OMAHA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 13, 1918.

Benut by draft, express or postal order. O taken in payment of small accounts. Pers Smaha and castern exchange, not accepted. 3-cent stamp 119029 OFFICES Chicago-10086 New York-286 New B'k of Comm. -1311 G St Omaha-2318 N St. I Bluffs-14 N. Main St. a-Little Building. CORRESPONDENCE tress communications relating to news and and Bee, Editorial Department aditorial matter FEBRUARY CIRCULATION 62,544 Daily-Sunday, 54,619 age circulation for the mon nth, subscribed and m to by Dwigh Subscribers leaving the city should have The Bee mailed them. Address changed as often as requested. Our Sammies are beginning to learn the first steps on the road to Berlin.

Mr. McAdoo has evidently been keeping track what the banks are doing.

The Red Star is coming in for just recognition nowadays; help for the war horse is help for the man as well.

Whatever reason the barbers may have for charging more for shaving, it is not because Omaha men are wearing long faces.

At any rate, while in Europe Secretary Baker will be immune from embarrassing questions propounded by impertinent senators.

"Friends of Free Russis," who are anarchists in intent, are finding that Omaha is a poor place to preach the doctrine of destruction.

The people of Russia have America's sympathy, but they would have it much stronger if they would stand up for their own rights.

If Governor Neville wants the lawmakers to gather next Tuesday he will have to sound the call very soon, for it takes some of them two days to reach Lincoln after they start from home.

"Billy" Sunday got away to a flying start over at Chicago and if he goes on as well as he warmed up he will give the denizens over there iomething to talk about other than their neighbors

Food is not the only thing necessary to win the war that should not be wasted. We have al-I gether too much waste of precious time, invalmable energy and perfectly good money in other directions as well.

General Crowder's order regarding the selection and movement of the next increments to the army under the draft should set at rest all apprehension as to possible interference with industry. Especially has provision been made to so arrange the earlier movements that agriculture will be disturbed but little, if at all. Men who are actively and assiduously engaged in planting, caring for or harvesting crops will not be called into service until they are absolutely needed and all others in their class have been taken. Idlers who have merely used their connection with agriculture to secure a deferred rating will be dealt with accordingly. Generally, the movement will be so directed as to obviate any hardship arising from a sudden disruption of activity in any line. Men will be selected in small groups, so distributed throughout the country as to affect as lightly as possible working conditions everywhere. While the increment for the present year is tentatively fixed at 800,000, as fairly meeting estimated needs of the service, the provost marshal general says no such numbers will be called to the colors at one time. Assurance thus given should convince everybody that the maintenance of our army is to be made possible through wise and careful control of all aspects of the industrial situation. The work of producing all things needed for the life of the world will go on at top speed and the army will be made strong and efficient without violent wrench in any direction.

Sweden and Germany.

From the very beginning of the war Sweden, in common with the other Scandinavian countries, has occupied a difficult and at times anomalous position in its relations to the belligerents. Sweden has been frankly suspicious if not exactly hostile to Russia since the czar's government annexed and suppressed Finland. This feeling naturally led to an inclination in favor of Germany, which was enhanced by other considerations. Not only was a profitable trade within reach, but the "intellectuals" of Sweden had long been Germanophile in tendency. This sentiment had carefully been promoted by the Germans, who had flattered and cajoled the Swedes in many ways, until a friendliness, genuine enough in Sweden, had sprung up between the cultivated classes of the two countries. To understand how effective this is, it must be remembered that in Sweden the door to official preferment, and generally to success in life, is through the university. On the other hand, the masses of Swedes are not so inclined to admiration of Teutonic habits and institutions. They have intense democratic leanings, and these found some outlet in dislike and distrust of the czar. It was this tendency towards democracy that made the separation with Norway so easy of accomplishment. All of these elements must be considered when viewing the problem of the Swedes. Now that the Germans have returned the Baltic into a German instead of a Russian lake, and show an inclination to impose some harsher conditions on the people who have been both friendly and useful, although profiting through that friendship and service, the whole problem of the Scandinavians becomes Dog Tax and Sheep Damage Some Record of Experience in Ohio and Its Possibilities for Nebraska By G. W. Hervey. Ohio has a land area of 26,000,000 acres.

lic at large.

Welcome Signs in Mid-West Cities

Democratic Sociability Supplements the Glad Hand

Meredith Nicholson in Scribner's.

At the end of a week spent in a middle | The lady of the house performs the various "Does no one work in this town?" the latest approved text books. You may if western city a visitor from the east inquired rites in keeping with maternal, tradition and

The answer to such a question is that of you like accompany her to the kitchen and course everybody works; the town boasts watch the broiling of your chop, noting the no man of leisure; but on occasions the citi- perfection of the method before testing the zens play, and the advent of any properly result, and all to the accompaniment of

A very interesting situation in relation to dog tax and sheep damage is reported from keeps a well balanced agricultural and live Ohio, one of the old-time big and wealthy sheep states of the United States. This situation is now especially interesting in view four millions of sheep, annually, with its imof the activity that Nebraska and other western states are now exercising in opposition to the wolf and the unrestrained sheep-killing dog. The total damages paid in the 88 counties sheep population of from 185,000 to 200,000 of Ohio for sheep killed by dogs, including per year, about one twentieth the number of witness fees for appraisers of damage, etc., in 1915 was $105,702. The total collections standing Nebraska has almost double the of dog tax in Ohio for 1915 was $233,790 area in acreage that Ohio has. So far as Hamilton county with a sheep population of pasture and feed is concerned Nebraska 1,515, collected $10,858.74 dog tax and paid could keep 4,000,000 or 5,000,000 sheep easily out only $854.80 damages, and the other and not overdo its resources for feed. counties in the state containing large cities had a similar record; Cincinnati is the county ing its dog population that Ohio is now op-seat of Hamilton county. Knox county, Ohio, leads all others in any one. It would on the contrary be the the number of sheep kept, having 85,587 means of increasing the sheep population of The dog tax collected in that county the state to the extent of several millions, head. was $2,324.67, and damage last year amounted which would represent an increased wealth to $707.65, leaving a balance in the treasury to the state of $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 for of $1,617.02 to be apportioned by the county each 1,000,000 sheep added. It would add to commissioners to school fund, poor fund, the quality of the dog population by weeding county agricultural society, public road or out the worthless, vicious, good-for-nothing other fund under county or Janization.

Harrison county, the next in sheep popu- bred dog that ordinarily is not possessed of lation, 82,922 sheep, collected $1,446.40, and vicious inclinations and tendencies. There is paid for flock damages $1,264.85. The largest not a disposition among live stock owners damages were in Muskingum county, $3,- and breeders to kill dogs to get rid of dogs, 542.51, being 85 cents more than the amount farther than what is necessary to restrict of dog tax collected.

In 1868 there were 7,688,845 sheep Ohio, while at the present time there is a trespasser on the property of others, killing, greatly reduced sheep population; it has, wounding and frightening stock; thus makhowever, not been influenced by lack of dog ing himself a nuisance and menace to the law protection, as every dollar of sheep loss, best interests of the live stock industry of traced to the dog, is amply provided for and promptly paid. The Ohio dog law is effec-tive and a similar one should be in effect in every western state that is engaged in sheep his animals in their inclosures, but to fence raising or feeding. As a matter of com-parison in these two states, Ohio and Ne-dog out. The dog is permitted to be a braska in the sheep industry, and the in- privileged character in Nebraska, because of fluence that a good dog law exerts in popu- an insufficient dog law which is now very larizing the sheep growing industry, we will much in need of adjusting, for the best inillustrate by the existing conditions in Ohio terests of all citizens concerned and the puband Nebraska.

wearily:

The Bee's

Woman and Her Garb.

Crawford, Neb., March 10 .- To the Editor of The Bee: In the edite al column of today's Bee I find an ar- friend. ticle headed "Bifurcated: What Will Women Do?" There is little doubt stock industry and maintaines from three to in my mind that the majority will mense mutton and wool industry, while Ne-braska with its approximate 50,000,000 acres wear "that which pertaineth to man," since, as you say, they will "do a man's work and draw a man's pay," of as good agricultural and grazing lands as there is in any state, maintains an annual etc. But what does God say regarding this very act? (And no one can afford to turn a deaf ear to Him.) Turn to Deuteronomy 22:5 and you sheep kept in the flocks of Ohio, notwith-"The woman will find these words: shall not wear that which pertaineth unto a man, neither shall a man put on a woman's garments, for all that do so are abomination unto the Lord, thy God." A SUBSCRIBER. Nebraska, with the same law for govern-Shut Off Propaganda. Omaha, March 11 .- To the Editor erating under, would work no hardship on of The Bee: Reading 'an account of meeting held in Omaha by the Free Russia propagandists in this country, I am moved to protest against such a propaganda being carried on in any language. I will quote the chief speaker, Mr. Ginsberg, who said "that the bolsheviki of Russia had done more to instill fear into the hearts of capitalists than the inva cur and encourage the keeping of the puresion of a German army." Fellow read-ers, read that over again and you will agree with me when I say that, in his assertion he admits that the bolsheviki are even more frightful than a German array. The speaker has convicted his own doctrine beyond damage and loss caused by the vicious dog all appeal to free Americans. in that runs unrestrained over the country, a Russians, choosing the least of the two evils, submit to the German army in preference. Think that over, felow reader. We know now beyond a doubt what the German army is on an invasion.

The speaker also made the asser tion that the American socialist is a like organization to the bolsheviki That assertion insults the intelligence of every free-thinking, honest American socialst, who will, in my opinion no more countenance such a propaganda than he does the Industrial Workers of the World doctrine of destruction and frightfulness, which] claim is bolsevism. The only differ-ence between those two is the same as the difference would be between the tar and the kettle the tar in melted in. We know at least where a large portion of the finances to support the Industrial Workers of the World propaganda comes from-the kaiser and his bribing, murderous assassins. Leon Trotzky was supplied his country to the kaiser as possible and we all know now how well he succeeded. These "Free Russia" propagandists say to stand by Trotzky, he is the savior of Russia. He is the modern certified guest affords a capital excuse for a charming talk about life and letters or what period of intensified sociability. "Welcome" you will. Judas of Russia, I say, and any socialist of America who will sponsor such a propaganda is misbranded, He is an Industrial Worker of the World

The Why of Bryan's Long and not an American socialist. In conclusion let me say, fellow Americans, free citizens of a glorious nation, in the name of the flag the Stars and Stripes, the emblem of lib-Mr. Bryan's explanation of why he erty, be on guard against all such inobliges the cartoonists by wearing his hair sidious, poison gas, kaiserized propa-ganda. Americans, stand by your long appears at first sight to be complete: "It's my wife's idea. The Lord made me guns at home as well as our boys at for utility rather than beauty, and He gave the front and we will be doing our bit. Eternal vigilance is the price of me ears that stick out a good deal more than liberty, which our forefathers guarded artistic standards require. I had my hair

SUNNY GEMS.

"How do you find life in a dry town "" "Makes me think of the trifles I used worry over. They seem small enough "Eh ?"

"Why, I thought it a hardship when they abolished Courier-Journal. free lunch."-Louisville

"What was old man Gruder shooting at that feller for yesterday?" inquired

"Aw, that was his son-in-law," replied Mr. Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge, Ark., "but, of course, he may have had some other reason."--Kansas City tSar.

"Kitty's dog is dead and she's writing verse about it.

"Doggerel, I suppose." "I suppose so. Anyway she's going to print it on a piece of bark and have it framed in dogwood."—Boston Transcript.

"It is customary to seal & proposal with a kiss, is it not?" "It used to be, but nowadays it is con-aldered best to have a witness."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Ethel (reading)—An the younger maid looked at the knight and replied to his question, "Ay, Sir Knight, marry, will I." Maude—How like the ladies in chivalrous times were to the girls now !--- Baltimore American.

He-You haven't a thought above a new hat. She-And you haven't a thought worth mentioning under your old one.-Houston

Rankin-Isn'. Wobblesby the limit? Phyle-Yes. 1 call him the human prune

"Because the more he is soaked the more te swells up."--Youngstown Telegraph

"She's different to most women." "In what way?" "She admits that she was over 30 when she married."-Detroit Free Press.

While mother was arranging the pantry shelves Marjory handed her the spice boxes, mentioning each spice by name. Presently she said: "Mamma, I can read." "Can you, dear?" "Yes, mamma," said Marjory, "but I don't read like you. I read by the smell."— Boston Transcript.

FIGHT ON, AMERICA.

When war's dark eagles are screeching. And brave men have answered the cry. Where their mangled bodies lie bleaching. There's were I, too, wish to die! Better to die where gallant men are dyng, When the honor of our nation is at stake, When all the world in dire distress is sigh-

Than to fiee, and, as a coward, to forsake

When civilization is bleading And her grim sons are spending their might,

The mother's son who is unheeding Is not a giant for right! Better to die, where gallant men are dying; Not to live, but to nobly live.

For in God's sight are they Who life for others give! deserving When death's red toll has been taken with German money in this country to go to Russia to deliver as much of Counts o'er the list of forsaken In that fight-humanity's fight. May he find we were true in the battle for right, That America did play the game That every man took his part in the fight, Comrates,-this in God's name! -VAHAN SHIRVANIAN.

TT seems that yesterday

meet you. I meter

her a Piano?

tion!

your little girl was barely toddling to

Do you realize that today she is plenty

old enough to begin

her musical education? Have you given

You promised yourself

to give that little baby girl the best of an educa-

Just think how soon

Interest You.

Choosing city commissioners at the coming election means picking out a board of directors for the municipal corporation of Omaha-a corporation board-spending three and a half mil-"on dollars a year of money that comes out of e people's pockets.

One of the real triumphs for the bolsheviki is shown in the fact that since the occupation Roumania the central powers have received lmost 1,400,000 tons of foodstuffs from that section. New peace opens still bigger stores to German requistion. Trotzky and Lenine may tave been working for freedom, but the kaiser is collecting the fruit of their efforts.

How to Get a Home Rule Charter.

It will be hard to work up interest, much less scitement, over the choice of members of the coming home rule charter convention, greatly as it is to be wished that the real leaders of our business, professional and laboring classes should plunteer for this thankless and uncompensated ob. It would be hard even were we not under stress of an all-absorbing war. Why? . Because any charter conscientiously and carefully formulated to introduce desirable reforms and improvements and to correct the defects of the present charter runs a great risk of being rejected when submitted at the polls. The experience of Omaha, as well as other cities, teaches that charter revision must be gradual to get past the concentrated opposition of those displeased by each specific change.

That does not mean that a home rule charter is less desirable or less urgent now than heretofore, but that, to make sure of getting it, the wise course will be to do as was done in Lincolnubmit the existing city charter with few and slight modifications and then, when we are free from legislative interference, propose our reforms separately and let them stand or fall, each upon its merits. When that is done Omaha can have a home rule charter made to suit the demands of its inhabitants and subject to change from time to time exactly as they desire.

One Year Ago Today in the War.

fenses west of Bapaume.

more than ever one difficult to comprehend. Until the kaiser makes a more definite move it will be hard to divine a course for Sweden.

President Wilson's Pledge to Russia.

Little surprise will be felt by any who reads the message of President Wilson to the soviets at Moscow. It would have been astonishing if he had taken any other course. Since November the president has carefully avoided any step that might be construed as even remotely recognizing as responsible the travesty on government enacted by the bolsheviki, and now he formally expresses his views that Russia is without government. His assurance that the United States "will avail itself of every opportunity to secure for Russia once more complete sovereignty and independence in its own national affairs and full restoration to its great role in the life of Europe and the modern world" will, be approved heartily by the people of the United States. This language may be taken as giving a little fuller interpretation to some of the fourteen theses. As suggested by The Bee heretofore, while the American people do not feel called upon to redraw the map of Europe, they are not inclined to abandon any of the oppressed nations of that continent to the domination of usurping tyranny. Russia will yet be revived by the aid of the United States and its people will have the full measure of self-determination, in which they have been mocked by treacherous leaders and wily foes.

Former Governor McGovern shows his patriotism by withdrawing from the primary race in Wisconsin in order that all republican strength may be put back of Congressman Lenroot to make sure that a loyal republican will be sent to the United States senate. The socialists, deprived by a federal grand jury of the joy of voting for Victor Berger, have decided to swing their support to the La Follette candidate as being next most acceptable to the kaiser. Wisconsin has a great opportunity to clean house right now.

The March lion seems to realize the world has plenty of trouble without him butting in to spoil things.

pose to develop new territory and widen its commercial influence. The visitor is bewil-dered by the warmth with which he is seized and scheduled for a round of exhausting festivities. He may enjoy all the delights that attend the triumphal tour of a debutante launched upon a round of visits to the girls she knew in school or college; and he will cities-literally in letters of fire at railway stations. Approaching a town the motorist ands himself courteously welcomed and politely requested to respect the local speed law, and as he departs a sign at the postern thanks him and urges his return. The west-ern town is marked as much by its generous hospitality as by its enterprise, its firm pur-be conscious of a sincerity, a real pride and joy in his presence, that warms his heart to the community. Passing on from one town to another, say from Cincinnati to Cleveland, from Kansas City to Denver, from Omaha to Minneapolis, he finds that news of his approach has preceded him. The people he has met at his last stopping place have wired everybody they know at the next point in his itinerary to be on the lookout for him, and he finds that instead of entering a strange port there are friends-veritable friends-awaiting him. If by chance he es-

In the smaller western towns, especially where the American stock is dominant, lines of social demarcation are usually obscure to the vanishing point. Schools and churches are here a democratizing factor, and a woman who "keeps help" is very likely to be apologetic about it; she is anxious to avoid the appearance of "uppishness"—an unpar-donable sin. It is impossible for her to gnore the fact that the "girl" in her kitchen has, very likely, gone to school with her own children or has been a member of her Sunday school class. The reluctance of American girls to accept employment as house servants is an aversion not to be overcome in the west. Thousands of women in comfortable conditions of life manage their homes without outside help other than that of a neighborhood man or a versatile syndicate woman who "comes in" to assist in a weekly "cleaning."

makes something quite casual and incidental a slender line of hair, "black in color, fine in of the day's tasks. Her social enjoyments quality," but of absolutely no use as a disare in no way hampered if, in entertaining guise. company, she prepares with her own hands

the viands for the feast. She takes the might have been a tragedy. Fortunately, greatest pride in her household; she is true love can overlook even deception, and usually a capital cook and is not troubled by after the shock was over, and-with what any absurd feeling that she has "demeaned" anguished protestations of penitence we can herself by preparing and serving a meal. She guess-Mr. Bryan had sworn that she should does it exceedingly well, and rises without never behold that sight again, all was forembarrassment to change the plates and given. Yet we should think the terrible lesbring in the salad. The salad is excellent son would not have been lost on Mr. Bryan, and she knows it is excellent and submits that he would have learned the value of perwith satisfaction to praise of her handiwork. | feet frankness, and that now, 36 years later, In homes which it is the highest privilege to we should not catch him in an effort to visit a joke is made of the housekeeping. blame his hair on her.—New York Times.

Round About the State

cropped away back in 1882, when I was engaged to my wife, and the result was terrible. almost lost her. She has made me wear my hair long ever since. It is what I call justifiable camouflage."

Hair

On examining the historical records, however, one discovers a singular hiatus. Included in Mr. Bryan's great work, "The First Battle," there is a biographical sketch written by his wife, in which she records that she met him in 1879, "in the parlors of "the young ladies' school which I attended in Jacksonville." She describes her impressions

"His face was pale and thin; a pair of keen, dark eyes looked out from beneath heavy brows; his nose was prominent-too and enters himself on the books of an inn, he is interrupted in his unpacking by offers of lodging in the homes of people he never particularly his hair and his entit noted parted distressingly straight; the latter expansive and expressive." It will be observed that Mrs. Bryan says nothing of his ears. She could not have seen The conclusion is irresistible that them. even then he had resorted to the "justifiable camouflage" that has concealed his dreadful secret ever since. Now, mark Mr. Bryan's own statement; it was not until 1882 that he appeared before her without his hirsute disguise and shocked her so as almost to break the entente. For three long years, a period long enough to include the presidential election of 1880, the assassination of Garfield, and the disruption of the Irish Land league, Mr. Bryan had kept his ears a secret from his future wife; he had built before them this barrage of hair, and she suspected nothing. Then, on one dark day in 1882, while she was complacently reading the latest news about the bombardment of Alexandria, he abruptly strode into the room with his ears standing on end and nothing between There is a type of small town woman who them and his "broad, thin-lipped mouth" but so valiantly and handed down to us Do your duty to the end, that their immortal names may be glorified by your deeds. The emergency is at hand. I know we will not fail if we P. G. LEWIS. keep on guard. German in Public Schools.

We seem to see here the outline of what

Council Bluffs, March 11.-To the Editor of The Bee: Will you please try and find out through the columns of your paper where Mr. P. P. Claxton, claiming to be the United States commissioner of education, gets the money and the hunch to write the article in the World-Herald of Saturday, March 9, 1918, entitled "The Study of German?" If this is not a case of traitorous German propaganda we are no judges of the pure article. Now is it not in the interest of the United States as well as the press of this country that some method of censorship be invoked if necessary by the govern-ment to see to it that such articles are not published? It is self-evident that these kind of articles-and the writer sees many instances of it-ls producing a lukewarm brand of loyalty, if not actual traitors, and should name of every loyal citizen of the United States, we ask you to use your

the influence of these traitors. FORREST SMITH.

Easy to Make This

Pine Cough Remedy

Thousands of families swear by its prompt results. Interpensive, and saves about $2.

not be allowed at this time. If the loyal people of this counshe'll be "playing try could have their way the Gerpieces for her man language if ever taught or read again in this country it would be as Daddy." dead language of the dead Hun. Our sole object in writing to you

s to try and suggest that you may, Our PLAYER Sale WM1 through your paper, bring to the at-tention of those in authority in the United States to not only adopt some preventive measures with reference to this style of articles or at least the publication of a fitting answer to every man who dares to plant such seed of A. Hospe Co. disloyalty amongs the people, but, if possible, prosecute the writers of these articles. It is especially dan-1513 Douglas Street gerous to allow a man to write such an article as the one referred to and Player Rolls, 60c Up. give it the apparent force of being official, in being by the United States commissioner of education. In the

When the Children Cough, Rub Musterole on Throats and Chests

No telling how soon the symptoms may develop into croup, or worse. And then's when you're glad you have a jar of Musterole at hand to give prompt, sure re-lief. It does not blister. As first aid and a certain remedy, Musterole is excellent. Thousands of mothers know it. You should keep a ache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, chilblains, frosted feet and colds of the chest (it

Stop Itching Eczema

Never mind how often you have tried Never mind how often you have tried and failed, you can stop burning, itching ezema quickly by applying a little zemo furnished by any druggist for S5c. Extra large bottle, $1.00. Healing begins the moment zemo is applied. In a short time usually every trace of eczema, tetter, pimples, rash, blackheads and similar skin diseases will be removed. For clearing the skin and making it vigorously healthy, always use zemo, the penetrating, antiseptic liquid. It is not a greasy salve and it does not stain. When others fail it is the one dependable treats fail it i packing house is opened. The pupils of the public schools on March 15 will exhibit specimens of Germans abandoned their main de-The remnant of the government forces and officials in Petrograd sur-rendered to the revolutionists. The Day We Celebrate. Noah E. Carter, architect and builder, born 1863. Thomas P. Redmond of the Bur-gess-Nash company, born 1869. General Sir Herbert C. O. Plumer, commanding British forces in Italy,

Just 30 Years Ago Today

Leroy Hough, Swift's hog buyer,

Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern railway, born in New York, years ago. Jack Lait, short story writer, born 36 years ago. Oswald G. Villard, New York editor and publicist, born at Wiesbaden, Germany, 46 years ago.

their penmanship and drawing. The best will be selected for the teachers' convention at Fremont.

J. E. Waters, superintendent of the registry in the postoffice, was treated to a jolly surprise by a host of friends This Day in History. 1778—The treaty of alliance be-tween the United States and France his birthday.

rebates.

has returned from Chicago and is has been buying more Krupp bonds, ready for business as soon as the But speculations in slaughter are destined to turn out disastrously for Hohenzollern investors. Wall Street Journal: With Prussia control of Baku oil fields, the Caucasus copper deposits and the Baltic ports, Sweden might realize that friendship may be carried too far.

Peppery Points

Baltimore American: The kaiser

Minneapolis Tribune: A political party in Montana desires to have all fortunes over $1,000,000 confiscated for the government. This will not hit Paragraphers' union No. 55 very hard. Brooklyn Eagle: The German war debt of $32,000,000,000 is only a flea bite to what it will be when the costs of reparation are attached. Allies of United States senate cannot spend more than $50,000 on his campaign.

Hog Island," Truth occasionally climbs from the bottom of the well.

side of the road.

New York World: Under a new aw in New Jersey a candidate for the next fall.

cision,"

the Hohenzollerns who stand from under soonest will collect the largest

At that rate an honest senator can

As a matter of timely information Australian troops stood on "Jorand to close the discussion, the Hastthe profiteering hogs are not all on A German paper reports Now York City fenced with 625 miles of barbed

January the authorities of Gage.coun-One of strangest tragedies of the

To a Boston father who had written sympathetic and admiring words to his boy at the fighting front, the soldier boy answered in this cheery fashion: "Somehow or other, I think ing that could possibly be gained. either now or in the future, by tem-porarily suspending and possibly de-stroying this splendid fall festival." is made of the same city as in the rest, on a rather perilous pedestal, and that when he comes down the common clay will bust all to pieces, from your standpoint. I realize that tween the United States and France was officially announced. 1515—The allied powers engaged to raid Louis XVIII of France and de-clared Bonaparie to be without the paie of social and civil relations. 1518—General Albion P. Howe, a distinguished soldier of the Mexican and civil wars, born at Standish, Me Died at Cambridge, Mass., January 1587. 1588. 15

"Over There"

ings Tribune observes: "But then, all ped and took a plunge.

During November, December and spot in the vicinity.

ty caught a number 'of people with war, as told by Lloyd George, is the wet goods and squeezed $754 out of death of General Maude, commander the bunch. Profiteers along the booze of the victorious British forces in line do not get away with all of it. Mesopotamia. General Maude visited It is gathered from a half-column article in the Albion News that the cup" was offered, to refuse which County Council of Defense are not glad hand exponents of brotherly love. It is doubtful if they speak as they pass by or walk on the same food or drink.

Kearney Hub pipes a note of joy over the announcement of the Ak-Sar-Ben festival going on as usual fashion: all. "A wise and proper de-says the Hub. "There is noth-is made of the same clay as all the dan's stormy banks" for a moment, then, by common impulse, they strip-wire and Hoboken the only unguarded

ing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine is famous for this purpose. Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is us-ually plain granulated sugar syrup. Nothing better, but why buy it? You can easily make it yourself in five minutes. To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex (60 cents worth) in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. This gives you a full pint-more bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. This gives you a full pint-more than you can buy ready-made for $2.50, It is pure, good and very pleasant-children take it eagerly. You can feel this take hold of a cough

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is that same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment. Pinex is a highly concentrated com-pound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt results.

prompt results. Beware of substitutes. Ask your drug-gist for "2½ ounces of Piner" with di-rections, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satis-faction of the satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Piner Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

When Buying Advertised Goods Say You Read of Them in Th

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and heal-ing the membranes of the throat and jar in the house, ready for instant use. It is the remedy for adults, too. Re-lieves sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headoften prevents pneumonia).

30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

