corn, 42 oats, 2 rye and 10 barley.

Early trading in corn was abandoned entirely and no sales reported until 12:15 p. m. There was a good demand for good corn and later on these offerings changed hands freely. The market on this cereal was generally inclined to lower values, and with an establishment of prices for the different grades, sales showed this article to be unchanged to 3c off, the greater part of the trades being made at a decline. Elevator interests and industries were the best takers, No. 3 white sold today at $1.61 and No. 4 white at $1.55 £1.56, while No. 5 white went at $1.50 £1.55. No. 4 yellow sold at $1.53 and the No. 5 grade at $1.43 £1.55. No. 6 mixed corn brought $1.47 and the No. 5 mixed $1.42.

Oats continued strong, with a limited demand. Exporting interests were practically absent and trade in this cereal confined to local wants. No. 3 white sold at 80% and No. 4 white oats at 80c. Sample grade oats brought 75% 580c. Spot quotations were were generally % to %c higher.

Rye and barley were a slow sale. Rye was firm and barley somewhat lower. Sample rye sold at $1.75 and sample barley at $1.33, these being the only sales of these cereals reported.

New York, Jan. 10.-Mercantile Paper-be circulated, the corn market had no decided downward tendency. Prospects of a more plentified distribution of cars in the west had eased prices a little, but the outlook for more snow and for colder weather likely to hinder any improvement in traffic conditions acted as nearly an offset. News. however, that Bulgaria and Russia had signed a separate peace led to increased selling pressure. Subsequently, when word came that Germany had asked Sweden to become a peace aid the market showed still greater weakness. Something of a rally ensued at the last, but the upturn seemed noticeably lacking in vigor.

A wave of selling due to peace talk brought about sharp breaks in the value of oats. Previously, the market had bulged on account of good sized export sales. Provisions advanced briskly because of the various moves which were taken as indicating a growing likithood of peace. At first, though, increased arrivals of host temporarily weakened the market.

It is not so much that we lack news from the war, for we have learned to read between the lines of the German communiques and to draw our own conclusions.

But we do not realize in the least the conditions prevailing in neutral and allied countries, the various cur-rents of opinion and interests, the in-finite complexity of the problems raised by the great conflict.

Three years of persecutions and of moral and physical sufferings have brought us to such a pitch of glowing enthusiasm for our friends and of irreconcilable hatred of the foe that there is no room left for intellectual subtleties and sentimental reserves. We have become, it is true-and per-
