Milk Prices in Omaha Not to Go Higher—Corliss
 "In my opinion Omaha milk prices will not go any higher," said Leroy Corliss, president of the Alamito Dairy company and the Waterloo Creamery company, this morning. "While it is true the extremely high cost of feed and help has greatly increased the cost of production, the joint operation of the Waterloo Creamery company and the Alamito Dairy company will effect a great saving in operating expense and investment, which will make it possible to reduce the cost of the distribution of milk in Omaha."
 Mr. Corliss briefly outlined improvement in service to be made immediately.
 As a result of negotiations commenced last July Mr. Corliss and his associates, together with the Waterloo Creamery company, have recently purchased a controlling interest in the Alamito Dairy company. Leroy Corliss, president; Bert E. Corliss, vice president; H. P. Ryner, secretary and treasurer; Frank L. Kernan, manager, make up the new official roster of the Alamito Dairy company.

Women Outline Plans for Drive in Interests of K. of C.
 A meeting was held in the Knights of Columbus club rooms Tuesday afternoon of the women interested in the Knights of Columbus campaign. Mrs. T. J. Fitzmorris presided. Under her direction committees were organized to canvass the main office buildings in Omaha next Saturday. Committees were also appointed to canvass the foot ball games on the Creighton field Thanksgiving day and on Saturday afternoon. In addition a committee was named in each parish to canvass the grocery stores and other retail stores within the outlying sections of the city.
 The Albion committee reports that the pledges there up to date exceed $2,000. Lawrence has raised its quota of $1,000. Crete has pledged $900 of its quota of $1,500. Plattsmouth has passed its quota of $750. Havelock has raised over $500; its quota was $400. The cathedral parish at Lincoln has passed the $8,000 mark, the original quota for this parish being $5,000. The grand total now is $63,698.53.

Aged Father of Madam Borglum Dies in France
 Jean Vignal, father of Madame August Mothe Borglum, died Sunday in Paris, according to word received from General Paul Vignal in Washington, D. C. Dr. Vignal was 87 years old and was the founder of the First Baptist church in Paris, which he served for more than 60 years. He preached in this church up to three or four years ago.
 Dr. Vignal served in the ambulance corps in the Franco-Prussian war in 1870 and received honors for distinguished service.
 There is another daughter surviving, Mrs. Solon Borglum of New York, wife of the noted sculptor and artist.

Flagmen Walk Ahead of Trains Coming to Omaha
 On account of the dense fog, every train coming into the Union station was late this morning. In the passenger yards the fog was so dense that the block and other signals could not be seen. Trains were flagged into the station by trackmen walking ahead of them. The same rule applied to trains going out.

Col. A. D. Fetterman Stops Off Here for a Few Days
 Colonel A. D. Fetterman, Hyannis, county attorney of Grant county, is in town, enroute home from Union county, South Dakota, where he went to bury his mother, one of the Dakota pioneers. Mrs. Fetterman was 85 years of age and died in Kansas, where she had gone to visit a son.
