LEADING MEN OF KEARNEY INVOLVED IN THE MAY CASE

Complaints Filed Against Dr. Tupper Kirby, Attorney J. C. Saylor and Mrs. C. M. Corbin Because of Death.

Kearney, Neb., Nov. 28.—(Special Telegram.)—Complaints were filed today against Dr. Tupper Kirby, Attorney J. C. Saylor and Mrs. C. M. Corbin, all found guilty by a coroner's jury of implication in the death of Rosella May.

The latter, an 18-year-old girl, came to her death on November 15, the direct result of a criminal operation by Dr. Tupper Kirby about October 30. The operation is alleged to have been performed in the home of Mrs. C. M. Corbin, wife of an osteopath, and the woman was held in connection as an accessory before the fact in aiding and abetting the crime.

Girl in Lawyer's Employ. Attorney Saylor is held, charged with being responsible for the condition of the girl, according to a statement made by the girl before she died. In the case of Mrs. Corbin the jury also found that she told conflicting stories and her connection with the case will be thoroughly sifted.

The latter makes her home in a large residence property near the court house and it is frequently referred to as a "sanitarium." This place, the jury recommends, be closed at once, as a "menace to society and public welfare."

Miss May, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. May, was in the employ of Attorney J. C. Saylor up to the time of her death. She made statements prior to her death, accusing Kirby of being responsible for her condition. During the inquest, evidence was presented indicating that Saylor was aware of her condition and that he paid some bills which she had incurred in seeking relief from her plight.

Saylor is city attorney and also acted as head of the civic league here. He is well known politically and professionally over the state.

Kirby Calls It Plot. Dr. Kirby was at one time city physician. He obtained some state notoriety in the Walter Sammons case, tried in the federal court at Omaha, when Kirby offered his services at witness.

Attorney Saylor says that he is the victim of professional jealousy, that members of the county bar association are "after his scalp." He has retained counsel and will fight the case through the courts.

JEFFERSON COUNTY WOMAN ATTACKED IN HER FARM HOME

Fairbury, Neb., Nov. 28.—(Special Telegram.)—The entire police force of this county is busily engaged tracing an assault on the person of Mrs. Vernon Logan, living at the little village of Shea, six miles east of here. (This makes the second attack on two women in the same vicinity in less than two weeks.)

According to Mrs. Logan's statement to Sheriff Rawles, the assault occurred about 3 o'clock last evening. She went to fix the fire and while she was leaning over the stove, she was seized by a man who had stealthily entered the house by a side door.

Mrs. Logan resisted the fellow and in the light that followed she once again to the telephone, but her assailant seized her and pulled the telephone from the wall. Finally through exhaustion she lost consciousness.

Her clothing was torn from her body, when the man evidently left without doing further harm. The county attorney, sheriff and deputy worked all night to find a clue.

Miss Cole was attacked by a man in her yard about 10 days ago. He grabbed and choked the girl. A night or two before some one flashed a light on Miss Cole and a caller while they were in the parlor. It is believed that the same man attacked both Miss Cole and Mrs. Logan.

Policeman, Scouting Store Robbery, Nearly Shoots Fellow Officer

Circumstantial evidence nearly proved the undoing of at least two men last night. Discovery of the truth probably averted a tragedy. Patsy Rinn, desk sergeant at the police station, and his father-in-law, John T. Ward, of Ulysses, Neb., attended a bazaar at St. Cecilia's hall, Fortieth and Webster streets, last evening. Both have a fondness for bazars.

When they started home they had two buff orpington chickens, a box of apples, two boxes of spaghetti and a 32-pound turkey. It was decided that Pat was to carry the apples, spaghetti and other prizes to Fortieth and Cumming streets. Father-in-law was to struggle along in that direction with the weighty turkey.

When Pat reached his destination father-in-law was lumbering along several blocks to the rear, fatigued.

TAYLOR MAY AND HE MAY NOT ENTER LISTS

Custer County Statesman Non-committal on His Attitude With Respect to Nonpartisan League in Nebraska.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) Lincoln, Nov. 28.—(Special.)—W. J. Taylor of Merna will not be a candidate for governor, if—

W. J. Taylor of Merna will be a candidate for governor, if—

Mr. Taylor was in Lincoln today and to The Bee slipped the information above, but in each instance the little old word "if" was injected into the proposition when The Bee asked him point blank if he was going to be a candidate of the nonpartisan league.

It is all up to the league. If, when that organization holds its state convention next spring the delegates conclude that Mr. Taylor is the right man and can get the nomination from the democratic party, they will endorse him for the place.

On the other hand the league decides to pass the honor on to some other man who has the stamp of approval of the league and can get the nomination from either the republican or democratic party, it will be all right with the Custer county statesman.

"In the words of Edgar Howard," said Mr. Taylor, "Many men may be just as unafraid as I am, but none more so!"

Depends on Future. Speaking further on the matter, Mr. Taylor said: "If after the nonpartisan league has had its convention in the spring and agrees on some man for senator or governor, party leaders of the old parties or the press antagonize the action of the convention in face of their long profession of friendship for the laboring man and the farmer, then in that case there may be some warrant for independent action on the part of four organizations the action of our organization in putting up candidates of our own."

This was the answer to the question whether the nonpartisan league would run an independent ticket or not. "The man who works is the man who always pays the bills," said Mr. Taylor, "and for that reason is entitled to a reasonable representation in government affairs, which he does not have now."

The league is now organizing in 15 states besides Nebraska. Mr. Evans, head local organizer, today reiterated the statement made by Mr. Taylor regarding the action of the nonpartisan state convention. "Our convention will be made up of delegates selected at precinct and county conventions," said Mr. Evans. "Something like we used to have before the primary?" asked the reporter.

How League Will Work. "Something like that," replied Mr. Evans, "only that there will be more independent action. The delegates elected under the old caucus system used to make up as a slate, but under our system they will be selected by the members of our organization. The delegates selected at the precinct meeting will be sent to a county convention which will, by the same method, select the delegates to the state convention which will meet some time in the spring. By that time it is probable that most of the men who expect to be candidates at the primary will have been mentioned sufficiently so that we can endorse such of them as we feel are with us in our fight for representation. If neither of the old parties nominate the men we shall endorse, then it will be up to us to take other action, just what I do not know. That will be up to the league to determine."

Mr. Evans denied that he or any of his official family had held any conference with Bryan democrats regarding the matter.

Seeing his plight, Pat laid down his bundles and hastened to his assistance. Policeman Ryan, patrolling a beat at Fortieth and Cumming streets, spied a man lurking in the shadow of a grocery store. In his arms were several large bundles. Ryan's suspicions were aroused. As he watched the man the latter hastily dropped his bundles and fled. Ryan gave chase, firing at him. After a pursuit of several blocks the fleeing man joined an "accomplice" and both stopped. Ryan rushed up, gun in hand, expecting a struggle, but was dumfounded to discover that the "culprits" were his old friend, Patsy Rinn, and the latter's father-in-law.

Pat is planning on attending another bazaar, but he says if he wins a Victrola or a ton of coal he will not attempt to carry them home.

Lincoln Grocerymen Agitated at Omaha Prices

(From a Staff Correspondent.) Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 28.—(Special.)—Lincoln grocerymen are considerably agitated over the prices for food stuffs published under the Hoover order, as compared with Omaha, the table showing that Lincoln is considerably higher, one instance being that of flour, which is quoted in Omaha at $1.44 for a 24-pound sack, and $1.05 in Lincoln. The table is interesting, but Lincoln grocers explain that the same quality of food stuff is not quoted in Omaha that is quoted for Lincoln. The comparative prices on some are as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Item and Price. Items include Wheat flour, Cornmeal, Potatoes, Salmon, Milk, Butter, Eggs, Bacon, Round steak.

In some instances prices were less in Omaha than in Lincoln, but on the more staple articles Lincoln prices were the highest.

Defense Council Will Not Act on Labor Law

(From a Staff Correspondent.) Lincoln, Nov. 28.—(Special.)—The State Council of Defense will make no recommendation or take any action toward a modification of the female labor law of this state, according to action of the committee appointed to investigate the matter upon application of several food supply houses of Omaha, that claimed to have government contracts and were unable to fill them on schedule time because of a lack of employees. The committee reported: "Your committee appointed to look into the labor situation as it affects the women workers in factories, which are asking for the temporary suspension of the nine-hour law, has thoroughly investigated conditions and finds that that matter is one to be handled by the federal government and that the Nebraska State Council of Defense can act only on the instructions of the government at Washington."

JEWISH RABBIS TO HOLD CONFERENCE

Will Organize Orthodox Congregations to Further Scheme for Reorganization of Palestine.

New York, Nov. 28.—More than 600 rabbis will attend the conference of the Jewish Ministers' Association of America in this city December 4 to consider practical measures for work in Palestine, in accordance with the declaration of the British government favoring the establishment of a national Jewish home land, the executive committee of general Zionist affairs announced here tonight.

The specific purpose of the conference, the announcement stated, is to organize orthodox congregations of America to realize the dream of a Jewish nation. Rabbi Mordecai A. Kaplan, chairman of the committee of arrangements, refuted the charges that the orthodox Jews in America are indifferent to the present opportunity to regain Palestine.

"Such talk is absurd," he asserted. "The Jews hold no such belief, though there may be such belief among some of the more ignorant and superstitious of our people. We realize that the reorganization of Palestine is a matter of practical politics and we realize that unless we take every possible step to translate this opportunity into reality a great hope which has been the dominating hope of our prayers these last 1,900 years is forever gone."

CONSTIPATION INVITES DISEASE

A reliable laxative is necessary to the comfort and health of any well-ordered household. Constipation is a condition that affects in greater or less degree, practically every member of the family. When the bowels refuse to act the entire system is affected; digestion is impaired, nerves begin to twitch, foul gases and poisons generated by decomposing substances in the intestines are distributed throughout the body, and often result in serious illness. A prominent French ecologist says ninety-five percent of all human disease is directly traceable to inactive bowels. More than a quarter of a century ago Dr. W. B. Caldwell prescribed a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepper that is now the standard remedy in thousands of homes. This prescription is sold by druggists for fifty cents a bottle, under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. A trial bottle can be obtained, free of charge, by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 456 Washington St., Monticello, Minn.
