How the city of Halifax was aved from greater damage by the bravery of a former British skipper was revealed today.

The British steamer Picton, heavily laden with munitions like the Mont Blanc, was lying close enough to be ripped and torn by the explosion. Nearly every member of the crew, including their commander, was killed.

And then occurred an act of heroism worthy of the best traditions of the sea. Captain J. W. Harrison, marine superintendent of the Furness-Withy line at Halifax, knew that the icton had put in here several days before with a broken rudder. Harrison also knew of the cargo.

It took only a half minute for the captain to reach the blazing ship. He cut the steel hawsers and set it adrift, but he went with it. The fire was easily accessible and, attaching a reel of hose, he played a stream of water on the blaze and soon had it under

Drinker Must Tell Who Supplied His Liquor

Sioux Falls, S. D., Dec, 10 .- (Special.)-Judge Jones of the state circuit court of this city in a case coming before him to test the constitutionality of an important provision of the state-wide prohibition law, has rendered a decision to the effect that a man arrested for intoxication can be forced to tell the name of the person from whom he procured the liquor. The case before Judge Jones was the outgrowth of the case of John Thomas Brown on the charge of being intoxicated. When Brown refused to tell where he procured the liquor, he was sent to jail for contempt. His attorney sought his refease on a habeas corpus proceeding, contending that for Brown to furnish the information sought by one of the officers would tend to incriminate him-

An organized band of hard coal thieves are operating in Beresford and vicinity. The thieves evidently are equipped with wagons in which to haul away the stolen coal. Thus far many tons have been stolen from coal cars. Owing to the high price of hard coal and the unusual scarcity, it is feared that in many cases it will be necessary to place guards over the cars of coal when they stand overnight in the railway yards waiting to be unloaded.

Don't worry any more about that itching skin-trouble. Just get a jar of Resinol Ointment and a cake of Resinol Soap at any drug store. With the Resinol Soap and warm water bathe the affected parts thoroughly, until they are free from crusts and the skin is softened. Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of the Resinol Ointment, and cover with a light bandage

-if necessary to protect the clothing. This should be done twice a day. Usually the distressing itching and burning stop with the first treatment, and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again.

Resinol Ointment, with the help of Resinol Soap, clears away pimples and is a most reliable house-hold remedy for sores, wounds, burns, chafings, stubborn little sores, etc. Sold in two sizes (Soc. and $1), never in bulk.
