NEBRASKA PLAYS SYRACUSE IN BEST PHYSICAL TRIM OF ANY GAME THIS SEASON

Loss of Riddell and Otoupalik, While Severe, Will Not Cripple Team and Husker Supporters Are Loyal Wagering Money That Scarlet and Cream Will Emerge on Winning Side.

Lincoln, Nov. 27.—(Special).—Nebraska will enter the game against Syracuse next Thursday afternoon in the best physical condition of the season, although Riddell, a regular end, and Otoupalik, a fullback, will not be in the lineup because of injuries. The rest of the Nebraska squad is practically free from injuries and in shape for a gruelling battle.

WILL NOT CRIPPLE TEAM.

The loss of Riddell and Otoupalik will not seriously cripple the Huskers, however, both of whom have been out practically the entire season. Kellogg and Hubba are both experienced at the wing position while with Kellogg, Shellenberg, McMahon, Dobson and Cook for the backfield, Stewart should anticipate no difficulty.

SIGNAL PRACTICE NOW.

Nebraska rounded out its scrimmage last week and Stewart is resorting to only dummy scrimmage and signal practice this week. The Huskers ran through signals speedily last night, including the new formations which Stewart will spring for the Syracuse game. At night the Nebraska squad attended a church board lecture. The Huskers will have another signal drill this afternoon and round up the season's work with signal practice tomorrow afternoon.

Huskers Put Up Cash.

Betting has been heavier on the Syracuse game than any during the season, with a lot of Syracuse money in sight. The university supporters are snapping up the money offered by Lincoln sports, who are betting on Syracuse. The odds generally asked are 10 to 6 on Syracuse.

Practically a capacity crowd will see the game Thursday, although the seat sale has been lagging the last two days and there are still several choice blocks of seats. Manager Williams anticipates that he will have a capacity crowd on hand to lend vocal support to the Huskers.

End of Foot Ball Life.

For three of the Huskers, the turkey day game spells the end of their gridiron career. Captain Ed Shaw, Johnny Cook and Ted Riddell have played the allotted number of years. Shaw and Cook have been especially valuable and will be missed next season. McMahon, Shellenberg, Kellogg, Dobson, Rhoades, Day, Kreimeyer, De Tau, Kositzky, Lawrence, Shaw, Munn, Young, Teter and Wilder will all be available for next season unless called to war service.

No indication has been given as to the financial outcome of the season. Owing to war conditions, the games have not drawn as heavily as in 1916, but it is certain that a nice tidy balance will be on hand after all bills have been paid to turn over to the Red Cross.

Season's Record.

Nebraska record so far this season is: Nebraska, 10; Wesleyan, 0; Nebraska, 46; University of Iowa, 0; Nebraska, 7; Notre Dame, 0; Nebraska, 0; Michigan, 20; Nebraska, 52; Missouri, 0; Nebraska, 13; Kansas, 3.

Cleveland Will Bid to Roof for Walter Johnson

President Dunn of Cleveland says that if the Washington club decided to sell Walter Johnson, he will outbid the other American league magnates who would like to secure the famous pitcher.

Two New Umpires Slated For Berths in National

Intimations come of several changes in the National league staff of umpires for next year. Two new candidates for positions are Charley Moran, who worked successfully in the Southern league last season and be-

Here's Story of Sunday's Career As Slab Artist

Billy Sunday, the evangelist, once had the ambition to become a pitcher and it was on July 16, 1890, that he got his chance—and failed. It was the fifth inning of a game between the Phillies and the Pirates, when Billy tried his hand at twirling for the Pittsburgh team. Hurd started the game, but was batted out of the box in the first inning. Then another pitcher by the name of Baker took up the work for three innings. He, too, suffered severely and in the fifth Billy Sunday stepped into the box and took a hand at pitching. And it was sad. The first man who faced him walked; the second hit out for a three-bagger, the third for a double and the next was hit by a pitched ball and took his base. That was enough. Billy Sunday was gently but firmly taken out of the box and he never tried to pitch again for the National league. "Sunday was a rattling good fielder," the records of the day say, but he demonstrated in that one inning that he wasn't a pitcher."

MACKIN SPRINGS SURPRISE WHEN HE AND WELU WIN

Des Moines, Nov. 27.—(Special Telegram).—L. Mackin of Dubuque, shooting in the last squad of doubles in the Midwest tournament tonight, shot a 298 score, leaving two pins standing on his 12th ball. In his last game, the score enabling his name to head the list, together with Welu, his partner, in the doubles. Mecklin had shown no particular style before the last game, getting 181 in his first game and 170 in the second. His partner, Welu, came through with a count of 163 in the first, but in the second came to bat with a 223. The 298 score was just enough to enable the Dubuque boys to go into the lead, being one pin more than the score of the former leader. By his work, Mecklin wins himself and his partner each a gold medal and the two of them will slice a melon worth $125.

NICK DISCOVERS GOOD SOUTHPAW

Comedian Altrock Goes Scouting and Finds Promising Left Handed Hurler—in Madman's Cell in Pen. When the Washington Americans were in the south last spring they passed through Nashville, where they played two games with the Volunteers. Nick Altrock, the famous comedian, was along. One morning during the stay of the big league athletes in the Dixie City they secured an automobile and went out sightseeing. Walter Johnson and Clyde Milan were in the same car with Nick and the party visited the Hermitage, the home of Andrew Jackson, Centennial park, Belle Meade farm and other places of interest. The next stop was made at the Tennessee state prison, where the athletes were introduced to the warden and guards and were given a royal welcome. A couple of guards were delegated to show the ball players spread throughout the corridors of the big gray walls that some major league ball players were being shown how Tennessee cared for its evil-doers. The ball players visited the death house, where Nick tried out the electric chair, fitting the cap over his head and otherwise tinkering with the death machine, but being careful to see that no one got near the switch. One of the guards, knowing Nick's

Bill Dineen Crippled in Hand: Hunting Accident

Umpire Bill Dineen will be crippled in his right hand as a result of his recent hunting accident. One finger was shot off and his hand so shattered that it will be practically helpless. Dineen will now develop into a left-handed umpire.

Jim Scott Is Married to Chicago Girl in Frisco

Jim Scott, former White Sox pitcher, now an officer in the army training camp at San Francisco, was married to Miss Hattie Cook of Chicago. The bride is a sister of Mrs. George Weaver, the White Sox infielder.

WOMEN YIELD TO ATTIRE BARGAINS

Orkin Brothers' Appareling Establishment Rolls Up a New Sales Record for a Single Week. First Few Days' Selling Made Telling Gaps in Stocks—"Removal Sale" Values Tempt Women in Any Brand of Weather. Wind and weather affects it not! The "bargain appeal" to women is magnified, rather than diminished, when rain and blustery winds mussy things up. At any rate the "Removal Sale" of Orkin Brothers at 1519-1521 Douglas street has become a household word among delighted feminine, and a definite amount of "good will" has been wrapped up and carried out with each parcel at Orkin Brothers since the "Removal Sale."

The "Removal Sale" has been highly welcomed for more reasons than one. In the first place, the word "bargain" has been sadly missed since America's declaration of war. Prices in every line have shot up so quickly, largely and surely that women have merely sighed, growing to accept the increased demands as inevitable. The "Removal Sale" has been the only rift in the clouds in Omaha. In place of prices being higher, they are lower at Orkin Brothers than at any time for some seasons back. In many instances manufacturers could not make up the garment at the price Orkins are asking for it in their "Removal Sale." "Half" price is the rule, and in a number of instances, even the half has been discounted and still greater values offered. While some of this might sound like "newspaper talk," the feminine populace of Omaha is invited to come in and get "eye proof." Inspect any garment critically. Note the price. Say to yourself: "Is this garment any lower in price than the similar thing I saw at so and so's? Will the material wear as well?" Do it, madame. Orkin Brothers are keen to have you make the comparison. Orkin's have "Removal Sale" values to offer you and know that you must see them to realize it.

Orkin Brothers have always felt safe as far as competition was concerned. They at any time feel themselves exceptional in the matter of style selections. The buying and selling of Women's Garments has always been their life work. They know the when, where and the how of the business. You ask why all this exceptional merchandise is so strongly reduced in price? Well, it's a matter of pride with Orkin Brothers. This firm wishes to enter that new store in the Wolf-Hiller Conant hotel building with an entire new stock. Not a thread of this season's garment stock must be offered to next season's patrons at the splendid new edifice now in the course of erection, at 16th and Harney streets. Rather than mix old stock with new, Orkins will forego most, or all of the profit, as they are now doing.

Women's suits, women's dresses, women's skirts, waists and also women's fur. The price range starts at a rung of the ladder situated way down. No matter how modest your purse, Orkin Bros. have a handsome garment to meet that price. The "Removal Sale" is a thing of reality; a true underlining of prices; an occasion for earnest buying by women. Woman's conscience need not hurt her even though she buys more than she needs. There's no immediate indication of garment prices "going down" at any point in the world, so this little bright spot, this oasis among high prices, should be made the most of. Think it over tonight. Be here tomorrow. Make up your mind to own at least one new suit, one new dress, one new coat, one, if possible a new skirt, waist and fur. This sale will not last as long as you think. One of these days it might terminate abruptly. Plenty of dealers will take any amount of remaining stock in a "bunch" even at the retail sale prices. Orkin Brothers' Removal Sale. Make copious note in regard to it. Jot down the address—1519-1521 Douglas street. Remember that the store is situated on the south side of the street. Omaha is a lively city and has brought forth some wonderful sale events, but the strongest sale of recent years is the "Removal Sale" now in progress here. Come. Spend a pleasant morning shopping. Carry home some "Bargains." Hold your purchases out at arms length and say: "For once I have secured a value."

CASHIER TELLS SECRET

Never-Tel, The New Delicately Perfumed Toilet, Darkened Her Hair. In a recent letter to the Never-Tel Laboratories Company, the cashier of one of Kansas City's largest stores wrote as follows: "I thank you for the free box of Never-Tel tablets which you sent me for the coupons. I don't mind telling you that I have used hair preparations for nearly ten years, and I find Never-Tel the cleanest and most satisfactory of all. I tried Never-Tel because the name sounded good to me. The first two treatments made little change, but after the third treatment my hair grew darker, so I continued until I got the shade I wanted. Never-Tel does all you claim for it, and more, because it cleaned my hair of all dandruff." Early history of how Never-Tel was first discovered by a prematurely gray college student, also treating on how to care for the hair, in every 50c box at all drug-gists.—Advertisement.
