YOUNG DONOVAN NOW SOMEWHERE ON WAR FRONT

South Side Boy Writes That He Is Having Great Experience, But Can't Tell About It.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Donovan, 3811 S street, have received a letter from their son, William, who is in government service in France. It is the first since he arrived over there.

"Tell everybody to write to us," is the plea in the letter. "No one can imagine how eager we are for news from home and a letter, or a postal card is the most acceptable gift you could send."

"We were nearly all seaskick coming over, and take my word for it, it is a horrible sensation. "We are all well and are having some wonderful experiences; of course, I can't tell you about them now, but when I come home I'll have some exciting stories to tell."

Young Donovan was formerly employed by the Armour Packing company and left South Side in company with other employees, who have charge of a United States cold storage plant "Somewhere in France."

Bogard, Registrant, Asks Transfer to Another Class

Peter Bogard, South Side registrant, now in Kansas City, was married to his common law wife the day he received his questionnaire and he has written to the election board, asking to be placed in Class 4, Division A, instead of Class 1, Division A, where he is now listed.

Bogard says that he has lived with his common-law wife for two years and that he did not marry her to prevent having to serve in France, but that opposition of relatives delayed their marriage.

He also says he has a 9-year-old stepchild.

Courteous Treatment for Patriotic Census Takers

Two hundred persons on the South Side are giving their time this week in taking the patriotic census.

Lew Etter, superintendent of the South Side postoffice, and counsel of the work, reports that his men are meeting courteous, patriotic treatment and everyone is giving the desired information willingly.

"We have a mixed population," said Mr. Etter, "Czechs, Slavs, Austrians, Greeks, Germans and Poles; but not one pro-German."

PACKERS SCORE WHEN U. S. SEARCH WARRANT KILLED

Chicago, March 9.—The United States circuit court of appeals today quashed the search warrant issued by Judge Landis to permit examination of the letter files in the office of Henry Veeder, counsel for Swift & Co. by the government. The decision was "without bar to further proceedings."

The search warrant was sworn out by Francis J. Heney, attorney for the Federal Trade commission, which is conducting a sweeping investigation of the packing industry. It was said that the reversal was based on technical errors in certain of the Heney affidavits.

POLITICAL

LABOR SLATE APPARENTLY DOES NOT APPEAL TO ALL UNION MEN IN OMAHA. SHRAPNEL

That labor slate projected as the result of a union primary does not, apparently, appeal to all the union men, as witness this diagnosis by Frank Kennedy in his just published issue of the Western Laborer:

"Every member has his own guess and the right to his own opinion. I refuse to believe the returns from the late so-called labor primary. The high vote is published at 5,004 and the vote for the seventh man is announced at 3,503. There is not one chance in a million to get by with that stuff, because when the regular primary is held when all the union men and all the other citizens vote the average for the labor group will fall far short of 3,000. I can't for the life of me figure out the sense of organized labor imagining it is entitled to all the seven city commissioner positions, and, presuming to claim them only reduces the batting average of organized labor with the public. A few dozen men have been telling one another about the thousands upon thousands of voters organized labor controls in Omaha during the last six months, until some of them now say they believe organized labor has 14,000 voters in this city. A number of years ago this same gag was pulled off in Omaha and it was proven afterwards that it would be physically impossible for voting machines to register the number claimed in the hours the 'polls' were open. It is all right for union men to seek diversion in a political game, if they want to, but gee! fellers, this three to five thousand stuff is too raw! Think of what a lot of explanations will be due the day after the regular primary."

A. L. Sutton broke up a few dishes at a meeting of the Falconer Commissioner club at the Loyal hotel Friday night. He had been invited to put in a few boosts for Falconer, but instead launched into a tirade against the city administration which apparently failed to evoke an approving response.

Edward Simon, for one, took exception to the remarks of Sutton, explaining that the club had been organized to promote the candidacy of Thomas Falconer and did not expect to ride to success by attacking those now in office. Chairman Whitcomb likewise stated that the club had sufficient confidence in Falconer and did not have to resort to vague generalities against the city administration. Sutton was not specific in any of his charges against the administration.

Latest filings include Mayor Dahlman and City Commissioners Withnell, Hummel, Kugel and Parks; Thomas Falconer, C. E. Weimer, J. M. Tanner, and C. F. Mather.

Willis Crosby, formerly county coroner, is circulating a petition for the primary.

"Speaking by the card" might be applied to the propaganda being distributed by the candidates. "Strict enforcement of all laws," announces one candidate. "Friend of the taxpayers," avers another, and "Outspoken and fearless," is the claim of another.

Fred Hoye, one-time member of the old city council and later a police commissioner, is handing out campaign cards.

Commissioner Jardine announces positively that he will try for re-election. There has been some doubt, according to statements made by Walt during the last few weeks, but he defied all superstition by choosing the fourth hour of the clock, on Friday to make the decision.

DR. WHITE TELLS OF MURDEROUS TURK CRUELTY

How the murderous hate of the Turkish religious fanatics for all Christian peoples, particularly the Armenians, is vented in hideous crimes upon innocent and unoffending people was portrayed by Dr. George White, president of Anatolia college in Marsovan, Turkey in a lecture at Temple Israel, Friday night.

"I have seen young Armenian girls sold in the streets of Marsovan for $3 and $4 each, to be carried off into slavery worse than death," said the speaker.

Dr. White said that one time his quarters were threatened by a Turkish mob and his wife came to him in all earnestness and asked if it would not be more merciful to take the lives of their own children rather than see them fall victims to the merciless Turks.

Turkish officers broke in the gates of the college of which he was president, and carried off 72 students in ox-carts to the mountains where they were murdered. "These young men went to their deaths with the fortitude of Christian martyrs," he said, "and at the last moment formed a group and sang 'Nearer, My God, to Thee.'"

Dr. White said America has responded generously to the cause of relief, and Omaha is among the first cities in contributions. Eighty million dollars have been sent to the Armenians, but more is needed.

Dr. White came to Omaha in the interest of a week's drive to be started in Omaha, March 10 by the local Armenian and Syrian relief committee.

MRS. CHAS. PEDEN GAINS 27 POUNDS BY TAKING TANLAC

Was Twice Examined and Each Time Told that an Operation Would be Only Hope.

"I have just finished my third bottle of Tanlac and have gained twenty-seven pounds," was the truly remarkable statement made by Mrs. Charles Peden, residing at 550 Mill street, Huntsville, Ala. Mrs. Peden is one of the best-known and most highly respected women of that thriving little city, where she has made her home for a number of years.

"When I commenced taking the medicine," she continued, "I only weighed ninety-eight (98) pounds; now I weigh one hundred and twenty-five pounds, and never felt better in my life. For years I have suffered with a bad form of stomach trouble, constipation and pains in my side and back. At times the pains took the form of torture and I was twice examined and each time I was told that I had appendicitis and that an operation would be my only hope. I had fallen off until I only weighed ninety-eight pounds and was so weak I could hardly get around."

"I had no appetite at all scarcely, and what little I did eat would cause gas to form in my stomach, which gave me palpitation of the heart, sick headaches and a dizzy feeling about the head. When these spells came on me I would get awfully nervous. I worried about myself until I could rest and sleep but little."

"I had fallen off until I was almost 'skin and bones,' and my strength and energy were slowly leaving me. I had a dread of the future and could see nothing but the operating table and knife. I had a perfect horror of an operation, but had made up my mind that it was either life or death, and prepared to submit to it. I had made all preparations for the operation and called on my sister to tell her good-bye, as I did not know whether I would live to see her again or not. My sister begged and pleaded with me not to allow them to cut on me and told me to wait and try a good tonic for a while. The next day as I returned from the consultation room I thought of what she said, and as I had heard so much about Tanlac I decided to try it as a last resort and stopped at Gilbert's Drug store and got a bottle. Of course, I had lost heart and had no faith in the medicine, but to please my sister I made up my mind to take it, and oh, what a happy day that was for me!

"I never returned for the operation, but just kept taking Tanlac. Right from the start I began to feel better. The medicine seemed to take hold right at once. It had a soothing effect, and in a few days I felt no pain at all. I was so happy over the wonderful improvement in my condition that I sent for my neighbors to tell them how much better I felt. I sent and got another bottle of Tanlac and have just finished taking my third bottle and feel like I have been made all over again into a new woman."

"As I have said before, I now weigh one hundred twenty-five pounds, and my improvement has been so rapid that none of my clothes are big enough for me. I will have to make them all over again. I now have a ravenous appetite and my husband says I am simply eating him out of house and home. I have even gone back to my coffee, which I was told not to touch. Those terrible pains in my back and head have all disappeared and I sleep like a child. I am no longer nervous, and when I get up mornings I feel refreshed, cheerful and bright. I am now able to attend to my household duties, and I feel as if I had started life all over again. My husband is highly delighted, and my recovery is the talk of the neighborhood. I do nothing but rejoice all day long over the recovery of my health and praise Tanlac to everybody."

"I feel so grateful for my escape from the operating table and the knife that you may publish what I have said; you may, if you wish, tell other women suffering as I was to come and see me and I will be glad to tell them about my case."

Tanlac is sold in Omaha by Sherman & McConnell Drug Company, corner 16th and Dodge streets; Owl Drug Co., 16th and Harney streets; Harvard Pharmacy, 24th and Farnam streets; Northeast corner 19th and Farnam streets, and West End Pharmacy, 49th and Dodge streets, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—Adv.

ARMENIA

the Land of Pain and Tears where Millions of Human Beings Starve

Roughly, the above map covers the territory in which more than a million men, women and children have lost their lives through massacre, deportation, disease and starvation—all during the last two years.

Atrocities have now ceased, but the remnant of the people, including hundreds of thousands of orphans, is in danger of starving to death—not only Armenians, but Syrians and Greeks, Christians and Jews.

Many of these are away from their homes, which have been destroyed. They have no means of livelihood. Their sole dependence is American charity.

All the aid we supply is applied directly to the relief of suffering throughout the entire section. The Turks themselves are now permitting the work of distribution.

American missionaries and consuls and representatives of other Christian governments are engaged in this beneficent service, safeguarding the use of all moneys. Without remuneration, they are tireless and efficient.

Thousands of our fellow men, women and children are starving today!

Others will be dying tomorrow of starvation!

An increasing number will die every day, unless we help, and help quickly!

The channels of relief are open and effective!

You have it in your power to save life, as truly as if a child were dying on your door step!

Will YOU Save a Life?

17c will save a life for One Day
$5.00 will save a life for One Month
$60.00 will save a life for One Year

How many Lives will YOU Save?

The Armenian and Syrian Relief is conducted with the full approval of the Red Cross.
