and because the nation cannot live in peace and security unless there is firmly established among the nations the Reign of Law."

The selective service law was destined to effect "a new sense of individual obligation on the part of those thus compelled to serve it," Mr. Hughes said. There was likely to be, he added, "in the case of many who have misconceived our institu-tions, and their duty, a new apprecia-tion of the power of our govern-

Mr. Hughes continued: Wipe Out Sherman Law.

"We are witnessing the most extraordinary adjustments of business to the demands of war. Out of this extraordinary liberator will come new methods-new discoveries Many new illusions will vanish methods-new discoveries Much vain theorizing will lose its power. We are not going to be made over in this war, but we shall have a new grasp on realities. 'It is not too much to expect that we shall have a saner attitude toward business, toward the necessary activities which afford the basis of progress, toward organization of industry, of transportation, of labor.

"I hope that the day's devoted to the application of the uncertainties of such statutes as the Sherman act are numbered. May we not hope for a better appreciation and a more precise definition of wrongs. What an absurdity it is to find that the very co-operation which the nation finds necessary for its own economic salvation under the strain of war is denounced as a crime in time of peace! Let our legislatures free our statute books of cant.

"And our nation, the great republic of the west, is just at the beginning of its career. The dream of isolation at an end. We are now to take our part in a new world, which we are assisting in creating-a world where law is to be supreme, where force shall be only the minister and agent of justice as expressed in law."

Whether the Americans will be able to provide a fighting army in numbers sufficient to bring about a decision, whether they will be able to furnish sufficient ships for the transport of the army and whether they will then be able to provide the necessary supplies of food and war materials are questions upon which opinion is divided. But there is no doubt that the efforts the Americans are making must be taken seriously. The hopes of an early peace depend al-most entirely on the efficacy of our submarine weapon."

Appendicitis is primarily due to the poistons formed by decaying food in the bowels. It is a disease caused by improper and insufficient bowel elimination. Many people have only a small passage in the center of the bowels while the sides are clogged with old, stale, fermenting matter. They may have a bowel movement every day, but it is not a complete movement and the old, stale matter stays in the system to ferment and gause trouble. Besides appendicitis, such un clean bowels cause headaches, stomach trouble and 90 per cent of all other singness. The old foul matter sticking to the sides of the bowels often stays in for months, poisoning the body and causing that Insteas, tired feeling known as "auto intoxication."

The way to avoid sickness and to keep feeling full of ambition is to watch your bowels. Just as you keep the outside of your body clean, you should also KEEP THE INSIDE CLEAN. It is even more important to keep the bowels clean than it is to keep your body washed, because the millions of pores in the thirty feet of bowels quickly absorb poissons generated by decaying food left carelessly in the bowels. Don't allow the old, fermenting, filthy stuff to stay in your bowels for weeks, but GET IT OUT and keep it out. Remember, filthy bowels are the cause of most sickness—no stomach, liver or any other organ can do its work with a foul cesspool sending out gases and
