"Idicts and insane people are deprived of the voting privilege because it is unwise from the standpoint of the government to permit them to vote.

"I have long believed that women have reached that high mental state where they could contribute largely to the welfare of our nation by being permitted to vote, and I shall support this resolution to grant them the oppor-tunity of making their contribution." At First Hearing.

Victor Rosewater of The Bee, who occupied a seat in the press gallery during the debate, recalled that he was in Washington when the question of women suffrage first came into prominence and was present at the earliest hearings at the hands of a committee of congress on the subject and he thought it a remarkable coincidence to be present when the final vote on constitutional amendment

Britons Reject Move to

London, Jan. 11.—The House of Lords today rejected Lord Lore-burn's amendment to the representation of the people bill, by which it was sought to exclude women from the suffrage. The vote against the amendment was 134 to 69.

The new franchise bill before the House of Lords revealed strong opposition to woman suffrage, Earl Lorebun moved to omit the clause from the bill giving women the parliamentary vote. After a two days' debate the amendment was rejected.
