Dealings Are Lightest on Record for Many Months, With Transactions at Low

New York, March 7 .- Dealings on the stock exchange today were almost the lightest and least important of any full session for many months, transactions barely totalling 235,000 shares. Price changes were in keep-ing with this exhibition of lassitude, leaders for the most part rising and falling within fractional limits until the last hour when the list was at highest levels on a demand for rails and active steels.

The few exceptions on the early stagnation included General Motors, which reacted three points, all of which and more was later recovered, and Twin City Rapid Transit, which dropped T points on the reduced dividend.

Rails were at a standstill most of the day but that dividend proved responsive to a moderate demand later. Union Pacific and Reading railied easily.
United States Steel, to which traders looked for guidance, was unusually apathetic, but more than retrieved its fractional setback at the close, Belliehem Steel, Lackawanna and associated shares also war issues were consistantly strong, es13,481 pecially shippings, American Can and Railpecially shippings, American Can and Railway Steel Springs, the latter gaining over two points on its excellent annual report. Surface developments were without direct bearing as market factors but the divergent views of prominent financial interests respecting foreign affairs served to restrain public interest.

Bonds were mainly lower interest center.
