

VANDERLIP WILL SPEND BUSY DAY IN OMAHA TODAY

New York Banker and Chairman of War Savings Committee Not to Have Minute's Rest Here.

Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank of New York and chairman of the national war savings committee, sent a message to Ward M. Burgess Wednesday night that he must have two hours rest between talks in Omaha. He sent the notification too late, however, as the Omaha committee under the direction of O. T. Eastman has scheduled him a job for every minute of his time while in the city.

Mr. Vanderlip will arrive in Omaha over the Northwestern railroad at 11:35 o'clock this morning, will speak at the Commercial club at noon, meet with the Nebraska war savings committee at 2 o'clock, speak at the Brandeis theater at 4 o'clock, be entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner by the Omaha Clearing House association, speak at the Boyd theater at 8 o'clock and leave Omaha at 10:55 o'clock over the Burlington railroad.

Two of Mr. Vanderlip's Omaha talks, those at the Brandeis and Boyd theaters, will be open to the public. No collection will be taken up and no solicitation of funds will be made.

Accompanied by Wife. Mrs. Vanderlip is accompanying her husband on his speaking tour through the west and will be with him in Omaha. Colonel F. W. Fleming of Kansas City, federal director of war savings work in this district, will also accompany him here.

Mr. Vanderlip and his party will be met at the depot by a committee headed by Mr. Burgess, state war savings director. From the depot Mr. Vanderlip and his party will go immediately to the Commercial club.

At 2 o'clock Mr. Vanderlip will meet with the Nebraska war savings committee and the county chairmen, who have come in from over the state. This meeting will last until 4 o'clock, when Mr. Vanderlip will speak at the Brandeis theater. Frank H. Gaines will introduce Mr. Vanderlip at this meeting. The entire lower floor has been reserved at this meeting for the Omaha teachers and out-of-state visitors. The balcony will be open to the public.

The Omaha Clearing House association will give a dinner for Mr. Vanderlip at 6 o'clock at the Omaha club. Luther Drake will preside. This dinner will be attended by Omaha and state bankers and a few other invited guests.

Open to Public. At 8 o'clock Mr. Vanderlip will speak at the Boyd theater. There will be no reserved seats at the meeting. The entire house will be thrown open to the public. W. F. Gurley will introduce Mr. Vanderlip at this meeting.

It is expected that at all of the meetings Mr. Vanderlip will discuss war savings work. It is understood that he will endeavor to show that the thrift created by the nationwide war savings movement is not only necessary for winning the war, but also for the welfare of the world after the war is over. Mr. Vanderlip, it is said, will advocate the elimination of all labor that is not directly or indirectly necessary to the winning of the war. He is expected to take up in his addresses not only the importance of savings, but explain the war savings stamp plan that he, with Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, worked out in order to raise $2,000,000,000 during the next year for war purposes.

While in Omaha Mrs. Vanderlip will be entertained by Mrs. Ward Burgess and Mrs. Joseph Barker. On account of Mrs. Vanderlip's request that no elaborate entertainment be arranged the only public gathering at which she will be a guest of honor will be at a 4 o'clock tea at the Hotel Fontenelle, which will be attended by women prominent in Red Cross, Liberty loan and war savings work. Mrs. Ward Burgess will entertain Mrs. Vanderlip at a 6:30 o'clock dinner at her home.

Michelson Big Booster For the Thrift Stamps

C. F. F. Michelson, a letter carrier, has had some cards printed at his own expense to boom the selling of thrift and war saving stamps on his route. The cards bear a verse of poetry composed by Michelson and the legend, "America expects every citizen to do his duty. Buy thrift stamps and get behind the president. The flag, keep her floating. Remember Belgium and France. Every stamp is a blow against the kaiser and his Kultur."

VICTOR SUES FOR INFRINGING NAME

Charges Brodegaard Company With Using Similar Trade Mark to Sell Its Machines.

The Victor Talking Machine company of Camden, N. J., filed suit in federal court Thursday against Brodegaard Bros. company, operating a jewelry store at Sixteenth and Douglas streets. The plaintiff alleges that the defendant is infringing the plaintiff's trade mark and trade name and misleading the public.

The complaint states that Brodegaard Bros. company is selling a talking machine named the "Victoria," that the name "Victoria" is placed on the machine in the same position as the name "Victor" on the plaintiff's well-known machine and that folders are printed in such a way as to mislead the public into believing that the "Victoria" talking machine is the "Victor."

Samples of the folders advertising the machine are appended to the complaint. It is pointed out that one of these folders shows a picture of a man standing beside the "Victoria" machine and holding in his hand a "Victor" record, all of which, it is alleged, is part of an intention to mislead and deceive the public. A photograph of the window at Sixteenth and Douglas streets containing the display of the machines is also appended. The window has a sign reading "Victoria talking machine, $45."

The folders advertising the machine are printed in foreign languages. The petition is signed by Charles K. Haddon, vice president of the Victor Talking Machine company. It states also that the trade name, good will, etc., of the Victor company are worth far more than $1,000,000.

Damages are asked from the defendant and an injunction preventing the defendant from continuing to offer the "Victoria" machine for sale under that name.

In the Chicago headquarters of the Rock Island there has been hung a service flag on which there are 1,457 stars.

Cass County Brings Up Two Trucks Full of Booze

Sheriff Quintin of Cass county brought two truck loads of "booze" from Plattsmouth to the federal building here Wednesday. It was that captured from two men who were passing through Plattsmouth en route from St. Joseph to Omaha a few weeks ago. They have been fined in state court and bound over to the federal grand jury on a charge of violation of the Reed amendment. The liquor will be turned over to Forts Omaha and Crook for medicinal use.

You Can't Brush Or Wash Out Dandruff. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and you will feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Adv.

FINDS SCRIPTURE ON JERUSALEM FALL

Rev. C. W. Savidge Quotes From Bible to Show Ascendancy of the Holy City.

Jerusalem was never intended to be a Jewish nation is the opinion of Rev. C. W. Savidge of the People's church, but it shall be a nation of all the peoples of the earth. Mr. Savidge takes this interpretation from three verses of the Bible, which predicts that it shall come to pass that 10 men shall take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying "we will go with you for we have heard that God is with you."

The verses to which Mr. Savidge refers are the twenty-first, twenty-second and twenty-third verses of the eighth chapter of Zachariah: "21. And the inhabitants of one city shall go to another saying, let us go speedily to pray before the Lord and to seek the Lord of hosts. I will go also. 22. Yea, and many people and strong nations shall come to seek the Lord of hosts in Jerusalem and to pray before the Lord. 23. Thus saith the Lord of hosts; in those days it shall come to pass that 10 men shall take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying, we will go with you. For we have heard that God is with you."

QUESTIONNAIRES ON DRAFT MAILED OUT SATURDAY

District Exemption Board to Convene After First of Year to Hear Claims.

The clerks in the local exemption board offices are preparing to send out 17,000 questionnaires to Omaha registrants. Five per cent will be mailed Saturday, and 5 per cent a day will be mailed out for 20 days. There are approximately 18,000 registrants in the Omaha districts but it is estimated that 1,000 have either voluntarily enlisted or were called into service by the boards.

The exemption officials of local boards have arranged to have a number of lawyers on hand, beginning Monday, to assist and advise registrants who desire to claim exemption, and the lawyers will continue on the job until all the registrants are classified.

Wednesday the offices of the exemption boards were invaded by great hosts of registrants who were seeking ways and means of separating themselves from the "unlucky seventh" Nebraska, but the exemption officials could not offer any advice.

The district exemption board is not in session, and probably will not convene until after the first of the year to pass on industrial and agricultural exemption claims, which automatically come up from local exemption boards.

The officials are all at sea concerning the second draft call. It may come any time, they say, and while no definite information can be given until all preparations are being made to take care of it.

Few Enlisted Men of the Navy Want Commissions

Men who enlist in the navy are permitted, under a law enacted a number of years ago, to study and work themselves up to become commissioned officers—if they study hard enough and can pass the examination.

Very few enlisted men take advantage of this wonderful opportunity, however, and there's a reason. A seeker after knowledge who invaded naval headquarters soon learned to his satisfaction why enlisted men do not care to take the examination.

As a rule every enlisted man has just so much work to do aboard a ship, consequently he does not have much time to bend his back over a book in a frantic effort to dig out the technical side of the knowledge required by a commissioned officer. In about 10 years' service he is ready to take the examination, but by that time he had advanced and is pulling down "big" money.

He analyzes everything down to its logical conclusion and decides that he will be better off if he holds his present position. It's like this: Suppose a lad of 23 enlists. In 10 years he may be drawing a salary and perquisites equivalent to $150 per month. In another 10 years he can retire on a pension of $75 per month. If he takes the examination and passes he will have to stick around 30 years longer before he is placed on the retired list with a pension of $125 per month.

He figures that at the age of 43, with a monthly pension of $75, he will be better fitted to grasp the opportunities presented than he will be to wait until he is 63 and have a monthly income of $125. In addition he takes into consideration the mortality rate and learns that, according to statistics, he may not live long enough to get much enjoyment of his $125 pension.
