

MUCH WANTED MAN ARRESTED HERE AS A FUGITIVE

Six States Clamor for Moran, Who Tells Detectives "You Got Me in Time."

Authorities in six states are claiming G. L. Moran, alias Rand, alias Frondolph, arrested in Omaha yesterday afternoon.

Moran was arrested by Detectives A. C. Anderson and Zaloudek in his room at 2317 Douglas street upon a telegram from authorities at Walla Walla, Wash., where he is said to be wanted to serve an unexpired term for grand larceny on forged letters of credit.

J. R. Church, local Pinkerton detective, has received telegrams from various banks all over the country to hold Moran on charges of defrauding them of large amounts of money.

Moran is said to have realized several thousand dollars from his "con" game.

He is wanted in San Antonio for swindling the Commercial State bank out of several hundred dollars. The People's Trust company of Kansas City have also sworn out warrants for his apprehension.

Moran is wanted in Littleton, Colo., Pueblo, Colo., Norman, Okl., Guthrie, Okl., and Lincoln, to face similar charges against him.

Moran's game is said to be to approach the officers of a bank and extend to them forged letters of credit from other banks. Then he worms himself in their confidence by informing them that he "would like to buy some of their land."

He winds up his swindle by "borrowing" several hundred dollars from the bank officials "to complete another small deal before he can buy the land."

After this, he leaves for other prospective towns.

When arrested, he said to the detectives: "You got me in time, for I was leaving town tonight."

Rail Officials Approve Appointment of Aishton

Omaha railroad officials are delighted with the appointment of President Aishton of the Northwestern as dictator for the affairs of the transportation lines of the central zone.

While none of them are looking for favors, they assert that having grown up with the Northwestern and climbed the ladder from messenger boy to president of the road, he is familiar with and in close touch with practically every traffic and operating problem that could arise in the central zone.

The railroad men here are not in any manner discussing the line of action that Mr. Aishton will adopt and pursue, but they think the most logical thing will be that he will select the presidents or general managers of the roads in his territory as his assistants. With these men gathered about him as advisers, officials predict that he will weld the roads into one great system that will continue as such, at least during the continuance of the war.

E. P. Smith to Run at City Commission Primaries

A petition is out to put Ed P. Smith, formerly attorney for the Omaha Grain exchange, on the primary ticket for a place on the city commission with a view to making him mayor of Omaha.

Stephen Vail of the South Side, an independent packer, has taken out a petition to be circulated for Smith, and is pushing its circulation on the South Side.

Stephen Vail was a prominent leader in the packing house strike in South Omaha in 1904, and at that time Ed P. Smith was attorney for the strikers. Mr. Smith is at present general attorney for the federal food administration of Nebraska.

George Levey's Attorneys Ask Clemency for Client

George Levey, alleged to have swindled a number of Omaha housewives on a furniture club plan, was represented by attorneys in police court Saturday morning, who urged Judge Fitzgerald not to send the man through bankruptcy, but to "give him a chance to work a plan out whereby the women may get a fair return for their money." The case was continued two weeks.

Child Dies of Poisoning That Follows Tonsillitis

William Auchmuty, Jr., 5 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Auchmuty, 3315 South Thirty-first street, died Friday morning of blood poisoning resulting from tonsillitis.

The funeral will be held at the residence at 3 p. m. Sunday. Dr. R. W. Wheeler will officiate. Burial will be in West Lawn cemetery.

TODAY'S A D TO BEAUTY

Hair is by far the most conspicuous thing about us and is probably the most easily damaged by bad or careless treatment. If we are very careful in hair washing, we will have virtually no hair troubles. An especially fine shampoo for the hair—one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair, that dissolves and entirely removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt can easily be used at trifling expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of Canthrox (which you can get at any druggist's) in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid—enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. This chemically dissolves all impurities and creates a soothing, cooling lather. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on the glossy richness of natural color, also a fluffiness which makes it seem much heavier than it is. After Canthrox shampoo, arranging the hair is a pleasure.—Advertisement

M'CORMACK GETS A RECORD CROWD FOR A CONCERT

Seven Thousand Omahans Jam Auditorium to Hear the Great Irish Tenor in Popular Program.

By HENRIETTA M. REES.

The largest audience that ever turned out in Omaha for a musical attraction, was present Friday at the song recital of John McCormack. Last year the seat sale for McCormack's recital eclipsed all previous records, and this year the sale considerably surpassed that of last year.

Mr. Green, who managed the concert, states that there were 7,000 persons present. With the exception of a few seats upon the stage it was a complete sell out, and without doubt from a financial point of view, one of the most successful concerts ever given in this city.

Only One McCormack.

After all, there is but one John McCormack. His voice in itself is of the utmost beauty. It is a lyric tenor, not heavy, but of the purest quality and full of warmth and resonance. It is flawlessly smooth of tone throughout its wide range, and just the sound of it gives musical delight. Add to this beauty of voice the mastery of technique which McCormack has, his breath control, his remarkable legato, the cleanness of his every tone, and all the other equipment which goes to make artistic interpretation easy, cap it all with a temperament which feels and knows how to express all the beauties of the music chosen, and a personality which radiates good nature, and you have some of the reasons for McCormack's popularity and charm. For charm he certainly has, in far more than ordinary measure, and every song he sings he graces with it, even and above its technical perfection, to such a degree that no matter what the song may be, every one present likes it.

Mr. McCormack was prompt in beginning, and prefaced the program with a spirited singing of the "Star Spangled Banner," which brought the audience to its feet, as a large flag was lowered above the singer.

The program chosen was a most delectable one, both from a musical and popular point of view. It opened with two arias from Handel's forgotten operas, "Oh Sleep Why Dost Thou Leave Me?" from "Semele," and "Morai Si" from "Rodelinda." In these he satisfied the most exacting demands of the musical contingent. Every note was clear, the sustained work was exquisite and the broad lines, short phrases, thrills and ornaments given with such due proportions as to awaken the highest admiration.

His second group brought four unusual and fascinating songs from our allies, "Automne" by Gabriel Faure, a lovely French modern song; "Ideale" by Tosti, typical both of Italian song and of this composer, and two songs by Rachmaninoff, the Russian, which were characteristic, intensely dramatic, and among the most beautiful of all the program.

Songs of Old Ireland.

It was in the group of Irish folk

Piano Tuner Says He's Against War; Is Jailed

C. C. Mickey, piano tuner, living near Springfield, Neb., was arrested by Deputy United States Marshal Quinley and is held as a violator of the president's proclamation. He was distributing circulars opposing enlistment in the army and navy and hampering the operation of the selective draft law. He says he is "opposed to war and Wall Street." He is of draft age. He was held under $5,000 bond for a preliminary hearing next Tuesday.

songs that John McCormack awoke the wildest enthusiasm. There were four of them, all new to Omaha programs, and most artistically and effectively arranged with suitable accompaniment. "The Fagan Love Song" arranged by Harty was in serious vein, and in wide contrast to the "Light of the Moon," (Hughes) which followed it. "The Bard of Arnaugh" brought much sentiment, and the rollicking Ballynure ballad a bit of humor. A regular ovation was given Mr. McCormack at this time, and when he returned for encore, and sang among them "Mother MacChree," and "I Hear You Calling Me," the big audience would not be content with added bows, until finally "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," old English, was given.

Groups of American Songs.

In his last group of American songs, Mr. McCormack showed the same care in selection of songs which marked all the rest of his program. "The Last Hour" by A. Walter Kramer was a remarkable song. It is intensely dramatic, and has a powerful emotional appeal both in words and music, that brought one of the most impressive effects of the evening. This group also contained "The Cave" a new and grateful song by Edwin Schneider, the accompanist who was enthusiastically received. At the close Mr. McCormack sang "Keep the Home Fires Burning."

After every group Mr. McCormack gave encores and returned for many acknowledgements, so many times that it was impossible to keep track of them. Mr. Polah, the violinist who assisted with three numbers proved himself a worthy associate for Mr. McCormack. He draws an excellent tone from his instrument and plays with a fine sense of authority and discrimination, winning deserved encores and plaudits. "Praeludium and Allegro" by Pugnani was given with a broad sweep, and the old style Concerto by Mozart held much of style, while the two modern numbers at the close were each colored and varied in proportion to their demands.

Edwin Schneider, Mr. McCormack's accompanist, has been to Omaha many times in the past when he has made for himself many admirers both as an accompanist and composer. He played most effective accompaniments for both Mr. McCormack and Mr. Polah, giving each artistic musical support.

Too Many Olive Branches Wearing 12-Day Bridegroom

They were married January 6.

WAR INCOME TAX TO BE EXPLAINED TO BUSINESS MEN

Deputy Collector Goddard Will Address Advertising-Selling League at Fontenelle Hotel Monday Night.

C. E. Goddard, deputy collector of internal revenue in the Omaha district, has been invited to deliver an address at the regular meeting of the Advertising-Selling League of Omaha, at the Hotel Fontenelle, Monday evening at 8 o'clock. His talk is to cover in a general way those features of the war income tax measure that relate to business enterprises.

Mr. Goddard has announced that he will deal on the war income tax measure with the problems of the corporation and the co-partnership and with subdivisions as it affects the manufacturer, the retailer, the financial institution and the newspapers.

Mr. Sykes, president of the league, states that all business men, regardless of whether they are members of the Advertising-Selling League or not, are invited to be present, since Mr. Goddard is making a special effort to give a most comprehensive survey of this measure, which is considered to be one of the most involved and complex which has been placed before the American public in recent times.

Central Labor Union Elects Officers for 1918

Members of local unions were present at the Central Labor Union meeting held last night in the Lyric building, during which the semi-annual election of officers and trustees were chosen.

All the officers filling authoritative positions in the union were re-elected. T. P. Reynolds, president, was re-elected to fill a tenth term of office.

Stanley Cupinski, organizer for the American Federation of Labor, addressed the members.

"By gradual co-operation toward a common end, we may hope to find everything favorable to labor coming our way," he said in the course of his remarks.

The officers re-elected for the ensuing year are: T. P. Reynolds, president; J. J. Kerrigan, vice president; J. R. Wangberg, recording secretary; F. J. Huller, secretary-treasurer; Robert Dunlap, sergeant-at-arms.

The following members were elected to fill the board of trustees: C. L. Shamp, M. Courtney and A. J. Donohue.

R. M. Tyson was elected by acclamation fraternal delegate for the Farmers' union.

The next meeting of the Central Labor Union will be held February 1 in their new auditorium in the Masonic temple building.

Woman Declares She Can Get "All the Whisky She Wants"

Irma Fulton, arrested Saturday morning at her home, 2201 North Twenty-fifth street, declared in police court she "knew enough places in her neighborhood where she could buy whisky." City Prosecutor McGuire invited her to tell, and ordered her to appear at his office and divulge any information she might have. She was fined $100 and costs for keeping a disorderly house.

Eva Gardner of Stewart, Ia., was fined a like amount. Blanche Poole, 2325 Douglas street, Henry Dorsey, Shelby, Ia., F. E. Felker, stockman, Coon Rapids, Ia., and James Creigh, chauffeur, 419 South Twentieth street, forfeited bonds.

District Board Will Pass On Marriages After May 18

The district exemption board will review all cases claiming deferred classification on the grounds of dependents in case the registrant was married after May 18, 1917. The following instructions were sent out by Provost Marshal General Crowder:

"Number A-3117. In order that district boards may review all classification by local boards in case of marriage since May 18, 1917, and secure uniformity of action, all government appeal agents shall be instructed to appeal all cases where local boards have granted deferred classification in either class 2 or class 4 on account of such marriages."

CHIROPRACTIC HEALTH TALKS

My great success in the elimination of disease is due to the fact that I find the cause of your trouble and then adjust the cause instead of treating the effects.

The cause of every individual disease common to the human body is within the body, and the cure is there also.

Eighty per cent of the operations could be avoided by taking Chiropractic adjustments, whether it be tonsillitis, appendicitis or in the very large class known as "Women's Diseases."

After reading this article you may say all of this sounds too good to be true. I admit that these are broad statements, but I make them because they are facts, and facts are impossible to contradict.

My methods will stand thorough investigation. Hundreds of people after having tried about everything else to no avail have found the relief they so long desired and unsuccessfully sought.

Adjustments are $1.00, or 12 for $10.00.

Outside calls made by appointment are $2.50.
