Two Omaha Boys, Soldiers in France,
Meet by Chance in French Cantonment

A STRANGE but happy coincidence was the meeting in France of two Omaha boys, dear friends and college chums. The boys are Sergeant Morton Rhoades, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Rhoades and Lieutenant Kendall Hammond, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Hammond.

Accounts of the meeting were written home to the families of the soldier boys. A friend of Sergeant Rhoades, who is with the 401st motor supply company, asked him to go on a visit to a neighboring camp with him. Young Rhoades consented and about the first person he met when he arrived there was his Omaha friend, Lieutenant Hammond.

The boys attended Central High school and Dartmouth college together and are Tri Phi fraternity brothers. Neither knew the whereabouts of his friend, though aware that it was "somewhere in France."

Kenneth Norton and the Sibirson boys, other "pals" of the same two soldiers, are also in France and Sergeant Rhoades, in his letter, expressed the hope that Chance would so arrange it that the group might all meet while on French soil.

Lieutenant Hammond was the moving spirit in the Larai club during his high school days. All the members pledged themselves not to smoke, through his influence, and it would be interesting to know whether the former president is still adhering to this smokeless program.

There was no ban laid on dancing in the club, however, and many a girl has numberless faded dance programs with "Larai" in green and gold or red and white as the case may be inscribed on the cover in flowing letters.

Opening of Athletic Club.

Omaha society folk are looking forward with eagerness to the opening of the Athletic club, which is scheduled for the middle of May, according to the directors of the club. The club will be complete in every detail and for lovers of indoor sports it will be a haven indeed. Indoor golf, swimming, a splendidly equipped gymnasium, bowling, tennis—in fact, every kind of sport—may be indulged in by those who love athletics.

The club will not be exclusively for men, for artistic tea rooms designed especially for cozy parties will be an attraction of the club, and rooms for Red Cross meetings will be very popular with women who are doing their share in that way.

For the tired business man the silence room will prove a boon. Here he may snatch 40 winks in the middle of a busy day, or perhaps divert his mind from stocks and bonds with a new magazine for a half hour or so.

The dance fans have not been forgotten. An attractive roof garden will lure them with its shaded lights and dance music. Already tentative plans are forming for the opening festivities in the handsome new club house, and if a dinner-dance is arranged it will attract all of Omaha's "400."

D. A. R. Luncheon.

The president-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs. George Thacher Guernsey, of Independence, Kan., will be honor guest at a luncheon given at the Fontenelle Saturday by Omaha chapter. Mrs. E. G. Drake of Nebraska, state regent, will be a guest at the luncheon, as will also the members of Major Isaac Sadler and Council Bluffs chapters.

Mrs. Guernsey is the guest of her sisters, Mrs. C. H. Aull and Miss Dove Mitchell. They leave Tuesday for Beatrice to attend the state conference.

Dancing Party.

Miss Alma Furst, Mr. John Hanson and Mr. Henry Schuett entertained at a dancing party Tuesday evening at Metropolitan hall in honor of Sergeant Hubert Claver, who is in the city on a short furlough from the Great Lakes Naval training station.

A hard time dance will be given by Mondamin lodge Tuesday evening, April 2, in the Lyric building.

Delta Gamma Banquet.

Delta Gamma sorority girls from Omaha will spend the week-end in Lincoln attending the annual sorority banquet. The affair will be much simpler than in the past on account of the war. Among those who will go are Mrs. Brandon Howell, Mrs. Lyell Rushton, Mrs. Henry Johnson, Miss Ruth Mills, who is home from New York, and Miss Julia Miller of Beatrice, who has been living at the Blackstone this winter, and her guest, Miss Nell Youngers.

Wedding Date Set.

The marriage of Miss Gertrude Long to Mr. Louis Armbrust will take place March 27 in the Jennings Methodist church. The young couple will make their home on the Armbrust farm.

Red Cross Notes

Among the newest Red Cross auxiliaries are "The Little Yankees," a group of small girls who meet Monday afternoons at the home of their chairman, Miss Pauline Ziptel, 2224 Larimore avenue, the Comforteers, a number of stenographers, who have chosen Miss Nina M. Embree chairman, and work on Monday nights at the work rooms in the Masonic temple. All stenographers are welcome.

An auxiliary of Burgess-Nash employees, which includes the men as well as the women, will meet Wednesday night at the Masonic temple. Miss Mary Shumate is the chairman.

The Central Park Mothers' auxiliary, with Mrs. A. H. Devereaux as chairman, will meet at the Miller Park school. The Dewey apartments have formed a circle. Mrs. J. Horace Holmes is chairman. The Zion Service club will work for Red Cross. Miss Armada Wiese is chairman. At the Bohemian hall, the Ozecchia club will meet. Mrs. A. J. Suchy is chairman. Miss Catherine Shanahan is chairman of the auxiliary formed at the Social Settlement.

Staff of Girls Will Issue March Number of High School Register

Middle Row—Jean Kennedy, Ann Axtell, Dorothy Arter, Gladys Mickel, Mary Loomis, Mary Catherine Findley, Catherine Goss, Herberta Barker, Pauline Coad, Mary Drake, Florice Shaw and Clara McAdams.

Bottom Row—Frances Axtell, Ruth Miller, Virginia White, Lillian Head, Ida Langdon, Dorothy Davis, Helen Gwin, Winifred Brandt and Almarie Campbell.

The March number of the Central High School Register will be published by a staff composed of girls. Miss Ida Langdon, assistant editor, will be editor of this number. Miss Dorothy Davis, who demonstrated her ability as an advertisement solicitor last spring, when she obtained several pages of advertising and won third place in the contest, has been chosen as business manager. Miss Lillian Head is assistant editor and Miss Almarie Campbell circulation manager.

Several special features will appear, including some surprises for the boys. The business department reports much success in the advertising campaign, in which they hope to show that the girls are as good "ad chasers" as the boys.

Material is already being put in shape for the final number of the year, which will be the Annual. No special advertising campaign will be carried on as last year, due to the many demands on merchants. Each student whose picture appears in the issue will help pay the expense of publishing the big final number.

Woman's Clubs

Recital for Red Cross.

At the meeting Thursday of the music department of the Omaha Woman's club it was decided to present Mrs. E. R. Zabriskie and Mrs. Edith L. Wagoner in a sonata recital program. The musicians will donate their services and the proceeds will go to the Red Cross. The affair will take place in April. Other details have not yet been decided upon.

Lecture on War.

"The Hapsburg Monarchy and the Balkans" will be the subject of the lecture to be given this evening in the court house by Dr. F. M. Fling of the University of Nebraska. The Equal Franchise society sponsors the lecture.

Membership Campaign.

Mrs. W. E. Rhoades, chairman of the Visiting Nurse association membership campaign, reports close to 800 new $1 members. The drive was launched to obtain 1,000 members and the women plan to continue their efforts until the desired number is obtained.

NOTICE

The price of Carpets and Rugs is continually advancing the same as everything else made from wool. Instead of buying new this spring, why not have your old ones cleaned, Re-sized and made to look like new?

Call Douglas 963 and we will send a man to quote a price on all your rugs. We guarantee perfect work and satisfaction in every respect.

HOLIDAY NUTMARGARINE
Fruit, Jam, Bread or Toast and Holiday Nutmargarine.

THE very best part of the meal will prove to be the Holiday Nutmargarine. This new, wonderful nut butter is a most delicious spread for toast and bread and you can put it on thick without any compunctions, for the cost is just a trifle more than half of the cost of creamy butter.

It is absolutely the purest article that can be made—coconut oil, peanut oil, milk and salt—churned a creamy white—equally fine for table and cooking.

With the pound carton you get a capsule of vegetable coloring and it is easy to give it the butter color.

We are compelled by an old law to label this new product oleomargarine because there exists no law that distinguishes between oleomargarine made of animal fats, and nutmargarine made of vegetable oils.

The picture shows two human beings. It is difficult to determine their sex, as likely one as the other, but the rags with which they endeavor to shield themselves from the winds of the Caucasian mountains tell of a poverty unknown in our own prosperous country.

They are NOT beggars. Thirty months ago they were as comfortable as you are and probably as well off.

Even today they are a thousand times better off than over two million other human beings in their stricken country—men—women—and little children, who S-T-A-R-V-E.
