PROF. SARKA HRBKOVA, chairman of the women's committee, State Council of Defense, has issued a brief summary of its work since instituted six months ago. In the half year 93 counties have been organized for woman's work. Some are completely organized and others only partly so.

A registration of the woman power of the state was taken in all the counties. The child welfare law was fully carried out in all threatened districts. Women in industry have been fully protected by the activities of the woman's committee. A million and a half dollars worth of Liberty bonds were sold by the women working with the committee. A campaign for the securing of Red Cross nurses has been opened by our woman's division. A public speakers' bureau has been organized.

The chairman of the woman's committee has since June 18 made 208 patriotic addresses in 33 different counties. A number of other members of the woman's committee have also made addresses, notably Mrs. A. R. Sheldon and Mrs. W. E. Markley. Much credit is likewise due to Miss Laura Pfeiffer, Mrs. G. P. Mason of the legislative reference bureau and Miss Lella Putney, who have made addresses in the interest of the woman's committee.

The woman's committee is now occupied with a membership campaign to enroll all women of the state who are in sympathy with American ideals and American institutions.

Every patriotic movement is being pushed by the woman's committee through its county organizations in the state. A close connection is now in existence between the home economics department of the state farm. A conservation campaign involving cheese making and the substitutions for the staple foods necessary for the army and other forces of home patri-

Winter Coughs and Colds Call for a Tonic!

They show that the system is being weakened by a congestion of the breathing apparatus. This congestion in the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs decreases the supply of oxygen to the blood, gives off poisons that are absorbed by the blood, and taxes the other organs with increased work. Then your body needs help. It needs to be toned up to do the extra work. The tonic used should also have a direct effect on those congested membranes.

PERUNA is That Tonic—

Its effect upon the membranes is to relieve the congestion, banish the catarrhal symptoms, invigorate the digestion and circulation, and thus enable the system to rid itself of all the inflamed condition known as cold.

Because a cold is nothing less than acute catarrh and because, in addition to its tonic effects, Peruna is a reliable remedy for catarrh, its use in colds and coughs is more effective than any other remedy yet offered. This fact is amply proved by the thousands who have found relief, by the forty-four years of success, and by the many thousands of homes that regard Peruna as the best family remedy.

You will understand why when you use it yourself.

Peruna may be obtained in tablet form for convenience, and carried with you everywhere.

CHIROPRACTIC FOR THE LUNGS.

During fall and winter months the common expression is frequently heard: "I have such a cold." If the average person would stop and consider what the possible outcome of a bad cold leads to, more care would be exercised in getting rid of it.

From colds and chills the following diseases affecting the lungs are the most serious: Bronchitis, pleurisy and pneumonia, which is the most insidious and dangerous of all diseases of the lungs. There are different forms of pneumonia which are all dependent upon the nerves impinged and the degree of pressure upon them. Typhoid-pneumonia is a form which is severe in character and in which the typhoid status supervenes.

Lateral pneumonia is a form which is mild in character and the symptoms of which do not appear until the consolidation stage is reached.

Abortive pneumonia is a form in which the duration is less than the usual week and recovery is rapid.

Central pneumonia is so named because the consolidation begins in the center of the lobe.

In typical cases the disease passes through three stages: First, that of congestion; second, that of red hepatization; third, the stage of gray hepatization.

Pleurisy: This disease is an inflammation of the pleura or delicate membrane which surrounds each body and presents itself in two forms—acute and chronic. Its common cause is exposure, but sometimes is due to an injury. For example, from the pleura being wounded by the jagged ends of a broken rib. Pneumonia, pleurisy and other diseases are abnormal expressions of function. All functions or mental impulses originate in the brain, the human dynamo, and are transmitted over the spinal cord and nerves to all parts of the body and are expressed at the periphery of the nerves. The spinal cord and nerves are but prolongations of the brain and are composed of a very delicate and sensitive tissue which is easily compressible. The vertebral subluxation can easily produce sufficient pressure upon the spinal nerves to interfere with the transmission of mental impulses from the brain, thus preventing these expressions in the organ or organs to which the impinged nerve leads. The chiropractic principles for the cure of diseases of the lungs have been proven time and time again by practice, for numerous cases are on record, both mild and severe, that have completely recovered from the disease, under pure specific chiropractic adjustments.

If you are suffering with any form of disease in which the lungs are involved, make a thorough and impartial investigation of chiropractic, as the most frequent cause of nerve compression is a misalignment of the bones in the spinal column from between which the nerves pass as they leave the spinal cord.

COUNTRY MERCHANT STRONG ADVOCATE OF HORSE LINIMENT FOR RHEUMATISM

A Small Bottle of G & G Nerve and Bone Liniment Completely Cured Their Old Father, Who Had a Severe and Long Standing Case of Rheumatism.

Mr. Luther, prominent farmer of Independence, Mo., and a frequent visitor at Fontana, Kans., heard of the intense suffering of his old friend, Mr. Freeland, so gave him a small bottle of G & G Nerve and Bone Liniment. Mr. Freeland used the preparation with a little faith as he had had in all other preparations, but to his delight and surprise, the first application gave him relief. Before he had completed the bottle, he was entirely cured of the misery and pain. This remarkable proof convinced Freeland Bros. of the merits of G & G Nerve and Bone Liniment. They put a big supply in, on the shelves of their general merchandise stock, and have worked up a wonderful trade on G & G Nerve and Bone Liniment. Sold in 50c and $1.00 size bottles. Insist on the genuine, a substitution will prove a disappointment.—Advertisement.
