

COUNCIL WIELDS PRUNING KNIFE ON DEPARTMENTAL ESTIMATES FOR THIS YEAR

City Commissioners, Sitting as Budget Board, Hold Stormy Clinic Over 1918 General Fund of $1,750,000; Wails Heard When Cuts Totaling $200,000 are Made.

City council, sitting as a budget board, held a clinic over the 1918 general fund of $1,750,000, which was apportioned to the various departments after a spirited session.

FACE-BIG TASK.
The board had $220,000 more than the 1917 general fund, but the total of the departmental estimates was $425,000 more than the 1917 appropriations. Cutting more than $200,000 from the estimates was the big task which was accomplished after considerable cross-fire.

Withnell's Estimate Cut.
The fire department led off with an allowance of $420,000, which was $73,000 more than was available for 1917. The amount allowed for this year was $10,000 less than Superintendent Withnell contended he needed. The increase is for salary raises of $10 per month per fireman.

Superintendent Kugel of the police asked for $278,000 and finally accepted $268,000. Last year his department received $249,000. Of the $10,000 which was cut from the estimate $5,000 was to have been expended for a new patrol wagon.

Mayor Dahlgren and Commissioner Parks took the position that the police and fire departments should stand for cuts the same as other departments and take chances at the end of the year.

Like Spoiled Child.
"Superintendent Withnell is like a spoiled child with his fire department. He has one of the largest departments in the country," said Mr. Parks. "Why not let me do something for the people, too?" he asked.

"If the police or fire departments run low in funds toward the end of the year they should let some of their men off, the same as other departments have to do," remarked the mayor.

"I cannot cut my force. If this war continues the police department will have to be increased," pleaded Superintendent Kugel, who added that the day shift of police now has only 35 men.

Could Close Department.
"The public improvements department or the park department could be closed for three months and it would not make the same difference as if the police or fire departments should be stopped for even three days," added Mr. Kugel.

Commissioner Butler moved that the clerical force of the City Planning commission be dispensed with at a saving of $20,000 for the year. The mayor opposed this proposition, but agreed to the compromise of reducing the commission's allowance of $10,000 for 1917 to $7,500 for this year. The mayor originally asked for $20,000 for this year's city planning work.

Has Narrow Escape.
The Board of Public Welfare had a narrow escape from being cut from $11,000 in 1917 to $6,000 for this year. After the mayor stood up on both hind feet in defense of this board an allowance of $10,000 was agreed.

The public library was allowed $45,000, the same as the 1917 appropriation. An estimate of $60,000 for this year had been submitted.

The park department was allowed $96,000, an increase of $6,000 over 1917, and the Board of Public Recreation was allowed $20,000, as against $18,000 last year. Superintendent Mummel asked for $110,000 for the park fund and $35,000 for the public recreation fund.

Parks Wins Fight.
Superintendent Parks made a hard fight for $84,000 for street cleaning and was allowed $75,000, an increase of $6,000 over last year. He received small increases for his street repair, grade and curb, gutter and paving funds.

The budget board opened the session with an agreement that no city employee receiving $125 or more per month at this time should be granted an increase in determining the budget allowances. That action meant cutting out numerous items from the estimates. Various salary increases were allowed to clerks receiving from $75 to $100 per month, nearly all of these increases being $5 per month.

Inspector Gets Raise.
A. E. Blaufuss, slaughter house inspector, was granted an increase from $1,325 to $1,500 a year upon explanation by Superintendent Kugel that he had to arise at 5 a. m. to get to the packing houses in time to inspect.

The legal department was allowed an unusually large judgment fund of $79,200, of which amount is an item of $43,000 due firemen for back pay, according to a recent decision of the state supreme court.

The commissioners decided to abandon the prison labor department this year. This work has been under the direction of Superintendent Jardine. In view of lack of funds and conditions which have minimized the needs of this department, no appropriation was made for this work in the new budget.

Boost in Salaries.
The 1918 general fund budget as approved also provides that firemen and patrolmen shall receive $100 per month and members of the detective force $125 per month.

The following individual salary increases were allowed:
Amos P. Scruggs, inspector of weights and measures, $300 per year, making advanced salary $1,500.

J. T. Marcell, clerk of Central police court, $300 per year; new salary, $1,500.

City Clerk's Office—W. S. Sargent, $10; Mrs. M. Kelly, $5; G. Nelson, $5 each per month.

Susie Peasinger and Nena Starr of the legal department, each $5 per month.

Emil Peterson, H. A. Haverly and P. L. Hower, city hall elevator operators, $5 per month; John Mayer, Maynard Wilson, Herman Cromwell, Charles Pakowski, Victor Dahlstrom, Mike Nettler and L. Marino, city hall janitors, each $5 per month.

William Mmogue, S. B. Jones, Blanche Manning, Marcelle Kavanaugh and F. Shames of comptroller's office, each $10 per month.

Harry Stroesser, city hall carpenter, $15 per month.

Samuel Rothwell, John Haley and A. E. Blaufuss of the health department, each $15 per month.

Building Department—J. W. McDowell, building inspector; W. R. Grau, assistant boiler inspector; E. W. Fitt, boiler inspector, and J. H. Christensen, electrical inspector, each $25 per month; new salaries, $1,500 per year. Miss F. M. Hoye, clerk, $15 per month.

Engineering Department—Two draughtsmen, $180 per year; one blueprint man, $5 per month; assistant bookkeeper, $10 per month; one stenographer, $5 per month; assistant chemist, $5 per month; six instrument men, $10 per month; storekeeper in sewer department, $5 per month.

JOHN A. SWANSON, Pres. WM. L. HOLZMAN, Treas.

AN OPEN LETTER

To the Men of Omaha and Vicinity, from

The "I Will" Man

YOU men have learned to look to me for Radical Clothing Bargains in January. When I tell you that our present prices mean as much to you as the most drastic reductions in normal times, I am telling you facts that will be brought home to every man in the very near future.

Months ago, before the war came to us, we told you of our plans to protect our patrons against rising clothing prices. Of how we were making enormous contracts for woolens in order to maintain value standards, with the result that Greater Nebraska values are unequalled in America today.

Furthermore, where in the past seasons there has been an enormous overproduction of men's clothing, which enabled us to go into the markets and buy at our own prices the finest clothes made, today the American Woolen Company alone has unfilled orders totaling $90,000,000, the majority for the U. S. Government.

All of which explains, why, in normal times legitimate Mark Down Sales were not only possible, but a commercial necessity, while today a bona-fide mark-down sale of Men's Clothing is utterly impossible, and from all indication will not be possible until two years after the war.

We demonstrate by comparison of values the real advantages in buying now at present low prices—supply your clothing needs for the future, save 25 per cent to 33-1-3 per cent.
