SOCIETY

By MELLIFICIA—Dec. 31.

Miss Eastman Wins Prize
As Designer for "Vanity
Fair" Covers for 1918

SOCIETY will make merry this evening at the different theaters, clubs and hotels and 1918 will be ushered in amid feasting and jollity. A great many parties will be given at the Orpheum, the guests motoring out to the Country club or to private homes for midnight suppers. Two hundred guests will be entertained at the Country club, where special features have been planned at the dawning of the new year. The Fontenelle will accommodate 400 revellers at the supper de luxe which will be served from 10 o'clock on with dancing in the lobby. The school set will celebrate at a movie party and dance given by Mrs. Harry Burkley. The officers' here, which was to have been given at Fort Crook tonight, has been postponed until Friday evening so that the army men may attend the festivities in town.

Spend New Year's in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Kountze, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Burgess, Mr. and Mrs. Will Burns and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Foye left Sunday evening for Chicago, where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Spens. Mr. and Mrs. Spens will give a large party in their honor New Year's eve, the party returning to Omaha New Year's night.

Helsley-Woodruff.

A simple home wedding will take place this afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Woodruff, when their daughter, Sybil, will become the bride of Mr. Charles Warren Helsley. Rev. S. O. Winslow will perform the ceremony. Palms, Ophelia roses and narcissus will be used throughout the rooms.

The bride will wear her traveling suit of Burgundy velour and a corsage bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

The bridal couple will have no attendants, just the relatives and immediate friends witnessing the ceremony.

After a buffet supper Mr. and Mrs. Helsley will leave for Des Moines, where they will make their home.

For Bridal Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rosenzweig will entertain at their home this evening for the bridal party and out-of-town guests at the wedding of Miss Edna Rosenzweig and Mrs. Charles Rice, whose wedding will take place New Year's day. Covers will be laid for the following guests:

- Messrs. and Mesdames—Julius Rosenzweig, Charles Rice, W. F. Rice, Harvey Rice, Misses—Lillian Rosenzweig, Edna Rosenzweig, Lillian Rosenzweig, C. B. Houser of Oakland, Cal., Mrs. D. G. Coffman of Portland, Ore.

Informal Reception.

Bishop and Mrs. Arthur Williams will keep open house New Year's day for their friends. It was originally planned to have a large reception New Year's day at the bishop's home in honor of Miss Lenore Williams and her fiancé, Lieutenant Irving Benolken, but as Lieutenant Benolken will be forced to return to Camp Dodge early in the morning the reception will be very informal and no invitations will be issued.

At the Fontenelle.

Among those entertaining parties at the Fontenelle this evening will be W. H. Hess, who will have 20 guests; C. R. Jewett, who will have a party of 10; C. Kirschbraun, who will have 14; T. E. Michels, 10; parties of eight will be given by W. H. Yohe, T. E. Warren, W. P. Thomas, J. B. Millard and parties of six will be given by John Mack, J. A. McDonald, F. J. Martin, F. M. Cutter, M. Kattleman and Lieutenant Baird.

New Year's Tea.

Miss Martha Smalley and Miss Winifred Brandt will give a tea on New Year's day at the Smalley home, honoring Miss Helen Parish, who is home from Monticello seminary for the holidays. Decorations suggestive of the holiday season will be used. Between 50 and 60 girls of the school set will attend.

Debutantes and Officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Page will entertain a number of the debutantes and officers from the balloon school at the Country club this evening. Some of the girls in the party will be Miss Helen Eastman, Miss Virginia Offutt and Miss Esther Wilhelm. Twenty guests will be in the party.

Relief Society Meeting.

The Jewish Ladies' Relief society will meet Wednesday afternoon, instead of today, in the B'nai Ami club rooms, Nineteenth and Farnam streets.

Rice-Rosenzweig.

The wedding of Miss Edna Rosenzweig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rosenzweig, and Mr. Charles Rice will take place this evening at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. J. N. Wilson will read the marriage lines before the fireplace in the living room, which will be banked with palms and ferns. Baskets of Ophelia roses will be also used in the living room, while Russell roses will be used in the dining room and Killarney roses in the sun room.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Marie Swanson will give harp solos and she will also play during the ceremony.

Miss Lillian Rosenzweig, sister of the bride, who will be bridesmaid, will wear a pink net gown and will carry a shower bouquet of Russell roses. The bride will wear a white satin gown, made with a long train. A tulle veil, held in place with orange blossoms, will fall to the bottom of the train and a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride's roses will be carried.

Mr. Harvey Rice, brother of the bridegroom, is best man. Following the ceremony a reception for 300 guests will be held. Miss Edna Reynolds, Miss Millie Kessler, Miss Ruth Reynolds, Miss Marie Saunders and Mrs. Carl Wilson will assist.

After a southern wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Rice will return to the city, where they will make their home. The out-of-town guests at the wedding will be: Mrs. O. J. Coffman of Oakland, Ore., and Mr. G. B. Henger of Oakland, Cal.

Helen Louise Eastman

Miss Helen Louise Eastman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Osgood T. Eastman, is the third prize winner in a competition for Vanity Fair cover design suitable for 1918 spring or summer numbers. The contests was given by the Art Alliance of America. Over 600 designs were submitted and are now shown in the galleries of the Art Alliance in New York. The title of Miss Eastman's design is "Wounded Soldier and the Red Cross Nurse." Miss Eastman, who is studying at the Art Institute in Chicago, is the only western girl winner in the contest, as the first and second prize winners were Miss Margaret Griffith of New York, who won the first prize of $100, and Mildred Boyle of Brooklyn, who won the $50 second prize. Miss Eastman receiving the third prize of $25. The young Omaha artist has always shown great talent for painting, as lovely place cards, score cards and Christmas cards were the work of her brush while attending school here. Since entering the Art Institute she has done a number of remarkable posters.

Soliloquy of Modern Eve

By ADELAIDE KENNERLY.
—A New Year Prayer—

Since my presence here on earth is a fact—not a fancy—this New Year's eve, I pray that through the procession of Life my energy and ambition may count for something, not so much to my self as to my fellow beings.

There is a soul within each of God's children, and it grows or shrinks as it is cultivated by deeds of kindness or dwarfed by acts of cruelty. I pray, therefore, that my eyes may see the fullness of the Brotherhood of Man and my heart overcome the menace of the evil spirit.

Only by living nobly, acting wisely and giving freely may I hope to win an honest place in the heart of humanity, for whoever serves the most, loves the best.

I pray, therefore, for the capacity to serve.

In all this cycle of things I could ask nothing greater of the Ruling Power than to give me opportunity to develop my own field and mine therefrom, by persistent effort, the riches of brotherly love.

I shall meekly accept all I deserve as time goes on—my punishments and my rewards.

I pray that so long as I remain in the visible world I shall not descend to the level of usurping valuable space and abiding therein as an inconsequential filler—a sloth.

I shall thank the Infinite Being for the opportunity to live on this earth where souls are coming closer together in a bond of spiritual love and sympathetic devotion by one common sorrow.

I pray to be given strength to do a great part for our suffering humanity, but most of all, let me be worthy of the greatest blessing from the Hierarchy—give me the innocent, untainted, holy love of all little children who are sent to us as Lightbearers of Love—the divine link between Heaven and Earth.

Tranquair was formerly Miss Lora Grace.

A number of Camp Funston men spent New Year's with relatives in the city, among them Corporal Archie Laurence, Corporal Harold Merryman and Lieutenant Russell Israel. Lieutenant Randall Curtis of Camp Dodge also spent a few days here.

Akita Campfire Girls.
The Akita Campfire Girls will give a dancing party this evening at the home of Miss Ann Axtell. Orange and dark green the Akita colors will be used in the decorations and 30 of the school set will attend the affair.

School Set Frolics as Father Time Shoos Out Old 1917

Seventy-five of the school set attended the tea dansant at the Clement Chase home given by Mrs. Waite Squier and Mrs. Chase for their daughters, Katherine Squier and Helena Chase. Holly and other festive greens decorated the rooms.
