> Nebraska Grain Needed To Save Cattle in Texas

Nebraska grain and hay is badly wanted in Texas to feed the cattle which had to be taken off the dry range, where they were starving. E. W. Cole, assistant in grain and forage in Texas, has written Ne-braska Food Administrator Wattles, asking for an estimate of the amount of grain and hay in Nebraska available for purchase and what it can be bought for. It is said that over 1,000,000 cattle have had to be rushed out of the Panhandle district of Texas, where the range was drouthstricken.

Quotations furnished by Burns, Brinker and company, 449-52, Omaha National Bank building, Omaha: A survey of the available grain and hay of Nebraska will be made so that Asked these questions can be correctly an-103 swered.

Decide Not to Build Hay

Exchange Building Now

No Hay Exchange building is to be built in Omaha at present. The matter will now go over until after the annual meeting of the exchange next April. This was decided at a meeting of the directors when the proposition was taken up. The immediate plans for building were given up on account of uncertainty as to what class of structure the government would consider essential at present in view of the need of steel and other building materials to prosecute the
