

TROPHY AND PRIZE WINNERS AT OMAHA POULTRY SHOW

Silver Cups Galore Among the Awards of Merit Granted to Exhibitors in City Auditorium; John Skinner of Blair and Pierce Poultry Farm Among Silver Challenger Leaders; Awards in Classes.

Gay with blue and red cards and ribbons, the Auditorium today reveals who are the prize-winning poultry raisers of Nebraska. Judges have completed the work of awards and have named the particular pens and birds that have won for their owners distinction in the poultry world. Those who pay the big show place a visit today may know what means excellence, according to the Nebraska standard—and that's some standard.

U. S. TO REGULATE WAR LABOR DEMANDS

Industrial Service of Defense Council Will Give New Jobs to the Men That Need Them.

(By Associated Press.) Washington, Dec. 1.—Preparations for greater governmental aid in adjusting labor supply to war needs were put under way today by the Council of National Defense, with the appointment of L. C. Marshall, dean of the school of commerce and administration of the University of Chicago, as chief of a newly created section of industrial service.

The new section will undertake preliminary investigation of the increasing number of labor problems arising in direct ratio to the growing demands for war supplies. This inquiry will have four main objects:

"To determine present and probable future demands for labor in war industries."
"To determine in connection with the priorities committee of the war industries board the relative priorities of the labor demand."
"To arrange for the supplying of the demand through the Department of Labor of such other governmental or civilian agencies as can best meet the demand."
"To determine the needs for dilution of labor, including the introduction of women into industry and to recommend policies to be followed in regard thereto."

When the facts have been established in the case of labor shortage handicapping any line of industry, the council will look to representatives of the workers to supply available men. The section on industrial service will have functions comparable to the duties of the war industries board and will bring to the defense council digested information from all government departments regarding labor questions, but will not have power to take executive action.

The American Federation of Labor has promised to co-operate and will send officials here to confer with the council.

No Serious Shortage.

Except in the case of shipyards and railroads it is said there has been no serious shortage of workers as yet in any of the industries directly related to military operations, but as the army expands and with it the need for munitions and subsistence supplies, it is expected that many factories will need hundreds of additional men. At the same time unemployment is expected to result in other lines of work not essential to the conduct of the war and which will be forced to curtail production by lack of materials and less purchasing of materials by the public. It will be the task of the section on industrial service, aided by union officials, to adjust the need for men to the men needing work.

Civilians May Pay War Premiums for Soldiers

Aberdeen, S. D., Dec. 1.—A definite ruling that civilians may pay premiums on federal insurance for soldiers and sailors, has been received here by A. E. Chamberlain, formerly farmers' institute conductor for South Dakota. The ruling came in response to his inquiry whether it was possible for civilians to pay the premium instead of having the government take them from soldiers' and sailors' pay. He offered to pay the insurance on the lives of two soldiers and expressed the belief that many other civilians would be glad to "do their bit" in the same manner.

Recently Mr. Chamberlain received a letter from S. Z. Rotschild, chief of the division of information, in answer to his communication, in which the chief stated that "there is no provision in the act of October 6, 1917, or in the regulations of this bureau, prohibiting the payment of soldiers' premiums by persons other than the person himself."

Officer Who Disobeyed His Orders Must Serve Sentence

New York, Dec. 1.—A sentence of five years at hard labor, imposed by a federal court martial on Charles E. Gerlach, former second officer of a government steamship for disobedience at sea, was upheld by Judge Hand in the federal district court here today. A writ of habeas corpus, in which it was argued that Gerlach as a civilian, was not amenable to military law, was dismissed.

Gerlach was returning to the United States as a passenger on an army transport, having been transferred from the vessel on which he left this country. He volunteered to be officer of a lookout for submarines and several hours after he had done his watch he was again ordered to the bridge for another tour of duty. Gerlach refused on the ground that he was a civilian and a passenger on the transport. He was charged with violation of the second article of war, tried and convicted. Since October 17, he has been serving his sentence on Governor's Island.

NEW SUGAR PROBE SHOWS REFINERS MADE BIG MONEY

Los Angeles, Dec. 1.—Profits of about $900,000 on an investment of $500,000 were made by one beet sugar refinery in southern California last year, while beet growers lost money, according to a telegram sent tonight to President Wilson and Food Administrator Hoover, by District Attorney Woolwine as the result of a county grand jury investigation of the sugar beet growing industry.

Another refinery with an investment of $1,250,000, made a net profit of between $900,000 and $1,000,000 on prices much lower than those approved recently by the government, the telegram said. The farmers are refusing to plant beets and relief for the serious situation can come only from government action, it was stated.

Government Control of Imports Brings Pressure to Bear on Countries Holding Products. U. S. Needs.

(By Associated Press.) Washington, Dec. 1.—Government control of imports, just put into operation by President Wilson, will be used to its fullest extent to force the release to America at fair prices of war supplies now held by other countries under embargo.

In a statement outlining an import policy, the war trade board, which has organized a bureau to license imports, makes it clear that countries receiving American exports are expected to reciprocate by shipping more freely the commodities needed by the United States.
