

Nebraska FAGAN BOUND OVER AT GENEVA IN PRELIMINARY

Ex-Bandmaster at Girls' Industrial School Must Stand Trial on Charge of Performing Illegal Operation.

Geneva, Neb., Feb. 26.—(Special.)—Following a preliminary hearing yesterday before County Judge Fulton, Prof. Joseph W. Fagan, formerly bandmaster at the Girls' Industrial school, was bound over on a charge of having administered drugs to Mrs. William T. Saul, formerly Miss Naomi Moore. Fagan was placed under $500 bonds for his appearance at the April term of district court.

He is charged with attempting to perform an illegal operation on Miss Naomi Moore, an inmate of the school. Attorneys for Fagan put in no testimony in his behalf at the preliminary hearing.

A. C. Munger, representing the attorney general's office, and John Barsby, county attorney for Fillmore county, conducted the prosecution. Attorney J. W. Waring of Geneva, represented the defendant.

Witness is Missing. The court room was crowded with curious spectators, eager to listen to all the details of the scandal, which led to the resignation of Superintendent Lydia McMahon, and the criminal action against J. W. Fagan.

The state complained that Miss Sarah York, formerly an instructor at the school, and one of the principal witnesses for the defense, had been spirited away.

Mrs. Saul was the first witness to take the stand. In her testimony she stated fully all the details of the case. She told of her relations with Fagan during the summer months; how they visited together at various places in the institution, and finally concerning the administration of the drugs to her.

Asked to Shield Man. Mrs. Saul further testified that she was requested to shield the name of the guilty man.

William T. Saul, formerly an employee at the school, who married Miss Moore later, was an interested spectator at the hearing.

Sheriff C. J. Warner of Fillmore county who brought Fagan here from Milwaukee to answer the impending charge, has the defendant in custody.

PIG RAISING PAYS KIDDIES; MORE THAN 8 TONS OF PORK

Fifty-Five Nebraska Boys and Girls Teach Elders Lesson in Making Profit in Pigs.

Lincoln, Feb. 26.—(Special.)—Ralph B. Wahlberg of Kimball is the champion boy pig raiser of the state and has been awarded first place in the pig club project of the extension service of the college of agriculture. He is 12 years old and a year ago lived at an orphan's home at Lincoln. Up to the time he went to live on the farm he had always made his home in the city.

Fifty-five Nebraska boys and girls produced approximately eight and one-half tons of pork. These boys and girls raised 123 pigs, of which 63 per cent were purebreds. The average profit made on each pig by the boys and girls was $11.49. The average feed cost per pound of gain was a little more than 10 cents.

In figuring their profits members of the club allowed themselves 10 cents an hour for labor. Those who complain that pork cannot be profitably produced might well take a look at the records of these boys and girls. Remarkable Results Attained.

The awards announced yesterday by W. J. Loeffel, who is in charge of the pig club work, are based upon the profitable production of pork, the accuracy of the records, and the kind of a report that is made. Wahlberg produced his increase in pork at a cost of a little less than 8 cents a pound. Corn was figured at $1.90 a bushel and other feeds in proportion. Some competitors produced pork at a cheaper price, but the pigs made smaller gains.

Elton Lux of Wood River won second place in the state contest. He fed a litter of 10 grade Duroc-Jerseys and made a very creditable job of it. A Clay county girl, Mary E. Wolfe of Clay Center, won her county championship and fifth place in the state contest. She raised an orphan litter of six purebred Poland Chinas.

Many Prizes Awarded. Every year in junior farmers' congress is held at Lincoln. The South Omaha Live Stock exchange offered 40 trips to the congress to the winners, the Sioux City Stock Yards company 10 trips, and the St. Joseph Stock Yards company eight trips.

A farm journal offered a plaque for the state champion, and a silver honor medal for every county champion. The National Duroc Jersey association offered $50 in cash to be divided among the boys winning highest honors in the state contest and raising Duroc Jersey pigs and a gold medal for the state champion.

A factory at Waukegan, Ill., offered a bag of pig meal and $10 in cash. A various swine papers offered one year's subscription to each project member who completed the project raising a pig of the breed they represent. The extension service awards each one completing the project a certificate of achievement which entitles the holder to school credit.

Boy Champion Tells How He Won Prize in His First Vacation Spent on a Farm.

By RALPH WAHLBERG. Last April I came from the Orphan's home at Lincoln to live with the Wahlbergs on the farm, having lived entirely in the city before. It was not long after this that Mr. Wahlberg told me about the pig-raising project, and asked me if I would like to join. Not having lived on the farm before, I thought I would not. Later he asked me again and this time I decided to enter the pig club.

Mr. Wahlberg secured a grade gilt from a neighbor, but the pig was too old. So Mr. Stewart, then assistant agricultural agent, said that he and Mr. Holland, county agent, were going to Scottsbluff county to get a few purebred Duroc Jersey pigs for $15 each and if I wanted one he would buy one for me. So I bought a Duroc Jersey gilt.

I began my record on June 28 and at that time my pig weighed 48 pounds and now it weighs 242 pounds, a gain of 194 pounds in four months and three days. I fed it from a self-feeder most of the time during the contest. Just before fair time I fed the pig shorts mixed with milk.

When I first came to the farm I thought all there was to do was to feed pigs a little and let them run and they would grow. I didn't know what to feed nor how to feed them. When the pig was small, I could stick it in a tub and wash it without any trouble, but the pig grew and got too heavy and too large for the tub. The pig would want to play with me when I got in the pen to wash it. It would pull at my trousers and try to tip the bucket and bite a piece out of the soap whenever it got a chance. It would get me pretty angry before I would leave the pen.

The more I learned about pigs the more I find out I have a lot to learn yet. I have learned that care plays an important part in the gain of a pig. When I purchased my pig, it and six others were together. My pig was the smallest of the seven, having drawn this one I had to be satisfied. At fair time my pig had grown to be much larger than the others except one that was the largest at the beginning.

I took second prize at the county fair, which was $2. My pig is registered. Her name is Triple Beauty Second. I had a sign up at the fair with her name and age on it.

I fixed a board floor so that the pig would not get muddy. Just before showing my pig I washed and oiled her good. We had her in the parade. We put chicken wire around the box part of a Ford delivery and put the pig in it and I with her. The car was decorated with alfalfa and corn stalks. It was one of the most attractive floats in the parade. She was so frightened that she laid her head in my lap, which made the people laugh and clap their hands.

WANT MANY MATTERS IN EXTRA SESSION

Governor Neville Besieged on All Sides to Include Questions in Forthcoming Call.

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 26.—(Special.)—If Governor Neville listens to the supplications of every one who appears to think the call for a special session of the legislature should include some matter in which he is interested, may last until the Fourth of July.

The main reason for calling a special session is for to enact a law which to give Nebraska men in the service of the United States as soldiers either in cantonment camps or in France, a right to vote at the coming state election. Then the question came up of adopting a resolution favorable to the national woman suffrage act passed by congress. Including in this was also to be a call to include national prohibition.

A little later it was suggested to provide some way to keep aliens from voting and now there is agitation that the call include a repeal of the Mockett law which permits teaching of German and other foreign languages in the public schools of the state.

As far as calling of the extra session is concerned the governor will wait until the state supreme court has passed on the constitutionality of the provision of the law which prohibits members of the regular army from voting in this state. The application has been made to the court to advance the case and this will mean that it will be settled very soon.

While some are asking the governor to hurry up the session before spring work begins, he is of the opinion that much time can be saved by waiting and outlining a program which will give the members something to go on. Should the session be called before and foundation is laid, the members might be forced to be in session a week or more before being able to come to any satisfactory conclusion. But if the governor is given time to look into all the propositions and determines the line of legislation needed the session can meet and finish up its work in less than a week.

While not giving out any hint when the session may be convened, it is thought it will be called toward the last of March of the first of April.

MRS. O'CONNOR GAINED 8 POUNDS TAKING TANLAG

Declares That She Has Now Regained Health After Suffering Five Long Years.

Mrs. John O'Connor, who lives at 338 East Oldham street, Knoxville, Tenn., called up the Kuhlman-Chambliss Drug Co. recently and said she wanted to speak to the "Tanlag" man. When Mr. Willis answered the telephone Mrs. O'Connor made the following remarkable statement:

"I just wanted you to know and everybody else to know what Tanlag medicine has done for me. Why, I have gained eight pounds already, and have only been taking it for ten days. I have just finished taking the first bottle and have sent Mr. O'Connor back to the store this morning for another bottle. This Tanlag certainly does just what you say it will do. I began to eat better, sleep better and feel better from the very first dose, and the change in my condition has just been wonderful. I had a good doctor before I began using Tanlag, but he didn't seem to understand my case, and his medicine did not seem to do me any good, so I just set it aside and quit using it.

"For the past five or six years I have been in a run-down condition—nervous, weak, and, at times, very dizzy. I had nervous headache and indigestion perfectly awful. My stomach was so weak I couldn't digest the lightest kind of food. I was nervous and depressed and slept very little. I had become so dependent over my condition I thought nothing could help me. It certainly was lucky for me when I heard of Tanlag. It is not like any other medicine I have tried—it seems to soothe my stomach, and is a fine tonic, too, because my appetite is good now and I digest what I eat. If anyone had told me there was a medicine on earth that would make me gain eight pounds in ten days I would have thought them crazy.

"I don't believe there is another medicine on earth like Tanlag. My catarrh is also a great deal better—in fact, I hardly notice it any more." Tanlag is now sold in Omaha by Sherman & McConnell Drug Company, corner 16th and Dodge streets; Owl Drug Co., 16th and Harney streets; Harvard Pharmacy, 24th and Farnam streets; Northeast corner 19th and Farnam streets, and West End Pharmacy, 49th and Dodge streets, under the personal direction of a special Tanlag representative—Advertisement.

"OH JOY!" "OH BOY!" MY CORNS ARE GONE FOR GOOD "By George! I never saw anything like the effect of that new treatment, Ice-Mint, for removing corns and bringing quick relief to tired, swollen, aching, burning feet. It acted like a miracle in my case," said a well-known man yesterday, in speaking of this discovery, which has caused such a big stir among Foot Specialists. "I had carried a pet corn for years that simply took all the life out of me. I tried plasters, salves, other compounds and all of the other 'dope' that is supposed to do the trick, but the pestering thing simply would not leave me. I began to think there was nothing on earth that would kill my corn, when I finally read about the remarkable results obtained by foot sufferers from the use of Ice-Mint. I decided to try it for myself and before hardly realized it my corn came out—root and all—without causing the least pain or soreness. Believe me, it seems mighty good not to be afraid some one is going to hit my pet corn—and the relief—well, that just seems like Paradise." Ice-Mint is a pure, snow-white, creamy preparation made from a genuine Japanese product and is highly appreciated by women who wear high heel shoes and by men who stand on their feet all day. It draws the inflammation out of swollen, tired or burning feet, heels cracked or bleeding toes and imparts such a delightful cooling, soothing sensation that you just sigh with relief. It is now selling like "Wild Fire" here. Try it. Just ask in any drug store for a little Ice-Mint and you'll see. It's the only corn-removing agent that draws the life from a corn. It is nothing better, or nothing just as good.—Advertisement.
