

CHAMPION HEN IS COMING TO OMAHA SHOW OF POULTRY

Plymouth Rock Biddie Which Has Record of 237 Eggs in One Year; Other Champions.

Attendance at the Omaha Poultry show this year is considerably larger than it was last year. Besides the big display of more than 2,000 birds and pet animals, there are educational features, lectures and judging contests, which add interest this year.

A champion hen of the Barred Plymouth Rock breed will be added to the display Wednesday. She is owned by Louis Mittendorf, Corning, Ia., and has a record of producing 237 eggs in one year. A pen of high-scoring birds from the experimental station at Leavenworth, Kan., is also on the way. Also two champion pens of the Barron strain single comb white Leghorns from the Cherrycroft farm.

To Have Judging Contest.

"Much interest is being shown in the poultry-judging contest, which will be held Friday," said Secretary Arthur L. Edson. "Ten birds will be used in the contest and 10 amateur poultry breeders will be given opportunities to score the birds. Then the expert judges will score the birds. A gold medal will be awarded to the amateur judge who comes closest to the correct score for the birds."

This evening Prof. Quisenberry of Mountain Grove, Mo., will lecture. The lecture will be given on the stage of the Auditorium, as far removed as possible from the crowing of the roosters.

Dr. George A. Flippin of Stromsburg won first and second pen, fourth hen and fifth cockerel for Barred Plymouth Rocks in the prize distribution.

Hindu Witness Refuses To Testify in Trial

San Francisco, Nov. 27.—Jodh Singh, called as principal government witness in the trial of thirty-four persons charged with conspiring to foment revolution against British rule in India, refused to testify today after he had submitted a list of questions as to his rights to Judge William C. Van Fleet in the United States district court. He pleaded guilty to a conspiracy charge.

Jodh Singh's refusal to testify brought a burst of cheers and a chatter of native Hindustani from the Hindu defendants in the case. It was several minutes before bailiffs restored order. Judge Van Fleet demanded what the Hindus had shouted.

"You are our brother," was what we said," replied one of the men in English.

Witness Made Defendant.

Jodh Singh's transition from a witness to a defendant came at the opening of the trial after a three-day recess. United States District Attorney John W. Preston, who is conducting the prosecution, gave a preamble to the testimony that was to come, telling what the government hoped to show by the witness.

Jodh Singh would chronicle, said Preston, a trip he had made in the interests of the alleged conspiracy from Rio Janeiro to Berlin, New York, Chicago and San Francisco. Preston said the witness would tell of the operations of the alleged Berlin-India committee, and of his close association with German consular officers in the cities he had visited. He would also relate, according to Attorney Preston, several pecuniary transactions in which he had received money from these German officials.

Jodh Singh was called to the stand and he refused to be sworn. He took an oath of affirmation. Turning to the judge, he said:

"Before we proceed further, I have some notes to submit, and if these are answered to my satisfaction, I shall testify. He gave Judge Van Fleet this list of questions:

Is This a Free Country?

"Is this a free country? Shall I be allowed to stay here? Am I allowed the right to have an attorney? Will my countrymen be permitted to hear my testimony?"

Judge Van Fleet answered that this was a free country; that Jodh Singh's presence in this country rested with the government, and that he would be allowed an attorney.

The answers failed to satisfy Jodh Singh and he said:

"Well, I refuse to testify."

Preston asked that Jodh Singh be arraigned on the charge of conspiracy.

Italians Charged Here of Plotting Trouble at Home

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 27.—More than 100 Italians, most of them miners and shipyard employees, said to belong to the Corcolia Studi Sociali, an alleged anarchistic society, were arrested in Seattle, Portland, Spokane, Tacoma and other northwest cities by federal agents in raids which ended today, according to announcement made by H. M. White, federal immigration commissioner, who had charge of the roundup.

According to federal agents, the Italians plotted to help Germany win the war by fomenting revolution in Italy to overthrow King Victor Emmanuel. Federal officers in disguise, it was announced, attended one of the society's recent meetings, at which calls were issued for volunteers to foment domestic disturbances in this country.

'I FLATTERED HIM TO HOLD HIM'—MRS. DE SAULLES

Mineola, N. Y., Nov. 27.—Mrs. Blanca Errazuriz, mother of Mrs. Blanca De Saulles, was expected today to take the witness stand to testify in behalf of her daughter, who is on trial here charged with the murder of her divorced husband, John L. De Saulles. In the event of Mrs. De Saulles' acquittal the mother and her three children intend to return to their Chilean home, accompanied by John L. De Saulles, Jr., who was the innocent cause of the tragedy.

Contrary to predictions yesterday, Mrs. De Saulles was returned to the witness stand this morning for cross-examination by District Attorney Charles R. Weeks, who is conducting the prosecution.

In response to questioning by the attorney and Judge Manning as to whether she was sincere in the affectionate compliments contained in her letters to her husband, which were read in court, she said:

"I flattered him in an effort to hold him."

Mrs. De Saulles' story of seeing her husband aboard a yacht with the duke of Manchester, surrounded with a "bevy of Broadway's choicest beauties," came into the examination at this point and she said she did not know that Mr. De Saulles was then associated with the duke in a deal to furnish horses to the allied governments, in which he made $50,000 profit.

Mrs. De Saulles testified that she was "very unhappy" and "very hurt" over an incident in London when De Saulles would not permit her to stay at the same hotel where he was stopping.

While enroute to Chile for a visit with relatives Mrs. De Saulles testified that she believed her married life "was at an end—morally."

"You will pardon me for putting the question directly, but do you mean that you intended you would never again live together as man and wife?"

DELEGATES FROM STATE ATTEND BIG WAR SAVING MEET

Nebraska's Apportionment for Nation Wide Thrift Movement is Estimated at $20 Per Capita.

Delegates from nearly all the counties in the state attended the meeting Tuesday at the Commercial club rooms of the War Savings Conference of Nebraska. The delegates are county chairmen appointed by State Director Ward M. Burgess to help carry out the work of selling these government war savings certificates.

Nebraska's apportionment is $26,000,000, or about $20 per capita of the estimated population. War savings stamps of various denominations totaling $525,000 have already been received by the Federal Reserve bank, Omaha branch, for distribution to the various selling agencies in Nebraska. The sale of the stamps will begin December 3 at the postoffices and banks.

Mayor Welcomes Delegates.

Mayor J. C. Dahlman welcomed the delegates in the morning. Ward M. Burgess, state director, presided and explained the war savings plan through the sale of war certificates, war savings stamps, thrift stamps and thrift cards. Charles E. Duffie, member of the Nebraska executive committee, explained the method of distribution.

Colonel F. W. Fleming of Kansas City, federal director of this reserve district, paid a tribute to Nebraska. He said if he were to select any territory in the United States where he felt the war savings stamps and certificates would sell with the least effort, he would pick Nebraska. "You have less poverty than any other state in the union," he said, "and a greater average purchasing power."

Banquet At Night.

During the luncheon at the Commercial club rooms, county chairmen filled out blanks with names of chairmen for towns in their respective counties.

Guy C. Kiddoo of Omaha, member of the Nebraska executive committee explained the work and composition of the county and town, and the coordination of national, state and local activities. O. T. Eastman, manager of the Omaha branch of the Federal Reserve bank, explained the function of the Federal Reserve bank in the distribution of stamps and certificates.

Wayne, Neb., Nov. 26.—(Special Telegram.)—William Hern, a laborer in the employ of the Standard Bridge company, was shot and dangerously wounded last evening about 6 o'clock by Gabriel Toyler, a discharged laborer of the same company. Hern and two other laborers were walking on the public road about six miles northwest of Wayne on their way to supper, when Toyler appeared and, it is said, attempted to hold them up. Will Force Communications Under Postoffice Censorship

Washington, Nov. 27.—Regulations to govern the transmission to or from the United States of communications not in the regular course of the mails will be issued within a few days under the trading with the enemy act. Bills of lading and similar business documents probably will not be forbidden when destined to neutral countries, and commercial travelers and representatives of business concerns may carry in luggage letters relating strictly to their business.

Most other communications will be forced into mail channels to be subjected to censorship. Communications to enemy or ally of enemy countries are prohibited except by license of the war trade board. The customs division of the treasury will have charge of the administration of the regulations.
