

LENINE REGIME GIVES PLACE TO NEW COALITION

Advanced Socialists Form Cabinet in Which Bolsheviks Are Represented to Displace Old Leaders.

London, Nov. 30.—The government of Nikolai Lenine has fallen, according to a Petrograd dispatch to the Daily Chronicle dated Wednesday. It has been succeeded by a coalition cabinet of advanced socialists, in which, however, the Bolsheviks are represented.

A Russian communication received here by wireless announces a union between the All-Russian central executive committee of the council of workmen's soldiers' delegates with the executive committee elected by the All-Russian peasants' congress. At a united meeting of these bodies and the Petrograd council of workmen's and soldiers' delegates a unanimous agreement was reached as to laws concerning land and peace and to the law resting control in the hands of the workmen.

Peace Proposals Affect Bourse.

Amsterdam, Nov. 30.—The feeling on the bourse here that the Russo-German negotiations portend a shortening of the war has caused a rush of buying orders, although there are warning voices that a peace with Russia does not necessarily mean peace in Europe. Rumanian oil stocks rose sharply yesterday and closed at their highest mark for some time, stood at a little over 33 Dutch cents, now are nearly 35.

LANDSDOWNE'S TALK IS MOVE FOR PEACE

Tory Leader Throws England Into Ferment by Letter Calling on Allies to Make Move for End of War.

London, Nov. 30.—The strongest impetus to a renewal of the heated discussions of the rival schools on the war policy of the allies was provoked yesterday from a most unexpected quarter by publication of a long letter from the Marquis of Lansdowne, strongly pleading for a revision of the allies' war aims and an attempt to obtain peace before "the prolongation of the war leads to the ruin of the civilized world."

OLD TORY MEMBER.

The Marquis of Lansdowne is a typical representative of the old Tory party. He was a member of Asquith's coalition administration and was secretary for foreign affairs in Lord Salisbury's and Mr. Balfour's ministries. He was viceroy of India and governor-general of Canada. He was the last public man to be suspected of pacifist tendencies.

His letter gives formal adhesion to President Wilson's policy of a league of nations and he asks:

NATIONS EXHAUSTED.

"What will be the value of the blessings of peace to nations so exhausted that they can scarcely stretch forth a hand to grasp them?" Lord Lansdowne contends that an immense stimulus probably would be given to the peace party in Germany if it were understood:

"First, that the annihilation of Germany as a great power was not desired; second, that we do not seek to impose upon the German people a form of government against their choice; third, that, except as a legitimate war measure, we do not desire to deny Germany her place among the great commercial countries; fourth, that we are prepared after the war, in concert with other powers, to examine the international problems connected with the freedom of the seas; fifth, that we are prepared to enter into an international pact under which ample opportunities would be afforded for the settlement of international disputes by peaceful means."

Lansdowne's long and intimate connection with foreign affairs and diplomacy lends unusual authority to such a pronouncement at the moment of the meeting of the inter-allied conference at Paris and because of Clemenceau's recent declaration against a league of nations, including Germany. Already there are indications of embittered controversy over it.

It is announced that the government had no previous knowledge of the letter and the strongest supporters of the government in the evening press suggest that the letter is very unwelcome to the government.

Germany Untrustworthy.

The Evening News demurs against Lansdowne's suggestions on the ground that Germany's word cannot be trusted in any matter and that an attempt to argue with it would be a sheer waste of time.

The Asquith papers hail the letter as one of the most remarkable documents that the war has produced, the Star greeting the letter as the most formidable attack yet made on the Lloyd George "knock out blow policy."

M. P. Officials to Decide Whether to Move Offices

Missouri Pacific officials are in Omaha for the purpose of determining whether or not the freight and passenger offices will be moved out of the Ware block. Fifteenth and Farnam streets, prior to the expiration of the lease, two years hence.

The electric light company has bought the Ware block and officials are anxious to get immediate possession in order to make extensive changes prior to moving in. These cannot be made so long as the first floor is occupied by the railroad. It is said that the electric light company representatives have made overtures looking to paying the railroad company a bonus if it moves out and at once gives possession.

Missouri Pacific officials who are here handling the deal for the company are W. H. Murphy, general manager, and H. M. Adams, vice president of the traffic department, St. Louis; J. L. Adams, general freight agent, and Ellis Farnsworth, assistant general passenger agent, Kansas City.

Ft. Crook Sammies Who Were Dinner Guests of Eleven Dundee Families on Thanksgiving Day at School House

Here are the soldiers from Fort Crook, more than 25 of them, who were guests of honor at the largest Thanksgiving dinner party in the city Thursday. The affair was planned by Mr. and Mrs. William Burke with the assistance of 10 more families. The invitation to the soldiers was extended through The Bee. The school board granted the use of the Dundee school lunch room to accommodate the large party. After dinner the boys played games in the school yard as they used to in their boyhood days and in the evening the whole party went to the movies.

CHILEAN WOMAN'S TRIALS RESUMED; DEFENSE RESTS

Indications Case Will Not Be Given to Jury Before Middle of the Coming Week.

Mineola, N. Y., Nov. 30.—The trial of Mrs. Blanca De Saules for the murder of her divorced husband, John De Saules, was resumed in the supreme court today with indications that the case would not be given to the jury before Wednesday.

Attorney Uterhart, announcing the completion of the hypothetical question to be submitted on behalf of the defense, made known the phrasing of the beginning and concluding parts of the 15,000-word interrogation just before the opening of court this morning.

Mrs. De Saules seemed weary by the long court proceedings, despite the holiday recess, when she appeared in court. She seemed more dejected than at any time since the beginning of the trial and sat with a downcast stare, apparently without taking heed of what was going on about her.

After reading of the hypothetical question had continued 30 minutes "Juror No. 4" fell asleep. He was awakened by the juror seated on his left. Several others in the jury box did not seem to be much interested in the lengthy interrogation. Two or three, with closed eyes, nodded in their chairs, while others looked about the court room or through the windows into the countryside beyond.

Because District Attorney Charles R. Weeks did not approve of the framing of the hypothetical question put by Mrs. De Saules' attorneys, he served notice that he would prepare one to his own liking, which he will submit to aliens called on behalf of the state.

This was expected to lengthen the taking of testimony considerably and it is believed the examination of expert witnesses will not be ended before Monday or Tuesday.

Before the defense rested its case, Attorney Uterhart stated that Mrs. Blanca Errazuriz, Mrs. De Saules' mother, was too ill to testify.

The defense rested its case at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

NATIONAL GUARD AND AIR FLEET ARRIVE IN FRANCE

(By Associated Press.)

American engineers played a large part in the preparations leading up to the successful British blow toward Cambrai last week. These are the first American troops to take part in operations on the British front.

National Guardsmen from every state in the union and the vanguard of the American air fleet have arrived behind the front in France. Many of the former guardsmen already are undergoing training within sound of the guns at the front. Meanwhile American aviators are training actively with the American troops.

Germany is ready to discuss peace with Russia, if envoys with full powers are sent to Berlin. Count von Hertling, the new imperial chancellor, declared yesterday before the Reichstag. He expressed the wish that the present efforts of the Bolsheviks would bring peace and declared that the central powers were not responsible for the prolongation of the war and held out as a warning to others "the glorious advance" into Italy.

Conditions in Russia apparently remain greatly unsettled. It is reported that Lenine's government has given way to a socialist coalition cabinet, in which the Bolsheviks are represented.

Excellent Laxative For Elderly People

As we pass the prime of life the various organs of the body have a tendency to weaken, especially the bowels. Regularity in this important function is so essential to good health that old folks should be very careful to avoid constipation. A congestion of stomach waste in the bowels occasions dizziness, headache, drowsiness after eating, biliousness, belching, bloating, piles, etc., and should be corrected immediately; it is the direct cause of much serious disease.

The most effective remedy for constipation is a combination of simple laxative herbs with psyllium sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It costs only fifty cents a bottle, is mild in its action, does not grip or strain, and brings relief quickly in an easy, natural manner. Get a bottle of it from your druggist and keep it in the house; it is the ideal family remedy. A trial bottle can be obtained free of charge by writing to Dr. W. B. ward Cambrai and have made a slight advance west of Brouillon wood. Heavy artillery activity continues in the Ypres sector. No infantry actions of importance are reported from the Italian front, but the opposing cannon are very busy. Much discussion has been provoked in England by the publication of a letter by the marquis of Lansdowne, a veteran political leader. He pleads for a revision of the war aims of the allies and an attempt to obtain peace before the war leads to the ruin of the civilized world.

Dispatches from the British front in France report an attack by the Germans in progress in the region of Gonnelleu, in the Cambrai battle area. The point struck at lies at the southerly base of the salient formed by General Byng's recent advance. The early advices did not disclose whether the attack was merely a Fears for the Worst.

The theater wasn't in the west end of London and the play had a plot which left the audience with eyes staring and hair on end. But one night the principal actor was ill and his understudy took the part. He fumbled over his lines, spoke in faltering tones and fell over things as he moved about the stage. The audience shuffled. Then the hero took the heroine in his arms. "Keep a brave heart, my darling," he murmured. "The worst is yet to come." Whereupon a voice yelled out: "Are you going to sing, mister?"—London Chronicle.
