

HIGH PRELATES OF CHURCH PLAN ANNIVERSARIES

This Year Will Be Prolific of Celebrations Among Roman Catholics in the United States.

This year will be prolific of anniversary celebrations among the high prelates of the Roman Catholic church in the United States.

During the 12 months there will be an almost constant succession of observances to mark the ordination, consecration or other milestones in the careers of archbishops and other dignitaries of the church in this country.

Most Rev. J. J. Hart, bishop of Omaha and former archbishop of the Philippines, will round out 40 years in holy orders.

In May the Most Rev. John Ireland will complete 30 years of service as archbishop of St. Paul. Archbishop Glennon will complete his fifth year as archbishop of St. Louis, and the Most Rev. Sebastian G. Messmer will round out a similar period of service as head of the archdiocese of Milwaukee.

Rt. Rev. Maurice F. Burke will observe the 25th anniversary of his appointment as bishop of St. Joseph, Mo. Prior to his transfer to the see of St. Joseph in 1893 Bishop Burke had served for some years as bishop of Cheyenne.

Rt. Rev. Peter J. Muldoon will complete a decade of service as bishop of Rockford, Ill., and Rt. Rev. Thomas F. Lillis will complete his fifth year as bishop of Kansas City.

Observe 40th Anniversary.

May 12 will be the 40th anniversary of the consecration of Rt. Rev. Francis S. Chatur, the venerable bishop of the Indianapolis diocese. The 40th consecration anniversary will be observed during the year by Bishop Ryan of Aton, Ill., Bishop Hennessy of Wichita, and the Rt. Rev. Leo Itar, vicar-apostolic of North Carolina and Belmont abbey.

Three bishops will attain the 20th anniversary of their consecration. They are Bishops Cunningham of Concordia, Kan., and Fitzmaurice of Erie, Pa., and the Most Rev. Alexander Christie, former bishop of Vancouver and now archbishop of Portland, Ore.

Bishop Canevin of Harrisburg, Pa., and Bishop O'Keilly of Baker City, Ore., will observe the 50th anniversary of their consecration.

The third of May will be the 10th anniversary of the consecration of Rt. Rev. Denis J. O'Connell as titular bishop of Sebaste. Bishop O'Connell was for some years auxiliary bishop of San Francisco and is now bishop of Richmond, Va.

Rt. Rev. Joseph Marin Koudelka will celebrate the 10th year of his consecration as titular bishop of Germanopolis and his 10th anniversary as bishop of Superior, Wis.

Their Golden Jubilee.

Bishop Avering of Fort Wayne and Bishop Gagner of Galveston will celebrate the golden jubilee of their ordination to the priesthood, bishop Gagner's anniversary falling on the next Christmas day.

In June the Rt. Rev. Owen B. Corrigan, auxiliary bishop of Baltimore, will reach the 45th anniversary of his ordination.

Bishops who will round out 40 years in holy orders include Rt. Rev. Charles E. McDonnell, bishop of Brooklyn, and one of the most widely known prelates of the church; Rt. Rev. James Davis, bishop of Davenport, Ia.; Rt. Rev. John J. Hillan, bishop of Hartford.

On the last day of the year the Rt. Rev. Benjamin J. Keiley, head of the diocese of Savannah, will celebrate the 40th anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood.

The sacerdotal silver jubilee of the Rt. Rev. Michael J. Gallagher, the new bishop of Grand Rapids, will be celebrated in March.

The Rt. Rev. John W. Shaw, bishop of San Antonio, will celebrate the 50th anniversary of his ordination on May 28.

Profanity Reduced in Army Camps

"Kindly Quit Kussing." This is the slogan, spelled in whimsical fashion, which the Young Men's Christian associations of the various big cantonments in the central military department are featuring in a campaign to reduce profanity among the soldier boys and thereby improve the moral tone of the camps. In some of the big camps a distinct falling off in swearing has been noticed as a result of the "clean language" efforts.

Many pointed phrases, displayed prominently in the Red Triangle cuts, now serve to remind the men of the objectionable character of profanity. One of these reads: "If you curse in your own home, curse here. We want you to feel at home."

Battery Firm Conforms To Gaffield's Fuel Order

The wide range of opinion regarding the recent fuel order is evidenced to some extent by the following telegram from Ward S. Perry, secretary and general manager of the Vesta Accumulator company of Chicago to its branch in Omaha, the Omaha Battery and Service company:

"Comply with fuel administration instructions on use of coal and power, which does not necessitate closing doors. You must not charge batteries on current derived from fuel or heat building more than to keep pipes from freezing."

Five Nebraska Selects To Train With Artillery

Five Nebraska men stationed at the training school for marines at Paris Island, S. C., are included in 200 selected men for special training with the mobile artillery forces at Quantico, Va. They will be assigned to the 130th and 131st companies. The men who will be given special training are Ingard O. Marston; Albion; Ralph E. White; Barada; Fred A. Bede; Bartley; Frank Stark; Cambridge; Harold S. Wight; Cambridge.

EDUCATE PEOPLE TO USE MORE MILK

E. Danielson, Secretary of State Board of Agriculture, Speaks Before Dairy-men's Association.

Milk is one of the nation's principal foods, E. R. Danielson, secretary of the state board of agriculture, told members of the Nebraska Dairy-men's association in session at Lincoln.

"It will be by a steady campaign of an educative nature that milk will become recognized, not as a beverage or an incident to one's rations, but as one of our principal foods; that demand will be thereby increased; that costs of feed will be brought into a satisfactory relation with the price of dairy products, or vice versa and that marketing conditions will be placed upon a satisfactory basis," he declared. "These are things that lie within the province of the state board of agriculture. Further, in extending a helping hand to the crop man we can benefit the dairyman who raises his own feed."

"The function of the state board of agriculture is advisory; its activities are manifestly intangible, yet none the less certain. We stand for better agriculture which, in essence, means more profitable agriculture. In this year of national stress we stand pledged to something more. We are interested in the welfare of the dairy industry, but of primary importance is the welfare of the government, which is in need of that great ammunition—food. Our concern is that Nebraska shall produce more food than ever before, that Nebraska's sons may the sooner come marching home from a victorious war."

"That must be the first consideration in the activities of every individual, every association and every organization. It is not expected, however, that any class must lose money to produce food. No one can live without subsistence. Dairying, stock raising and farming must be made profitable that operations may be drawn into productive fields. These industries must be fostered and encouraged that they may be placed, if I may use such a term, on a war footing."

Kieser, reside in Omaha, while they are making their home with their son, Herman, in Long Beach. One of their grandsons is employed in The Bee's composing room. Congratulations go forth from their many friends in this city.

Coupland Says Seed Wheat Situation Well in Hand

The seed wheat situation in Nebraska is well in hand, according to George E. Coupland, vice chairman of the State Council of Defense, who has written State Food Administrator Wattles about the seed wheat and seed corn situation.

Mr. Coupland says the Council of Defense has a fund out of which seed wheat is being purchased to be turned over to the farmers at the cost to the council. This seed is being bought by the council in behalf of the government.

The federal grain corporation has set the limit of price for seed wheat at 15 per cent above the basic price of No. 1 wheat on the Omaha market.

Secretary of Retailers Issues Book on Credit

J. J. Cameron, secretary of the Retail Grocers' association, has issued a booklet on "The Art of Doing Business on Credit," which shall be a credit guide to retailers. The pages are full of interesting little stories. The book contains a reprint from The Omaha Bee entitled "Details of Your Life in This Man's Hands," an article concerning the working of the Omaha Reporting and Credit company.
