

52 DEAD BABIES FOUND IN RUINS OF NUNNERY FIRE

Officials of Institution Estimate
Death Toll May Be 100;
Nuns Make Vain Fight to Save Life.

Montreal, Feb. 15.—With 52 charred bodies of the babies already recovered from the smoldering ruins of the west wing of the Grey Nunnery, swept by fire last night, workmen today continued their search for other possible victims.

Officials of the institution were unable early today to give a list of the exact number of missing, but they estimated the probable loss of life from 50 to 100.

Nuns Make Heroic Effort.
The fire, the cause of which is attributed to defective electric wiring, started in the dormitory of the Creche, where there was 170 children, mostly babies of a few days or a few weeks old.

VERNON CASTLE'S DEATH FIFTH IN WEEK FT. WORTH

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 15.—The death of Captain Vernon Castle while flying at Fort Worth, was the fifth in the aviation camps in that city within a week.

The startling increase in fatalities was attributed by aviation officers to the greatly increased flying that came with the advent of warm spring days and to the fact that the students are reaching a stage where they fly alone.

The Royal Flying Corps cadets are encouraged to make more daring and dangerous flights than the American students, and the danger of collision is increased by the greater number of airplanes that are in the air during practice times.

The fatalities this week began at Fort Worth Monday with the accident to Lieutenant Peyton C. March, jr., son of the chief of staff of the United States army, who fell 1,000 feet at Camp Bowie, receiving injuries from which he died the following day.

On Tuesday, Cadet J. L. Wray and F. R. Porter were killed. Yesterday Clifford N. Murray, a cadet, fell to his death. There was one fatality at the camp at Wichita Falls this week and one at Houston when Donald Gleason was killed.

Today's brings the total fatalities at Fort Worth to 51, as compared with seven at Houston, three at San Antonio, two at Wichita Falls and one each at Dallas and Waco.

SAUSAGE HELPS TO DOWN KAISER

Washington, Feb. 15.—The much ridiculed German sausage may be playing an important part toward disintegrating the kaiser's army.

Propaganda pamphlets showing that the war aims of the allies are for the overthrow of the Prussian autocracy are being dropped from airplanes 200 and 300 miles behind the German front line, the committee was told.

U. S. Aviation Service Has Difficulty Getting Mechanics

Washington, Feb. 15.—With thousands of skilled mechanics on its rolls, the army aviation service still is finding difficulties in developing men especially trained to inspect airplanes before they go up and upon whose care and thoroughness the lives of the aviators depend.

It is said that the average American automobile mechanic does not make a good airplane inspector.

More or less hit-or-miss work is done on motor cars and the infinite care required for airplanes does not admit of the use of the ordinary automobile man.

"German War Practices"

An official book of 96 pages has been issued in Washington under the title of "German War Practices." A copy of this book will be sent free to any reader of The Bee.

It sets forth the details of the system that has made Prussianism a word of reproach for generations to come. It describes specific instances, individual cases, as well as broad policies such as that of Belgian deportation.

It is based on official sources: the archives of the State Department, German official proclamations, reports of American officials, as well as the field-diaries of German soldiers. It contains statements especially prepared by Herbert Hoover, Frederic C. Walcott, and Vernon Kellogg.
