

SOUTH SIDE CNUUDE WANTS TO ENLIST AND AVENGE BELGIUM

Young Giant Working at Cud-ahy's Has Had No Word From Home Since War Began.

Alfonzo Cnuude, a registrant living at 5131 South Fortieth street, clenched his fists as he told J. J. Breen, chairman of the South Side exemption board, that he'd like to get the kaiser by the throat.

Cnuude was born in Belgium and left his home there about six years ago to come to America. His family were poor and the son came to the new country with hope of sending money and comforts to the home folks. He is a giant in size and had worked in the lumber mills in Waer-eghem, Belgium, so met with no trouble in obtaining work as a carpenter at the Cudahy packing house. He was sending money home. His parents, six sisters and two brothers were all prospering, and he was planning a visit and possibly bringing his family to America with him on his return.

Then the world was started by the quick declarations of war and Germany's rush into Belgium. One day, about three and a half years ago, he received a letter from his father telling him that, as he wrote he could hear the thunder of the German guns as they cut out a path for the German soldiers in their march through the little country.

Since then Cnuude has heard nothing from his parents or relatives. He does not know if they are still living. The stories of German atrocities in regard to their treatment of Belgian women, caused him much worry, on account of his six sisters.

Cnuude will march away to war, and says if he ever meets the kaiser, some of Belgium's wrongs will be avenged.

Street Cars Collide and

Two Slightly Injured

Clifford Stanton, motorman, and Jim Clines, conductor, were slightly injured in a street car collision when an Albright car and a Farnam car came together at the intersection of Farnam and Thirteenth streets at 9:15 this morning.

Neither man was seriously hurt, but both were taken to their homes for attention. Stanton got a number of cuts and bruises and Clines is suffering with a badly sprained back.

It was a south bound Albright car that struck an east bound Farnam car. Slippery tracks are blamed for the accident, for the motorman applied his brakes, which did not succeed in holding the Albright car.

A number of passengers on the cars were shaken up, but none was badly hurt.

JUDGE SCORES G. LEVEY IN COURT

Proprietor of Union Trading Company Arraigned on Charge of Swindling Score of Omaha Women.

George Levey, charged with swindling a score of Omaha housewives while operating the Union Trading company, was arraigned before Police Judge Fitzgerald Saturday morning. Judge Fitzgerald scored Levey for his alleged swindle. "I could send you to jail for 30 days on each offense, but that would not recompense these people for the money they have spent," he said. "I will therefore continue this case one week, in which time I will expect you to start delivering furniture to these people. I will expect to see a record of some deliveries when you next appear before me."

Judge Fitzgerald, City Prosecutor McGuire and Carl C. Kafeman will see that the affairs of the company are settled, so that the investors can obtain something for the money expended.

Judge Fitzgerald also criticized the women present for venturing into such a club. "There are many reputable furniture houses in Omaha at which you can buy furniture, good furniture, at reasonable prices. But when a man comes to you with a proposition by which you can buy furniture at about one-half the market price, you should realize that it is not on the square."

"Payments on contracts already entered into with this firm will be accepted at the legal aid office of the welfare board. There will be no further orders taken, as the business has been closed, but we will endeavor to give you some return for the money you have invested."

War Savings Stamps Will Be

Taken Up By Commercial Club

Business men will meet at the Commercial club Monday noon and make subscriptions to the war savings stamps. While in the Liberty loan drive there was no limit to the amount that might be subscribed by an individual, the limit this time is $1,000. Business men and organizations at the mass meetings that opened the Liberty bond drives in Omaha subscribed individually as much as $10,000 at a time. At this coming mass meeting they will be limited to one-third that amount.

That meeting over, the intensive campaign for one week will be on in Omaha. The committee hopes to get $500,000 subscribed that week in Omaha. Omaha's quota for the whole year is nearly $4,000,000, but the committee will feel that a good lively start has been made if $500,000 is subscribed during the first week.

NEED FOR HASTE OR THE GERMANS CONT. OL RUSSIA

Dr. Fling Says Slavs Have No Government Today and Are Likely to Come Under Domination of the Kaiser.

Prof. F. M. Fling of the University of Nebraska lectured Friday in the court house on "The Russian Debate." Dr. Fling traced the course of events in Russia from the de-thronement of the czar to the Kerensky government and then to the present Bolsheviki regime.

"There is no government worthy the name in Russia today," he said. "The men know nothing of the relations of nations. They are doing away with all manner of sane government. But it should be remembered that the Bolsheviki do not control all Russia. They have merely that old part comprising Petrograd and Moscow."

"President Wilson's recent utterance regarding the allies' duty toward Russia is something we have waited long to hear. His view that the Russians must be helped along as best we can is eminently correct. If the allies abandon Russia now with the idea that Germany will make all the demanded concessions on the west front if she is allowed to do as she likes with Russia, Germany will become thrice the menace in the future that she is now."

"What the outcome of the Russian situation will be no man can say. Russia is helpless today. Peasants and workmen are making the most ridiculous demands, asking and getting six-hour days and $25 a week pay. Transportation and all things that bind the nation together are demoralized. The army has disbanded. We must move very carefully now or Russia is in danger of becoming under the control of Germany."

"No real 'strong man' has yet been produced in Russia, but there is the possibility that out of chaos the great figure of the 'man on horseback' may arise to save her."

They went to jail in default of bond. Ethel Brown, colored, taken in the raid at Cummings' place, was bound over under $1,000 bond.

Rudolph is already under $500 cash bond at Sioux City on a charge of bringing "boozie" into Iowa.

CHIROPRACTIC HEALTH TALKS

My great success in the elimination of disease is due to the fact that I find the cause of your trouble and then adjust the cause instead of treating the effects.

The cause of every individual disease common to the human body is within the body, and the cure is there also.

Eighty per cent of the operations could be avoided by taking Chiropractic adjustments, whether it be tonsillitis, appendicitis or in the very large class known as "Women's Diseases."

After reading this article you may say all of this sounds too good to be true. I admit that these are broad statements, but I make them because they are facts, and facts are impossible to contradict.

My methods will stand through investigation. Hundreds of people after having tried about everything else to no avail have found the relief they so long desired and unexpectantly sought.

Adjustments are $1.00, or 12 for $10.00. Outside calls made by appointment are $2.50.

SHOULD EXPEDITE RELEASE OF CARS

C. H. Pearson, Chairman of Omaha Service Committee, Issues Patriotic Appeal to Shippers.

C. H. Pearson, chairman of the Omaha committee of the commission on car service, has issued an appeal to shippers and receivers to regard it as their patriotic duty to expedite the unloading and release of railroad cars.

"You are, I have no doubt, aware of the present shortage and vital needs of the railroad companies for all classes of equipment and you are also aware that a very small per cent of last year's crop of corn has been moved and that a large per cent of the corn is soft and unless cars are released with the utmost promptness many millions of bushels are going to spoil. The conserving of cars is just as essential to the conduct of the war as the conserving of food."

The following telegram was received by Mr. Pearson from Washington:

"By instruction of the director general you are requested to make special campaign on all roads in your jurisdiction. Make effort through newspapers, bulletins and circulars to agents, appeals to commercial bodies and otherwise as may be possible to unload and release cars with utmost promptness. This in order that railroads may immediately increase efficiency so vital to present needs."

MRS. PEASE SAYS CRUELTY CAUSE OF DIVORCE SUIT

Declares Husband Gave Her Black Eye and Received Endearing Letters From Other Women.

A petition was filed in the district court late Friday afternoon in behalf of Mrs. B. C. Pease of 2034 Fowler avenue, praying for a divorce from her husband, Dr. Bert C. Pease. The doctor declares he knows of no reason for the suit but the plaintiff says she "means every word of it."

Bert C. Pease is credited in the city directory with having two residences, one under the name of Bert C. Pease, physician, at 2034 Fowler avenue, where Mrs. Pease and her husband reside, and one under the name of Bert C. Pease at apartment 19, Margaret apartments.

He is a graduate physician employed by the Park-Davis drug company of Milwaukee. Dr. and Mrs. Pease were married in Milwaukee, July 10, 1912, and moved to Omaha July 4, 1915.

The petition states that they have no children but that she has legally adopted Gladys Pease, his daughter by a former marriage.

She alleges Dr. Pease struck and beat her upon one occasion, blackened her eye and called her vicious names and has received endearing letters from other women. She asks divorce and alimony and custody of his daughter, Gladys, on the ground that he is unfit to have the care and custody of the child.

Third Exemption District

May Escape Next Draft

It is estimated that 1,500 registrants in the third exemption division will fail to return questionnaires and automatically be placed in the army. About 2,000 questionnaires have been returned to the board due to a change in address. An average of 50 registrants have been calling every day to report and obtain questionnaires before the time limit expires.

As men failing to answer questionnaires are picked up by government authorities and inducted into the army service they will be credited to the Omaha quota for the next draft. Many registrants in the third district are optimistic enough to hope that this number will be large enough to fill the next quota without any men being called from this district. Several called in August have recently reported to avoid desertion charges.
