robbins and Mrs. E. A. Thomann.

J. N. Taliaferro, county president, will make a Thanksgiving address. Mrs. Taliaferro will tell what the Women's Christian Temperance union has done and what its outlook is for the coming year. State department superintendents will also outline their work for next year. They are Mrs. W. T. Graham, Mrs. G. W. Cowell, Mrs. Flora Hoffman and Dr. Jennie Callias. Mrs. Alice Minick will lead the parliamentary law lesson. Each member will bring potatoes for the Old People's home.

West Side union, Women's Christian Temperance union, will meet Friday this week owing to the fact that Thanksgiving comes on the regular day. Mrs. Carl Nielsen will be hostess at her home, 834 South Forty-ninth avenue, and knitting and bandage making will occupy the afternoon.

Benson Club Circles.
The Woman's club met at the city hall Thursday. The matter of devoting at least part of the time to Red Cross was proposed and plans will be made for this work for the future.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society will meet at the home of Mrs. E. N. Bowerman Tuesday instead of Wednesday.

Social Affairs in Prospect.
The White Shrine Whist club will give a luncheon Tuesday at the Masonic temple. Those in charge of the affair are Mrs. Harry C. Barton, president, and Mrs. H. J. Holmes, secretary.

Train School Mothers' Club.

Red Cross Work

The remarkable efficiency of the Nebraska Red Cross is due largely to the trained women who are at the head of its various departments. Mrs. H. H. Baldrige, who is Nebraska state censor of Red Cross supplies, was appointed by the head of the Red Cross at Washington for her responsible position. Mrs. Baldrige has been a tireless worker since the outbreak of the war and there is probably no other woman in the west who is so familiar with all branches of the work.

Mrs. W. J. Mettlin, who is chairman of surgical supplies, was appointed by Miss Nell Calvin for her position. Miss Calvin recommended Mrs. Mettlin for her efficiency which was exhibited in her work as censor of the Belgian relief work. Mrs. J. J. McMullen, who is chairman of the hospital supplies, is well qualified for her work.

Mrs. Harvey Newbranch, chairman of the knitting section, is a knitting expert of the state and had charge of the knitting section of the Army League until it was merged into the Red Cross.

Mrs. Edward A. Pegau, who has charge of the receiving and packing of the Red Cross supplies, was formerly head of the Associated Charities in Fremont, her former home. Mrs. Pegau's executive ability has been demonstrated in every line of work that she has taken up and the Omaha chapter is indeed fortunate to have the services of so valuable a helper as Mrs. Pegau.

Many of the women who are at the head of this great movement in Nebraska have sons in the service. Captain Malcolm Baldrige, who is now stationed at Camp Dodge, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Baldrige and Lieutenant Mettlin, who is now at Fort Logan, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Mettlin.

Offers of assistance are coming from women in every walk of life to the Red Cross. Mrs. Baldrige has had 98 women volunteer to work in the state for the cause. Several dressmakers have offered one day every other week to sew for the Red Cross. From the wealthier homes come the offer of the assistance of chauffeurs to help pack the huge boxes of supplies to be sent to the boys "over there."

Mrs. H. H. Baldrige and several of her assistants will leave Sunday evening for Chicago, where they will inspect the work rooms of the Red Cross branches there.

The Catholic Women's auxiliary reports 1200 garments finished in six weeks for the Red Cross, aside from the hospital supplies. Fifty-six garments have also been made by these workers. The unit meets in the Sacred Heart academy every week and will conduct booths in the stores next week during the Knights of Columbus war drive.

War Relief Work.

The Omaha branch of the Durvay War Relief, which is under the direction of the Vassar College club, has sent two large boxes of men's, women's and children's clothing to the people of the devastated district in Belgium and France.

The club begs for further suitable donations, asking that they be clean and whole and worth sending so long a distance.

Room 614 Bee building will be open to receive packages on Monday afternoons and Thursday mornings. At other times packages may be left by applying for key at room 623.

French Orphan Fund.
When Madame Borglum sent $745 last week to the fund for French orphans it brought the total from Omaha and neighboring towns up to $7,295, which means providing $36,500 support for a year, for each one of 150 orphans. Interest in this beautiful charity has been growing rapidly in the past two months, Madame Borglum receiving contributions almost daily.

In Fremont the movement, aided by Mrs. Fred Nye, is gaining splendidly, and here in Omaha clubs and schools, as well as individuals, are adopting orphans. The high school has adopted four of the Hawthorne school two and Miss Mary Cooper's dancing class of little children has adopted one, each child contributing 5 cents a week.

One Omaha family, which last year adopted four, this year doubled the number. When Madame Borglum was in New York this summer and visited the headquarters for this work the total number of orphans adopted by the United States was 50,000.

Dundee Woman's Club.
Margaret Sherwood's "The Worn Doorstep," will be studied by the Dundee Woman's club for the January 9th program, Mrs. J. E. Dodds announces. This part of the program is not included in the year book. The books are now in the library. Mrs. W. H. Hancock will be leader.

The Young Men's Hebrew association and the Young Women's Hebrew association will hold a patriotic meeting Tuesday evening, November 27, at their club rooms in the Paxton block. Congressman Lobeck, with Recreation Supervisor J. J. Isaacson and Harry Zimmerman, the Choral society and others will take part in the program.

Members of Queen Mary lodge, Order of St. George, announce the first of a series of public dances, to be given Wednesday evening at the lodge rooms in the Lyric building. Twenty members of the aviators corps at Fort Omaha will be honor guests at these dances, Sergeant Hill of the royal flying corps sponsoring the affairs.

Knitting Party.
The A'Volante club was entertained at Teresa Stacy's home Thursday evening, November 22. The evening was spent in knitting for soldiers. A lunch was served. Those present were:
Misses—
Laurette Dunning, Catherine Tang, Mary McDonough, Mayme O'Connor, Theresa Mullaly, Teresa Stacy.

Dr. Lee W. Edwards, 24th and Farnam, wishes to call the public's attention to the Chiropractic talk on Page 2-B.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.
