

CUTLER TELLS OF JEWISH WELFARE WORK IN ARMY

Chairman of National Board in Omaha Says Elaborate Plans Are Being Carried Out at Camps.

Colonel Harry Cutler of Providence, R. I., chairman of the Jewish Board for Welfare in the United States Army and Navy, spent Monday in Omaha. This board was named by Raymond Fosdick and the secretary of war to function for soldiers and sailors of the Jewish faith in the same manner that the Young Men's Christian Association and the Knights of Columbus do for men of Protestant and Catholic beliefs.

Work of the board is carried on within camps and cantonments and in cities neighboring military posts as well. Where possible through co-operation with Young Men's Christian Association huts and the use of post auditoriums, religious services and other activities are carried on without recourse to building separate shacks. In cantonments containing a large percentage of Jewish soldiers, as at Camp Upton, Yaphank, Long Island where there are 12,000 or 25 per cent Jewish soldiers, headquarters for the Welfare Board have been erected. Similar shacks have gone up at Camp Devens, Ayer, Mass. and at Camp Meade, near Baltimore. Chaplains have also been authorized through this organization. By the new provision calling for the appointment of a chaplain for each 1,200 men in the army, many more will be named. Rabbis are mustered into service to conduct services regularly in posts where no organization through this agency has yet been effected.

A training school for the 200 workers required by the Welfare Board is now being conducted in New York. Twelve thousand soldiers of Jewish faith are now with Pershing in France, according to Colonel Cutler.

Jacob Schiff is one of the large contributors to the fund, $1,000,000 of which was raised in New York City. An additional $3,000,000 or $4,000,000 will be raised through the country. Colonel Cutler is a friend of Rabbi Frederick Cohn, whom he knew in Providence.

Alliance Business Men Cited To Appear Before Warrants

O'Bannon Bros. of Alliance, Neb., have been cited by Food Administrator Watters to appear before him at 10 o'clock Friday to show cause why they should not be prosecuted for dealing in foodstuffs without a license.

This company has been handling potatoes in carload lots, it is alleged, and the food administrator has no record of their having a license. The citing of the O'Bannon Bros. to appearance followed closely upon receipt by Mr. Watters of an order from the federal food administrator to investigate rigidly all failures to take out a food license in Nebraska. The penalty for the offense is a fine of $2,000 or imprisonment, or both.

Threshermen to Hold State Convention in Lincoln

E. M. Sampson of Valley, secretary of the Nebraska Brotherhood of Threshermen, is urging all threshermen in the state attend the state convention to be held in Lincoln February 5, 6, 7. Plans will be discussed for co-operating with the farmers in obtaining spring wheat in time for early planting.

He reports that in many portions of the state winter wheat is in a doubtful condition and that spring wheat seed must be on hand for emergency purposes. The poor condition of seed corn will also be discussed and plans made for caring for the shortage. One of the best programs since the brotherhood was organized has been prepared for the entertainment of the threshers.

Western Coal Relieves Prospect of Shortage Here

Wyoming and Colorado coal is now coming to Omaha in large quantities. As a result, it is asserted that there is little prospect of any serious shortage in the city, or in Omaha territory.

The railroad lines into the Illinois coal fields have been cleared of snow, and coal from the east has resumed pretty close to the normal movement west. Dealers say that with the lines open in all directions, conditions here and to the west have brightened up wonderfully and that there is no reason to fear a fuel famine.

Passenger Men to Regale Agents Called to East

Omaha City Passenger association members will be hosts to W. H. Roland and C. C. Elrick, traveling passenger agents, of the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore & Ohio railroads, at the Hotel Rome tonight.

Roland and Elrick have been called to company headquarters in Pittsburgh and have turned the affairs of their respective departments over to the freight offices. Roland has worked Omaha territory 12 years and Elrick three years. The call of the two men to headquarters is in line with the policy adopted by foreign lines, to discontinuing the solicitation of passenger business.

Three Commissioners Named as Night Hawks

City Commissioners Parks, Butler and Hummel have been designated by Mayor Dahlman as the "night hawks" of the city council.

Statements were made at city council meeting Tuesday morning that certain locations of the city have more electric lights than necessary, while other locations are as "dark as a stack of black cats," as Commissioner Hummel stated.

The mayor suggested a nocturnal survey and appointed the three commissioners mentioned as being the best qualified to judge of the alleged inequalities in the distribution of light.

In general the feeling among South Side union members has been opposed to strikes, but they have always insisted that there shall be no discrimination against the unions.

They are well satisfied with the plan for adjustment of wages and hours by the administrator appointed by the secretary of labor and now say that they are confident their demands will be given sincere and careful consideration.

Red Cross Notes

Nebraska's quota of Red Cross surgical dressings for February is now in the hands of Mrs. J. O. Goodwin, state chairman. The call is for 5,000 split irrigation pads, 25,000 shot bags, 5,000 five-yard rolls, 1,000 small cotton pads, 2,000 large cotton pads and 6,000 many tail bandages. Mrs. Goodwin will herself authorize the quota of smaller dressings. Omaha's quota has not yet been named.

The difficulty of procuring absorbent cotton in Omaha will hamper the February work, it is feared.

More workers are needed in the state inspection warehouses for censoring and packing. Mrs. Howard Baldrie, state censor, issues a call for women to work in the next two weeks, to catch up with the accumulation of supplies brought on by the delay while the new warehouse was being prepared. Fifty and 60 boxes arrive each day and are stacked up awaiting censorship. Soldiers from Fort Omaha have been called in to help with the packing.

The new additional quarters of the Red Cross public workshop are being speeded to completion, in order to accommodate the large evening class of workers. Tuesday between the hours of 7 and 9. If not ready, Omaha chapter rooms in the court house will be utilized, the same as last week.

Mrs. C. M. Wilhelm, state director for civilian relief and Miss Verna Elinger, are home from an organization tour of 10 days through the state. Two young girls in the dependent families of soldiers have been placed in business college courses through this department, to equip them for assisting in the family finances.

Frank W. Judson and W. A. Pixley are in Lincoln on Red Cross business.

Vesta chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, Red Cross auxiliary, has changed its meeting time from Monday afternoon to all day Thursday. The work will be carried on in the new Masonic temple under the direction of Mrs. Frank A. Hughes.

GRAM TELLS OF ART IN BUILDING

Noted Eastern Architect Declares Society Gives Noble Expression Through Edifices It Erects.

"Architecture is the natural and noble expression of society and of the individual." This statement might be said to be the keynote of the lecture given by Ralph Adams Cram, F. A. I. A., of Boston, who lectured before the members of the Omaha Society of Fine Arts at the Fontenelle hotel Monday afternoon.

Mr. Cram gave a complete resume of architecture through the ages. The cathedral at Rheims, now in ruins, was given as an example of the most perfect type of Christian architecture, while the Greek Pantheon was cited as the perfect type of the Greek architecture.

The Boston firm of architects, of which Mr. Cram is a member, is noted for its work in restoring Gothic as a vital contemporary style and it was on this work that Mr. Cram talked for the greater part of the lecture. It was a far cry from dull blue prints and draftsman's tools to the wonderful works of prehistoric man which the Boston architect illustrated with stereopticon slides.

Not until all artists, sculptors, musicians, architects, goldsmiths, and arts and crafts workers can combine and work together, thus making a perfect whole, can we realize a truly perfect age as far as art is concerned, stated the lecturer.

IOWAN ROSING AS BRITISH LIEUT. IS ARRESTED

Following the arrest of Dr. H. E. Lambert of Cedar Falls, Ia., alleged drug addict, last Monday, upon complaint of Canadian government authorities that he was masquerading through Iowa and Nebraska as a lieutenant in the Canadian army medical corps, he was removed to the county jail here awaiting the action of the intelligence department of the Canadian government.

Lieutenant W. G. Hamilton, intelligence officer of the Canadian recruiting mission in the United States, arrived here from Chicago Sunday to take action against the man.

Lieutenant Hamilton put the case in the hands of the federal authorities. Dr. Lambert was employed by the Canadian government in 1917 for 44 days in a concentration camp. His home is in Cedar Falls, Ia.

Canadian authorities say that Lambert was discharged, following their discovery that he was addicted to the use of narcotic drugs.

His commission was taken from him and he was discharged from service in the Canadian army.

Dr. Lambert is 30 years old. He is not registered for service in the United States or in Canada.
