

WM. CHANDLER DIES AT CONCORD HOME

Father of New Navy Closes Life of Ceaseless Political Activity at the Age of 82.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 30.—William Eaton Chandler, who, as secretary of the navy in President Arthur's cabinet, was largely responsible for the beginning of the modern United States navy, died at his home here today.

While in Washington last March Mr. Chandler was stricken with illness. He was able to return to New Hampshire later and spent the summer at his country estate in Waterloo. This fall he came to his home here, where his health steadily failed.

Father of New Navy.
In a lifetime of ceaseless political activity and almost continuous controversy the one title freely accorded by men of all parties to William Eaton Chandler was that of "father of the new United States navy." As secretary of the navy under President Arthur Mr. Chandler on June 11, 1883, approved the plan for the reorganization of the navy which resulted in the development of the present fighting fleet.

The democrats were very slow to forgive Mr. Chandler for the part he took in framing the electoral commission of 1876 and in placing Rutherford B. Hayes in the White House. Democratic revenge was wreaked when the senate, in 1881, refused to confirm President Garfield's appointment of Mr. Chandler as solicitor general.

Born at Concord, N. H., December 28, 1835, Mr. Chandler was educated at academies in New Hampshire and Vermont and was graduated from the Harvard law school at the age of 19. One of his classmates at the law school was Joseph M. Choate. He entered politics at once, served three terms in the New Hampshire house of representatives and was elected speaker of the house when but 27 years old. His first entrance into national political affairs was as one of the founders of the republican party and a supporter of Abraham Lincoln. President Lincoln appointed him solicitor and judge advocate general of the navy in 1862 and three months later he became first assistant secretary of the treasury.

Organized Greeley Relief Expedition.
While secretary of the navy Mr. Chandler organized the expedition which, under the command of Captain Winfield S. Schley, went to the relief of the Greeley Arctic exploration party.

Fourteen years of service in the United States senate ended when Mr. Chandler was defeated for re-nomination in 1901 by Henry E. Burnham. His radical views on railroad legislation, which brought him in opposition to republican party leaders, were responsible for this defeat. During the remainder of his life Mr. Chandler made many attacks on what he considered the undue influence exerted by railroads in New England politics. His last federal position was that of president of the Spanish war claims commission, to which he was named by President McKinley in 1901 and reappointed by President Roosevelt.

Baker Combats "Slacker Commissions" by New Rules

Washington, Nov. 30.—So-called "slacker commissions," by which men of draft age seek to escape service in the ranks and get officers' places in non-combatant branches of the army, have struck a snag in two general policies laid down by Secretary Baker.

They are, first, that no men of draft age be commissioned unless it is shown clearly that they are better fitted for the special work to which they are called than any civilian beyond the draft age whose services can be obtained, and second, that no function of the army that can be carried on efficiently with civilians, shall be placed on a military footing by commissioning the men needed to supervise the work.

The policy is founded on the theory that there are older men in civil life fitted for the special duties required to whom such commissions could be given, leaving the men of draft age to the operations of the law. It is not desirable, however, to make any hard and fast rule against staff commissions for draft, since there certainly are special cases which should be considered.

Hungarian Socialists Make Demonstration Against War

Amsterdam, Nov. 30.—A great socialist demonstration at Budapest on Sunday in favor of an armistice and peace is reported by the Vossische Zeitung of Berlin. Declarations were made that democracy must employ all means to end the war, and that it is impossible to bring peace by force of arms. These statements led to a demonstration against the war and in favor of a general strike.

A resolution was adopted opposing the aims of the pan-Germans and annexation of Poland and Livonia by Germany. The meeting voted in favor of holding an international labor conference at Stockholm.

He had established connections in certain quarters of fashionable society, it was reported, and friends said he and a daughter of a California student, daughter of a San Francisco man, were engaged.

Four Generations in This Prominent Nebraska Family Poses for Picture

Mrs. Elizabeth McKinnon, 72 years old, was born in Tain, Scotland. She is of "country gentlemen" lineage. Her grandfather, Meikle, designed a number of Scottish castles. While in charge of the construction of one of these castles, Mr. Meikle voluntarily raised the wages of workmen from 12 1/2 cents per day to 25 cents per day, an act which endeared him in the hearts of the working class all over Scotland. He was also a prominent Mason.

Mrs. McKinnon was married in Glasgow. She came to Canada in 1867 and to the United States five years later, and settled finally in western Nebraska in 1889. Mr. McKinnon died 13 years ago. Grandmother McKinnon is hale and hearty and active, and is "doing her bit" knitting sweaters and socks for the boys at the front.

RAILROAD HEADS BASE TRAFFIC TIEUP

Ask More Sea Tugs to Relieve Congestion to the East; Make Further Freight Diversions.

(By Associated Press.)
Pittsburgh, Nov. 30.—To enable the moving of more coal to the New England states and to relieve the congestion on eastern railroads, the general operating committee of the railroads board today asked, through General Board, chief of engineers, and Dr. H. A. Garfield, federal fuel administrator, that more sea-going tugs be furnished to move boats of shallow draught from the ports of Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York to New England points. The congestion is due, the committee believes, to the commandeering by the Navy department of 25 per cent of the sea-going tugs.

Amplifying the order issued yesterday diverting traffic from the Pittsburgh gateway another order has been sent to eastern railroads providing "that all freight west-bound from New England, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Harrisburg and intermediate points be embargoed and diverted to northern routes."

The committee, at its meeting today, adopted a resolution asking the eastern seaport lines to organize overseas committees, one for each of the ports of Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Norfolk. The object of these committees is "to obtain close co-operation with the allied overseas executive committee and with the United States authorities and thereby obtain best results in the rail movement of overseas traffic."

German Invents Substitute for Gasoline; Valuable for U-Boats

Mincola, N. Y., Nov. 30.—An order restraining Louis Enricht, a German inventor of a so-called substitute for gasoline, from disposing of his product and from giving out information regarding it was signed here today by Supreme Court Justice Manning. The substitute is declared to be of value in the operation of submarines, according to a bill of particulars filed with the complaint in which the restraining order was asked.

Enricht, who is 70 years old and who was born in Germany, is alleged to have negotiated with "spies and representatives of the German government now in this country" for the sale of his formula to Germany.

The bill of particulars declares that prior to America entering the war, Enricht proposed to sell his secret to Germany for $1,500,000; and that on November 12 he agreed to let it be sold to the United States government for $500,000 cash and $5,000,000 a year for 15 years on condition that none of America's allies in the war should share the secret.

Use Wood for Coal; Relieve Fuel Tieup

Washington, Nov. 30.—To help meet the shortage of 50,000,000 tons in the country's coal supply, the fuel administration in co-operation with the Department of Agriculture has inaugurated an intensive campaign for the substitution of wood for coal.

"One cord of hard wood is equal to a ton of coal," said an announcement by the fuel administration. "One ton is released for use in war work for every cord of wood substituted. Statistics show that there is a vast amount of dead wood in many sections of the country and that the supply of wood in many communities is sufficient for domestic purposes in these parts."

N. Y. FETES ARMY ON TURKEY DAY

Dinners at 5c Provided for Poor; Actors Stage Continuous Program in Madison Square Garden.

(By Associated Press.)
New York, Nov. 30.—Neither the high cost of turkey nor food conservation had any visible effect upon the observance of Thanksgiving day in New York. But there was a martial note in the festivities, which has been lacking in other years, for thousands of soldiers, sailors and marines were honored guests in homes, clubs, hotels and restaurants. In fact, so great was the desire to honor the nation's fighting men that there were not enough of them to go around, and many persons who had extended invitations had to do without khaki or blue clad guests.

It was essentially a soldiers' holiday and estimates placed the number of them entertained in the city at 30,000. The day began with services in the churches, where prayers for the success and honor of America's arms were offered by hundreds of pastors, priests and rabbis. Then followed the feasting and the entertainments.

Stage Free Entertainment.
Probably the highest event of the day was the dinner and entertainment given at Madison Square Garden by the Patriotic Service league. A uniform was all the admission ticket required and 6,000 soldiers and sailors received a cordial welcome. Scores of famous actors and musicians provided a continuous program from 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon until midnight.

While the men of democracy's army were the ones the city delighted most to honor, the poor were not forgotten. St. Andrew's society served more than 2,000. A line two blocks long formed in Eighth street early this morning and all who came were made welcome. The Third street Young Men's Christian association near the Bowery served turkey dinners at 5 cents each to 2,000 needy men. The Bowery Mission had as its guests more than 800 men it had rescued from the slums.

Shell Hits Munitions Wagon; Two Sammies Die

With the American Army in France, Nov. 30.—The killing of two American soldiers and the wounding of five others several days ago, already reported, was due to a heavy German shell, which hit a loaded ammunition wagon. Some of the men were on the wagon and others were nearby when the shell, which was a chance shot, struck. The wagon, with its cargo, was blown up. Some of the wounded are in a serious condition and all are in the hospital.

Force Russ Banker to Finance New Regime

Petrograd, Nov. 30.—A decree has been issued by Nikolai Lenin and Leon Trotsky, the Bolshevik premier and foreign minister respectively, giving the commissioner of the State bank the right to issue from the state treasury a short time advance to the council of commissaries of 25,000,000 rubles.

The decree followed a conference of the commissioner and the bank authorities, after which the bank managers resigned. Their places have been filled by appointees of the Workmen's and Soldiers' delegates, which will doubtless insure the acquisition of the funds mentioned.
