

COLD BACKBONE R BROKEN; WARME WEATHER ON WAY

Rises in Temperature Throughout Northwest; Frigid Wave
Moves East and Mercury
Climbs Rapidly.

"Fair and warmer tonight and Saturday."
This was the glad news word that came from the weather bureau Friday to bring relief to a frozen and long-suffering community.
It was the first time that the word "warmer" had appeared in the local weather forecast for many a day. Colonel Welsh's weather map of the nation showed great rises in temperature in the northwest. Montana was 56 degrees warmer than it was Friday morning. In Cheyenne, Wyo., the thermometer rose from 10 below to 18 above zero.
Omaha had 11 degrees below zero, but the south wind was blowing briskly and the sun was shining, so that the thermometer climbed rapidly throughout the day. The forecast for the state is the same as that for Omaha.

The cold wave has gone east. Chicago had 4 below zero this morning. New York City was 14 above.
Reports to the railroads indicate that while it is cold all over the country to the west, a break in the frigid spell is on the way. Out in Wyoming, where Thursday temperatures ranged from 15 to 30 below, it is now zero to 20 degrees above and a warm wind blowing in from the southwest.
Morning reports to the railroads fail to indicate any approaching winter weather has put in an appearance, but there is a guess made by the railroad men that nevertheless the backbone of the cold wave has been fractured. The most hopeful sign is that the wind is blowing from the south.
Temperatures over Nebraska went far below zero Thursday night, according to the railroads, the northern portions of the state reporting 8 to 10 degrees below, the eastern 5 to 20, the central 12 to 23 below and the western and southern 10 above to 18 below.
In the western part of the state Thursday night there was a snowfall of one-half to two inches, with light to heavy flurries elsewhere. It was calm and there was no drifting of the snow.

Odd Fellows Will Celebrate 100th Anniversary April 26

The hundredth anniversary of the founding of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows will be celebrated by the Odd Fellows of Nebraska in Omaha April 26. The celebration of the century birthday of the order will be general throughout the United States on that day. There are 40,000 members in Nebraska. They have invited the Iowa jurisdiction to celebrate in Council Bluffs. The Rebekahs will co-operate.
The centennial celebration committee for Nebraska consists of J. T. Fletcher, chairman, Orchard; E. S. Davis, secretary, North Platte; Mrs. Elsie Buchta, David City; L. E. Coy, Paxton.

Wife Says Husband Stays Out Nights; Seeks Divorce

Bessie Sullivan, suing Leo Sullivan for divorce in district court, alleges he remains away from home nights and gambles. She asks custody of their two children, Francis Delore, 7 years old, and Leo Burdette, 5 years old.

Foot Specialist to Give Demonstrations Here

The latest is the foot specialist—the man who makes a life study of the human foot and of how to correct and overcome the troubles that it is heir to. There is a college in Chicago, conducted by Dr. William M. Scholl, the well known foot authority, where nothing but foot anatomy and the giving of foot comfort is taught.

The foregoing remarks are suggested by the announcement of the Douglas shoe store of this city that a foot specialist from Chicago, trained personally by Dr. Scholl, will be at the store from Monday, February 4, to February 9, to demonstrate the Scholl foot comfort appliances, to examine feet and give advice without charge.

Americans Denied Right to Leave Belgium for Holland

Washington, Feb. 1.—Five Americans in Belgium have been denied by the German authorities the right to leave that country and go into Holland.
The Spanish minister at Brussels sent such information to the American minister at The Hague, who today telegraphed the State department.

Inquiry into the detention is being made.
The case is the first of its kind reported to the State department and it is believed the German authorities in Belgium, under the impression that Germans are being detained in the United States, have taken the action as a retaliatory measure.

FREIGHT DEPOTS TO REMAIN OPEN LATE

Traffic Bureau of Commercial Club Wins Fight Before
State Railway Commission at Lincoln.

The traffic bureau of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce has been successful in its effort to prevent the local freight agents from closing the freight depots to the receiving of local freight after 4 p. m. The state railway commission has ruled that the Omaha freight depots must receive local freight until 4:45, which has long been the regular time of closing.

Not over 10 days ago the Local Freight Agents' association announced the 4 o'clock closing, holding that they must have this extra time in the afternoon to get their freight loaded and clear the congestion. Shippers pointed out that this would prevent local business houses from filling orders coming from the trade territory in the late afternoon mails, and also pointed out that it would be obviously unfair to the Omaha shippers unless a similar order went into effect in competing cities.

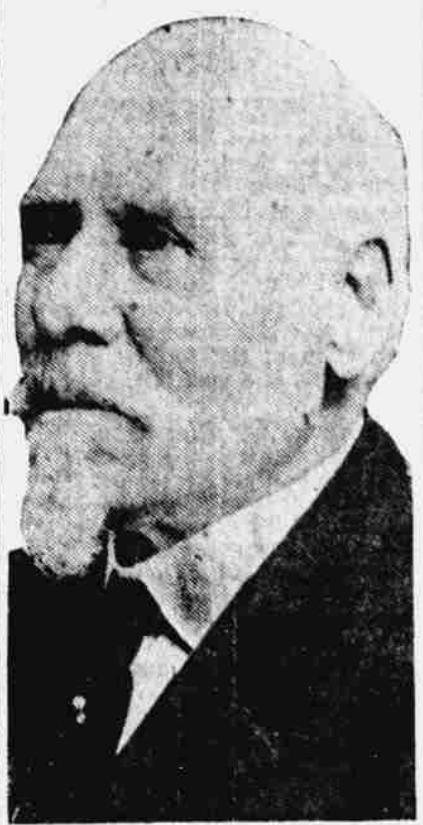

The traffic bureau took up the fight for the shippers, filed a formal petition with the state railway commission, and won.

ELKAN SELIGSOHN.

Elkan Seligsohn died Friday morning at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Fred Hadra, 212 South Forty-first street. He was 81 years of age and was ill two weeks. He passed away peacefully.

Mr. Seligsohn resided in Omaha 30 years and was in business here for many years, being at the head of the firm of M. Wollstein & Co. His wife died 10 years ago. Surviving children are Mrs. Fred Hadra, Mrs. William Harris of St. Joseph, Fred Seligsohn of Kansas City and Leo Seligsohn of Chicago.

In recent years Mr. Seligsohn lived a retired life. He had a wide circle of friends and acquaintances.

Draft Registrants Are All Classified

Work of examining questionnaires and properly classifying registrants is practically completed by the several divisions of the local exemption board. According to Clyde Sunblad, chairman of division No. 4, 790 Brandeis Theater building, the long task of classifying was finished Thursday at midnight. The officials and clerks in this division have been working night and day in an effort to complete their arduous labors. All the other divisions will finish within a few days.

Exemption officials interpret a new order from Provost Marshal General Crowder, at Washington, as meaning that they will again be compelled to go through the mass of questionnaires and reclassify those registrants who were recommended to be exempted on account of physical defects such as bad teeth or feet or some other minor ailment.

Local board has been instructed to accept for military service all registrants with temporary or remedial defects.

Rome Miller Files Big Bond To Operate Millard Hotel

Rome Miller filed a $10,000 super-seedeas bond in district court and was granted permit to operate the Millard hotel pending an appeal on abatement. The bond is for one year and provides that during that time no intoxicating liquor may be kept in the building and that persons under the influence of liquor will not be permitted to stay at the hotel. He also filed a $5,000 bond in the supreme court to stay the sale of furniture in the hotel pending the appeal.

Omaha Girl, Student at Grinnell, Wins Honor "G"

Grinnell, Ia., Feb. 1.—(Special)—Lenore Beveridge of Omaha, student at Grinnell college, will receive in the near future, an honor "G" pin, the award for consistent work in women's athletics at that institution.

Honor "G" pins are awarded by means of a point system, one point being given for the completion of the required amount of work in each branch of athletics in which the candidate takes part. Three points are necessary to win a "G." Points may be won in distance walking, tennis, hockey, time walking, base ball, basket ball, gardening and playground work. Miss Beveridge won points in base ball, time walking and distance walking.
